and Eisenhower's best wishes to the Hops in reply.

BECAUSE the rate of currency exchange was a real problem, with black markets flourishing everywhere in Indonesia, Charbeneau learned it wasn't wise to carry any American dollars.

So he brought home only a few small mementoes, and only a very small Indonesian vocabulary. There too short a time to really learn much of the complex language which has some 70 dialects, Charbeneau got along with smiling and whatever it takes to haul a cab and order a meal.

Though there'll be many stories unfolding as the Hops piles on, Charbeneau is among the first to reach home. It tells of early suspicions by a people who have up till now, been given help—but the kind of help that is snarled up with red tape and strings attached.

INDONESIANS are just now beginning to recognize that Hope is not a military mission, but a people-to-people gesture of friendship and faith.

"Even in the few weeks I had a chance to observe the reaction, I am convinced this project is basically sound," said Charbeneau. "Hope doesn't want any help from the government. It is financed by private subscription and is offered freely, not to assist another government, but its people. This trip suggests that a great many more ships should be sent to underdeveloped countries to bring hope against oppression and aggression by teaching skills and self-help in many fields."

WHEREVER it goes, Hope firmly but politely avoids any direct support from ambassadors or other government officials. The 22 Indonesian nurses and several doctors aboard gave many pointers in the ways of their people despite a limited knowledge of English. In times like these, when all you can do is Hope... the S. S. Hope is doing much for you.

Local Goodfellows To Hold All-star Boxing Show

The Southfield Goodfellows will hold an all-star boxing show Friday at the Southfield high school gym. The show is one of the major projects to raise funds so that there will be "No Child Without a Christmas."

There will be 10 amateur bouts, all sanctioned by the Michigan State A.A.U. Fighters from Windsor, Jackson, Pontiac, Detroit and suburbs are on the program.

Ticket chairman Woody Nelson has announced that all youth groups such as church, school, boys clubs and Boy Scouts may purchase tickets at reduced rates. General admission tickets may be purchased from all Southfield policemen and firemen.

Exhibit Handiwork

WEST BEVERLY members of the West Beverly garden club will exhibit their handiwork at their Nov. 17 meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Shepherd on Riverside.

Burglars Enter Village Players

Burglars broke into Birmingham Village Players headquarters Sunday, according to Birmingham police.

Police said someone pried open the door of the building at 752 Chestnut, but did not take or damage its contents. Horton Allen, 592 Frank street, summoned police. He is a member of the Players board of directors.

Eyeing the Book Possibilities

BEVERLY HILLS—Four little pairs of eyes take a good look at the books being read for the Greenfield school book fair next week. The young readers are (from left) Sandra Herr, 16211 Lauderdale; Mark Henning, 15625 W. 14 Mile; Audrey Ann England, 31095 W. Rutland, and Kurt Wicks, 31204 E. Rutland. The fair in the school library runs from next Monday through Friday, with special after-school hours next Thursday. Proceeds of the sale will benefit the school library, according to mother librarian Mrs. E. R. Harmon, of Fairfax, who is chairman of the fair. Children's books can be purchased or ordered for delivery before Christmas.

Swanson, McNutt On Governmental Relations Group

SOUTHFIELD—Mayor Donald Swanson has accepted an appointment as a member of the American municipal association's committee on intergovernmental relations. The appointment was made by Raymond H. Tucker, president of the association.

Tucker has also appointed City administrator Robert McNutt as chairman of the communications and radio committee. The major task of the committee is to review and update, if necessary, the Association's national municipal policy as it relates to intergovernmental relations. The committee will meet during the 57th annual American municipal congress in New York City on Nov. 25 at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

IN A LETTER to Swanson, Tucker said the work of the committee plus that of other AMA special committees is an essential ingredient in the democratic formulation of a National Municipal Policy which reflects the real needs and objectives of the nation's lo-

Party for Children

SOUTHFIELD—The Southfield Kiwanis will hold its annual party for handicapped children Saturday. It will be at Southfield 10 school at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Jane Craigie and her Beverly school fifth grade electorate.

Nixon Is Winner in 5th Grade Landslide

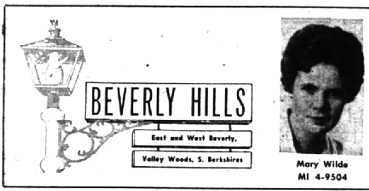

BEVERLY HILLS—Richard M. Nixon got 54 votes, while John F. Kennedy fell way behind with only 22 votes in Beverly Hills precinct number 36.

