BARNUM JUNIOR HIGH
No Homework, No Rest;
Just Tests, Tests

By KAREN PIEL

During the week of Sept. 25, most homework temporarily ceased for the eighth graders at Barnum. Instead of attending regular classes, they took the SRA achievement tests to find out how well they have spent their time in school so far. On Friday, Sept. 30, they took mental ability tests to see how well their performance measured up to their ability.

Barnum's first PTA meeting of the year will be held on Oct. 6th at 8:00 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The meeting is for parents of seventh-graders. Roy Vannette, principal, Charles Beyette, assistant principal, Miss Muriel Brusch, girls' counselor, and Malcolm Tindal, boys' counselor, will discuss school routines and problems commonly faced by seventh graders. Seventh-grade homeroom teachers will host the parents at the meeting.

Daly Macgregor, a science teacher at Barnum, has organized a radio electronics club. This year it will replace the Science club that has existed in former years at Barnum. The purpose of the club is to teach those who are interested the code and rules for amateur radio as well as the electronic principles of radio. About 14 members made up of seventh, eighth and ninth graders belong to the club. It meets twice weekly after school.

The results of last week's cheerleading tryouts were announced by Beyette, assistant principal. Cheerleaders on the eighth grade squad are Katy Burgam, Linda Stanton, Heidi Ervin, Linda Spence, Mary Smith, Carol Clobest, Penny Lehman and Linda White. Named to the ninth grade squad were Linda Coombe, Janis Finley, Sue Jobin, Terry Zimmer, Margaret Cadotte, Sherry Gibson, Jane Malone and Ann Norton.

Barnum's first football game of the season took place at Groves on September 30. The first-string offensive players included Don Oatman, Greg Russell, Jack Follis, Dan Tewillager, Bryan Mory, Gary Bruscade, Kirk Quillian, John McGuire, Ron Jacobson, David Boyce and Bob Bruschie.

Commence Elections
For Council Offices

By CAROL JURICA

Elections for the student council offices began last week and all officers will be taken from the sophomore class. Lois Jordan has been chosen secretary of the council. There are three home-room representatives this year: room 102, Kathy Osborne; room 101, Chris Ackley and Ann Fraser, representing room 112. The remaining offices will soon be filled so that the council can get to work.

The drama club held its first meeting on Sept. 15. To uncover each girl's talents, Sister Mary Aquinas divided the girls into groups of four or five and gave them 15 minutes to prepare an original play. At the end of the allotted time, various groups gave their productions. The plays were resumed at the next meeting.

An assembly of the entire student body was held Sept. 14. Maria Phillips, student council president, was mistress of ceremonies at the meeting.

Initial speaker, Roseleen Taunt, president of the student spiritual council, explained this very important council and its functions and also explained the sodality to be new students. Linda Scheuer, Mary Flaiz and Sally Hozer gave a skit about the Summer school for Catholic action, the summer by Mary Flaiz.

Next, the chairmen of the five committees in the student spiritual council explained their work of the past year. Following these speakers, all the 1960-61 officers of the student council told about their work and the duties of each officer. They were Margaret O'Reilly, Ann Fisher, Sus Diehl, Lois Jordan and Sharon Michael.

Finally, to illustrate the study hall code, Ann Fisher, Sus Diehl, Jane Nagle, Kay Mack, Sharon Michael and Lynne O'Loughlin gave a skit that portrayed what not to do in a study hall: that is, talking, eating, bothering the mon-
