American Dishes Get New Twist Overseas

After spending the last 17 months in Geneva, Switzerland, the 13½ Blanchard family of Lenox road say "there is no place like the U. S."

Blanchard, who was with the export division of Chrysler at the time, arrived in Geneva in January '59. Mrs. Blanchard, 18-year-old son David and 9-year-old daughter Linda joined him the following month.

After the family was settled in the American colony, Linda took up studies at the International school. Instead of college, David was limited to only a few subjects, because of the language barrier. The clan began French lessons but found it an exasperating experience; hence they resorted to pantomime-antics in order to be understood.

In restaurants when ordering such things as ice tea, they were served hot tea with a scoop of ice cream added. For cherry pie they got raw cherries, complete with stems and low cream on the side. During their stay, they visited Germany and Italy. Skiing was their favorite sport. In June, they made a brief trip home for David's graduation from Bloomfield Hills high school.

When the time came to return to the States, they found it hard to say goodbye to friends who remained in Switzerland. Among these were the John Heights, former residents of Hickory Heights; the Jack Gilchrist of Charnwood subdivision and the Edwin Woods of Troy.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Booth, Jr. of W. Orchard Hill drive returned recently from a week in New York city. They attended "Barbers Carnival" and "Best Man". Mrs. Booth spent an afternoon with Mrs. Gardner Allen, Jr., former Hickory Heights subdivision resident, now living in Princeton, N. J. Last stop was Boston, Mass., to visit MacAllister Booth, brother of Booth, who was also a former Birmingham resident.

Many North Adams couples will attend the League of Women Voters dinner party at Devon Gables, Friday evening.

Seated around the North Adams unit three table will be Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Berkley; Mr. and Mrs. John Averill; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roders; Mr. and Mrs. William Gordon; Mr. and Mrs. Richard James and Mr. and Mrs. John Haro, all of Birmingham.

Arriving at the Charles Barrall home on Fenwick drive, equipped with their election sheets, last Tuesday evening were the Robert Loutis of Mandarand road and the Mark Halls of Ledbury road.

Speaking of the elections—how many noticed the little pink elephant and the little grey elephant

Chosen to Attend Nat'l Convention Of Girl Scouts

Three Senior Scouts from this area will attend the Girl Scouts of America national convention in St. Louis, Mo., on Nov. 14-18. They will be accompanied by their chaperone, Mrs. W. J. Westmaas, M.D.

Cynthia Reinke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reinke, of Farmington, is a member of the southern Girl Scout troop in the Oakland County council. She has been active in Senior planning and is chairwoman of Senior conference in 1961.

These young women were chosen by a selection committee. They have agreed to take an active part in the Council for a least two more years to help their council execute decisions reached at this convention.

Among the delegates chosen last May to represent Southern Oakland council are Mrs. Robert L. Garrison of Franklin; John T. Miller of Birmingham; Mrs. William B. Comon of Lathrup; Mrs. Joseph R. Charetz of Southfield; Mrs. Oliver Marcotte of Southfield and Mrs. Webster J. Owen, Lathrup.

Friends of the William Spencers of Laneragan drive joined them for the Michigan-Indiana game at Ann Arbor on Saturday. The 12 couples included Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Scherer of Charleston, W. Va., their weekend houseguests.

With Mrs. and Mrs. Wayne Scherer of Flint and the Howard Giffords of Birmingham they all returned to the Spencers after the game for cocktails and dinner.

The James Hutchinsons of Watlies road entertained members of their pinocle club for dinner on Saturday. Guests were Dr. and Mrs. H. VanLooy, Dr. and Mrs. J. McCaddie of Detroit and the Milton Fishbecks of Charnwood.

It was "Mother and Daughter Day" for cheer leaders of the Little Football League, eastern division, at their annual luncheon at Devon Gables, Saturday afternoon.

Their coach, Mrs. A. Robert Berenson, presented each cheer leader with a pin award and photograph. Present from North Adams were Mrs. A. W. Holcomb and Andrea; Mrs. Charles Bethel and Beeky; Mrs. Ned Chamberlin and Susan; Mrs. Jay Bonker and Cheryl; Mrs. Sherwin Evans and Pam.
