legislation in the house of representatives.

"I think the presidential election of 1990 has stirred a tremendous concern over the electoral codlege, Broomfield declared, referring the closeness of the vole between ident Richard M. Wixon.

President Richard M. Wixon.

President Richard M. Nixon.

"THAS dramatically illustrated the fact that it is unite quantile for the candidate who receives a majority of the popular vote to lose he election in the electoral college." he said.