The "precinct" is room 36 at Beverly school. The voters were all fifth graders, according to "City Clerks" Carolyn Beavain and Rickey Larson, who filled out a registration card for each of them.

They were the pupils of Mrs. Jane Craigie, who got a lesson in good citizenship last week when Beverly Hills village Clerk Fannie Adams arranged to have a voting machine delivered to the school a few days before election day.

and buttons for the GOP were Rick Reynolds, Shari Leikert, Larry Grandner, Sarah Price, Bob Marsh and Mike Rico.

Kyle Anders, Bruce MacDonald and Linda Jessop waged the Democrats' campaign. Melody Mould and Steve Kostek checked the students' registration cards before admitting them to the voting booth on last Tuesday's election day.

Readin', 'Rithmetic Methods Discussed At Open House

VALLEY WOODS—Valley Wood's PTA held an open house at the school Wednesday and introduced parents to teaching methods and teachers.

Reading methods were presented by Mrs. Eleanor Shafer and Mrs. Ruth Lerer. "number-aid" by Mrs. Martha Hallman and "fraction aid" by Miss Jane Heckman, Birmingham district arithmetic consultant.

After the business meeting parents met with teachers in their children's classrooms.

To Hold Open House At Wylie E. Groves

BEVERLY HILLS—An open house will be held tonight at the Wylie E. Groves high school at 8 p.m. Parents will follow an abbreviated schedule of their children's class schedule, meet teachers, and see the school's facilities.

A general business meeting will precede the tour of the school. Cameron Shafer, father vice president, will conduct the evening's meeting.

Christmas Theme Chosen by Speaker

VALLEY WOODS—"Christmas is What You Make It" will be presented by Mrs. H. W. Schoenheim at the Valley Woods garden club meeting Monday.

The luncheon and business meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Diefel on Bellvue trail.

Hostess Club Meets

West Beverly hostess club will meet Tuesday for coffee at the home of Mrs. William J. Cochran on Riverside to plan their Shamrock luncheon. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Allan W. Loos of Norchester and Mrs. Gordon McBain of Devonshire.

'Hostest with Mostest' Entertains Aplenty

SOUTH BERKSHIRES—Mrs. Maurice Rogers of Woodhaven was "hostess the mostest" recently. Her husband's sister's family, the E. B. Hurst of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., were houseguests for a weekend.

Before that, Mrs. Rogers was hostess to 11 at a benefit bridge at the Village women's club of Birmingham-Bloomfield.

Mrs. Donald Rader of Leemore entertained her bridge club with a luncheon last Friday. Eight guests were present.

Even the teens got in on some of the Halloween partying. Linda Wood of Marmoor gave one that was announced as a Halloween party for 14 of her friends. They arrived to find it a surprise birthday celebration for Suzanne Young of Leemore.

EAST BEVERLY—The annual parish dance of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs was reason enough for several parties in the Hills last Saturday night. You probably know that Edward Trotman of Beverly circle and William O'Neil of Amherst were chairman and vice-chairman of the dance.

Before heading for the Royal Oak legion hall and the music of Clark Williams, Mr. and Mrs. James Stone of Birmingham (he's president of the usher's club which sponsored the dance) were cocktail hosts to several couples.

The John Grady's of Beechwood also entertained before the dance. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blackhall of Cleveland, Ohio, returned to visit former neighbors on Elizabeth. They were houseguests of the William Cloutiers and were also entertained by other friends.

The Robert Moffets of East Rutland gave a dinner for them and they were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lausen of Elizabeth at a costume party.

WEST BLOOMFIELD—Mrs. Ada Van Dresser quit her spacious Warwick home for an apartment on 12 Mile, but she still manages large parties; the ladies of the W. Beverly bowling league, for instance, are invited for cocktails—five at a time—on successive Mondays.

Neither trips nor vacations nor visiting relations could cancel the party the Donald Dittrichs of Chelsea planned to honor a new American citizen.

Austrian-born Mrs. C. E. Letts, Jr. of Rosevar will be honored by the Dittrichs at a neighborhood get-together Saturday evening.
