

FOR AND ABOUT TODAY'S YOUTH

Bloomfield Hills junior high students are greatly impressed by their school paper, The Sentinel, which has graduated from mimeograph to "real" print.

School Paper in Print at Last

If you had been in the halls of Bloomfield Hills junior high school the last few weeks, you would have been aware of the subscription drive for the school newspaper, The Sentinel.

For the first time in its three-year history, the paper is being printed instead of mimeographed. Assembly of the paper is being handled by the Student Publication class under the direction of Miss M. Kuhlow, class instructor. To aid in training the staff, a visit to the printers was made.

HEADING THE staff of busy editors is John Pratt, editor-in-chief. He is ably assisted by Sue Maier, business manager; Dave Fischer, advertising manager; and Bill Finkerman, circulation manager.

Keeping an eye on current news events, covering sports, writing feature articles and exchanging papers with other schools are the responsibilities of Judy Raskin, Marc Miller, Pam Kison and Leo Marshall, respectively.

ENCOURAGEMENT from the sidelines has been given the BHS football team by the Lancers, by this year's cheerleaders.

They are Marguerite Hyde, Kim Kelso, Diane Simson, Mary A. Thompson, Sherry Lundgren and Lynn Walker. The foot ball squad has won two and tied one of its contests this year.

THE GIRLS of the school saw themselves in action the other day at an assembly. Women teachers gave hilarious interpretations of girl students during a typical school day.

The "take-offs" provided a new approach on school behavior.

B'field Hills High Students' Essays Highlight Male Growing Pains

By SUE HALLAS

Oh, the glories of being an almost-adult! Unfortunately, all that longed for adult freedom has a silent partner — responsibility.

RUTC representatives have visited the school and registration reminders are out the bulletin boards. Senior English students have been writing essays on military service and/or the draft.

Our essay solutions to the draft problem may or may not have been realistic, but the problems the draft presents are certainly real enough to the boys whose future plans they affect.

Another something which has been on most minds lately is college. Seniors have been seeing representatives from several colleges.

FOR THE traditional Veteran's day program, Mr. Ollis moderated a panel consisting of Miss Percival, Mr. Velkoff and Mr. Murray, who tried to explain to us what a war is like. The Hills provided a musical tribute to veterans.

ODD BITS OF club news include the fact that Trip club has tentatively settled on Teen tours by bus.

IT IS VERY unlikely that anyone doesn't know that one of our seniors will travel with the Michigan Chorale to South America this summer. Kathy Harger is her name.

The greater Detroit chess association of secondary schools had its first league meeting of the year at Southfield high school on Wednesday, Nov. 2.

President of the league is Mark Phillips of Southfield. Jackie Sphar of Berkley is secretary. The offices of treasurer and vice-president will be filled at the next meeting.

School clubs interested in joining the league may contact Mr. Soucy, chess club sponsor at Southfield high school.

ON SATURDAY, Nov. 5 Southfield's top ranking seniors attended the Alumni scholarship student day at Michigan State university.

His movers: Walt Pastnaki, clerk; Judy Shumway, treasurer; Wes Wilson, municipal judge and Lee Barringer, associate judge. City council members for a day were Anne Fryfogel, Shirley McQuady, Bill Starkey, John Gillespie, Gerry Friend, Tom Magnell and George Kopke.

Senior government day was sponsored, as in the past, by the Southfield optimist club.

THE DEBATE CLUB of Southfield recently took a trip to Ferris institute to attend a number of practice debates. Daniel Julian of Southfield high school was the guest speaker at a general meeting before the debates began.

Special Program To Be Presented At Marian High

At the Sisters' pantry tea at 1:30 p.m. Dec. 6, "Seven Nuns at Las Vegas," "Our Genesis drama festival entry will be presented for mothers and students. The Marian choral group will also entertain.

THE SCHOOL'S language laboratory was opened recently and a demonstration for parents given at the mothers' club meeting Nov. 14.

ON NOV. 10 all students joined to wish our IHM sisters a Happy Birthday—their 115th. Sr. Rosalia, history department head at Marygrove college, paid tribute to the pioneers of the congregation.

Students toured the sisters' convent with a nun as a guide and a talent show was presented later for students and teachers.

Cranbrook Boys Receive Letters For Fall Sports

Bloomfield country day school's academic and citizenship honor roll is made up by members of student council. Angela Kountoupes met requirements for the high honor roll for the first quarter and Linda Brandt and Beth Burton also achieved the honor roll.

The citizenship honor roll includes: Ingrid Becker, Carol Blodgett, Beth Burton, Barbara Davey, Paula Goodman, Peggy Kingsbury, Angela Kountoupes, Fatty Richer and Claudia Weting.

WINTER sports season is now under way.

George Blanchard, captain of basketball, Art Glick, captain of wrestling and John Ogden, hockey captain are all busy. The warm weather is causing great problems for the hockey team, as they are having difficulty holding ice on the rink.

WEDNESDAY evening, students of Cranbrook and Kingswood attended the first in a series of concerts presented by the Cranbrook music guild. The first artist was pianist Jean Casadeus.

Casadeus played quite well, particularly in the Debussy, but at times he seemed ill-at-ease with the piano, possibly, because the lower register was out of tune.

The weekend of November 18-20, Britt Gordon, Monty Slatkin, John Meier, Greg Thompson, Blake McDowell, Tom Wilson and Bob Maggs attended the Lake Erie religious conference at the Oberlin inn, Oberlin, Ohio.

Featured speaker was Dr. Gerald E. Cooke, instructor in religion, who discussed "Belief and Behavior."

MRS. BRUCE Bigelow from Pembroke college and Mrs. Carl Voss from Skidmore college were visitors on Nov. 18th and Nov. 19th respectively at our school.
