TWO EX-AREA MEN HAVE SOME REAL CHRISTMAS GOODIES IN THE STORE FOR YOU AT THEIR NEW VERO BEACH FRUIT STAND

Jack Adderley went to Vero Beach, the very heart of the world-famous Indian River citrus country, from Bloomfield Hills. Tom Ashcraft came down from Birmingham. They are now open for business at their new Plantation Groves stand. We say "stand" in jest, of course; actually it is one of the newest and most modern fruit packing plants in all Florida.

Jack is President and Tom is General Manager. You can't miss the plant when you're down Vero Way; it's on the east side of U.S. Highway No. 1, near the south city limits. Be sure to come in, for an "old home week" welcome.

Reason for giving you this background is quite simple—Plantation Groves wants to be the Bloomfield-Birmingham Santa Claus agent on Holiday fruit gifts. There can only be one "champion", one "best". In oranges and grapefruit, the Very Best is Indian River Citrus. Only about 10 per cent of Florida's total citrus production can carry the coveted Indian River stamp-of-quality approval. Only a small portion becomes available for out-of-Florida consumption, because it is the "first choice" for the home-folk, and for the single juice and concentrate producers, who have to use the best. It is literally "the citrus man's citrus."

Plantation Groves will produce and ship only Indian River citrus. It will be constantly checked for quality. It will be washed and packed on a day-by-day schedule for firm freshness, and will be shipped only on a satisfaction-guaranteed basis. Prices are competitive with lesser varieties, and there has been no consumer cost inflation because of Hurricane Donna damages in some parts of the state. For example, a big bushel of oranges, or grapefruit, or "half-and-half", is only $8.25; a full half bushel is just $5.95—all orders shipped prepaid.

These are reasons then why Jack Adderley and Tom Ashcraft sincerely solicit your fruit patronage this Christmas as well as any other time. You cannot beat Plantation Groves quality or service. While the clock is running out for Holiday orders, there is still time for you to do business with former residents who want to make good in the old hometown area, too.
