

Beverly Sewer Work Due Soon

BEVERLY HILLS — Construction can begin about January 1 on the Beverly Hills project to install sewer laterals in the village's entire western half. If state approval comes through before Dec. 15, Monday the council authorized village engineering consultants Johnson and Anderson to advertise for bids on the laterals. They will connect 667 lots to Oakland county's new Evergreen interceptor which carries sewage to Detroit for treatment.

Cost of the laterals is estimated at $532,722 plus $143,000 for a main and pumping stations which will be financed through a village general obligation bond.

HOWEVER, Village Manager Robert Murphy told the council last week that a "definite indication" was expected in about three weeks. Contractors bidding will be expected to hold their bids valid for 90 days.

The bond issue was submitted for approval from the state health department, finance commission and auditor general's office in mid-August.

The procedure usually takes 12 to 16 weeks, Murphy said.

Work is expected to begin shortly after bids are let.

MURPHY SAID the digging can be done efficiently in winter with modern equipment, and that the heavy machinery was less harmful to lawns when ground was frozen.

According to the village's sewer ordinance passed in September, use of septic tanks will be unlawful 90 days after a property owner is notified that sewers are available. Only exception is homes more than 400 feet from the nearest connection.

Kivaniqueens Meet Tonight in S'field

SOUTHFIELD — The Kivaniqueens will meet tonight at Lincoln by Giddy's, 26805 Beech court, at 8 p.m. Co-hostesses are Betsy Minks and Florence Schoenhals.

Addressing the group before the meeting, Lovelle Frazim, Home service division, Detroit Edison company, will discuss "What's What."

Open House at School Is Week's Big Event

FRANKLIN — About the most exciting event planned for the coming week is the Franklin school PTA open house Monday night, Dr. Otis Diekey, new superintendent of the Birmingham schools and former Franklin principal Dan Welch will be special guests.

For some parents it will be an opportunity to meet Marjorie Tate, new principal.

It's also a dandy time to meet teachers and get some insights into Johnny's role at school; however, Johnny's problems, if any, are a subject for a private appointment. One peek in his desk will reveal quite a lot, this ancient parent has learned.

The Couples Club has planned a night of bowling at Farmington lanes, 32313 Grand River, Nov. 11 at 9:30 p.m. Twelve alleys have been reserved. Open to every adult in the village, reservations are being taken by Mrs. Russell Robinson, Mrs. Ludwig Tischler and Mrs. Andy Caesar.

Chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young report an intriguing series of club events. These include a breakfast party in January; a skating party in February; a dinner dance in March and 'sumpin' special for April.

Everyone is sorry the William Worcesters of Wing Lake road will be moving, after 15 years in the area—eight years in Birmingham and seven in Franklin.

However, so eldest son Ted can graduate from Seaholm high school with his 1961 class, the family will remain here while Father commutes from his new office in Chicago.

It does mean the village will lose a very able council member for more than three years and has been extremely active in the solution of road problems.

The Calvert Thomas' of Franklin road will be home today after a combined business-pleasure trip to Miami, Fla., these past two weeks.

Plans pupils of Mrs. Gerald Wright on Normandy are inviting their families to attend an informal musical Sunday night at teacher's home. The pot-luck supper following the recital has become a "way of life." Mrs. Wright has been teaching local youngsters for many years, not just music, but the art of simple graciousness as well.

The Robert Winkels of Franklin Hills drive took in the Purdue Illinois game recent and caught up on daughter Barbara's freshman activities at Purdue. They stopped at Gallinsburg in the Smokers and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson in Atlanta, Ga., for two days. Two weeks were spent in Miami Beach, Fla.

U of M freshman son James blitzed home last weekend to get first-hand information about their trip.

The John Hills of Romsley road drove to Lafayette, Ind., for Father's weekend at Purdue and to see daughter Martha, now a senior there.

The Eugene Kelly's of Redfern could write a "How To" book on travel. Their most recent jaunt was several days in New York city attending the Motormans show.

On second thought, Mrs. George Altmanberger of Whalley road should collaborate with them. She also covers a lot of ground, with a trip home to Kansas her latest foray.

Under a revised budget, the Franklin Community church is preparing for its traditional Colonial dinner, Nov. 17 at the church.

Youth of the church have been invited to have their own evening, Nov. 13.

On the committee for this annual pot-luck event are Minute men Ben Bailey, Wendell Brown, Robert Mandy and Robert Hampton. The governor — generals are Wendell Brown, Leonard Egge and Eric Opitz Norman Curran. Robert Hanson and Jack Ambrose constitute a kind of overall steering committee.

Troop B-11 boy scouts and a number of staid fathers headed for Lapeer last Saturday for an over-night at the troop's own camp. Monday night they will hold the fall Court of awards and parents night at the Franklin community church.

For Building Unit Break Ground Here Knights of Columbus

SOUTHFIELD — Ground-breaking ceremonies took place Sunday for the new council chambers of the Birmingham Council 3869 Knights of Columbus.

Located on Southfield near 13 mile roads, the first of two units will be completed about May 1, 1961. The 94 x 92 foot structure will be immediately available for social activities in the community. It will cost an estimated $75,000. The Birmingham council serves the area bounded by St. Columban, St. Bede, Our Lady Queen of Martyrs, St. Hugo of the Hills and Holy Name parishes.

Township Board Sets Residents' Interceptor Fees

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Payments for use of the Farmington interceptor sewage system by West Bloomfield residents were set at a meeting of the township board last week.

Owners of residences built before April, 1959, may pay the tap-in privilege fee of $250 in 10 yearly installments. The first $25 payment is due with issuance of connection permits. ensuing payments are due July 1 each of the following nine years.

Three separate flowage charges were set by the board. Homes without water meters will pay a quarterly charge of $6. Homes with water meters will be charged on meter readings, with a $6 minimum charge.

Multiple developments with a master meter will be charged on meter reading, apportioned to individual users on the basis of units.

ANY FLOWAGE charges not paid in 90 days will be charged an additional five per cent. This amount then become a lien against the property if not paid within 60 days.
