Mormons Meet, Name New Bishop At Pontiac Ward

Reorganization of the Pontiac ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon), 425 N. Woodward, was completed Sunday at the annual conference of the ward.

George Romney, president of the Detroit stake, announced the selection of Raymond Allen James, Huntington Woods, as the new bishop. James succeeded Edwin B. Jones, Clawson, who was released two weeks ago to become first counselor to George Romney in the presidency of the stake.

Mark H. Thurston, Clawson, and Kelly Hauer, 17165 Wilshire boulevard, Southfield, who were counselors of the preceding bishop, were retained by the new bishop and all were sustained by the ward membership.

According to the procedure of the church all officers are submitted for the sustaining vote of the membership prior to revesting the ordination to the office.

NEWLY APPOINTED Bishop James is employed by Chrysler corporation in the missile division.

Thurston is employed by the Edsel corporation and Hauer by the Automobile manufacturers association. Romney is president of American Motors and Jones is assistant vice president of Michigan Bank.
