

So many people worry unnecessarily . . . about things that have happened, are happening and haven't yet happened. Reminds me of the group of Little and Big Troubles coming down the street. "Where are you going?", asked some one. "Oh, where we're expected," they chorused in reply. Honestly, if each of us learned how to live in this very moment . . . most moments being good . . . worry would lessen.

The Birmingham Eccentric

BIRMINGHAM, MICHIGAN

Thursday, October 13, 1960

SECTION
C

Autumn Activities Brighten Social Scene

Working on Annual Craft Sale

Admiring a few articles which will be featured at the Bloomfield Hills alumnae club of Pi Beta Phi's annual craft sale Oct. 19 at the home of Mrs. Fred Knorr, 730 Vaughan road, Bloomfield Hills, are (from left) Mrs. Kenneth Conn of Yorkshire drive, and Mrs.

Leslie Fleming of Mohegan drive, Birmingham. The sale will be from 9:30 a.m. to 12 and 1 to 4 p.m. The goods are made at the Pi Beta Phi Settlement school in Gatlinburg, Tenn.

Suburban Scene

By Shirley Adams
Society Editor

Coming Home After 23 Years

Five years after entering the Jesuit Order in 1932, Very Reverend Edward F. Mann, S. J., left the states for India to do missionary work and this fall marks his first return home in 23 years. He is the Vice Provincial of the Patna Missions in India and Nepal.

His many Birmingham friends will attend a reception and tea to be given in his honor on Sunday from 2 until 4 p.m. in the University of Detroit Union building. Among those presiding at the tea tables from the Birmingham area are Mesdames J. M. Roche, A. F. Power, W. G. Thompson, Gerald Slattery, Don Aheras, Jas. McDonnell, Joseph Churches, Judge Bearden, Clyde P. Craine, Jr.

THE VERY Rev. E. F. Mann will give a first hand account of the status of religion in India at the reception. He has spent half of his lifetime in India. He speaks and writes Hindu fluently and is well-versed in Hindu art and culture.

LaMarres Feted at Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil E. LaMarre, 237 Tilbury road, Bloomfield Village, were honored with a surprise dinner party Oct. 4 by their friends and neighbors. The occasion was their 25th wedding anniversary and guests gathered at the Elks club in Pontiac. The centerpiece was a large silver driftwood and cat-tail tree with 25 silver dollars hanging on the tree and silver candles flanked the sides of the arrangement.

AMONG THEIR Birmingham area friends attending the celebration were the H. A. Swigerts of Chewton road, the Don Voelkers of Tilbury road, the Julian Wilsons of Waddington road, the Murray Stewarts of Waddington, the Rex Terrys of Waddington, the William Prews of Tilbury Place, the Robert Harvies of Tilbury Place, the Bill Michaels of Woodberry drive, the Robert Fields of Martell court, the John Tandiffs of Wrenwood, the T. P. Goheskes of Wrenwood, the William Pilditchs of Arlington drive, and the Harry Wheelers of Southfield.

Attending Session at Pentagon

Mrs. Glenn C. Richards, 2460 Walnut Lake road, Birmingham, is busy these days trying to get packed to attend the semi-annual meeting of the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Services in Washington, D. C., on Sunday. She was appointed to DACOWITS membership by the secretary of defense. On Sunday evening, Mrs. Richards will attend the committee's reception and dinner meeting. On Monday and Tuesday she will participate in discussion and plans for future education and information on projects covering all fields of the women's components, including the medical.

Gala Formal Opening at St. Dunstan's

The Oct. 28 opening night performance of St. Dunstan's Players new presentation of the Broadway success, "The Girls in 609," will find the audience as gay and colorful as the actors in the comedy on the stage. Following the Broadway tradition, the opening night at St. Dunstan's theater will find the audience attired in formal gowns, tuxedos, tails and opera hats.

Several dinner parties are planned in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area to precede the opening night performance. Among those members who are entertaining first nighters in their homes are Mrs. Wesslau Wright, the Robert H. Scotts, L. James Schneider and the Garvin Bawdens. (See SUBURBAN SCENE, 6-C)

A Trio of Presidents

Birmingham Village Woman's club's first president, Mrs. James J. Nance (center) of Lone Pine road, Bloomfield Hills, was honored last week at the club's first fall luncheon of the season at Oakland Hills country club. She was given an honorary life membership. Chatting with Mrs. Nance, who is soon to leave to make her home in Cleveland, are (from left) Mrs. Brooks Marshall, immediate past president, of Gordon lane, Birmingham; and Mrs. Harvey Kresge, president, of Overhill drive, Bloomfield township.

Luncheon Benefits Research Center

Committee members who worked on the Child Research Center League's luncheon yesterday at the Detroit golf club were (from left) Mrs. Robert Charlton, 1792 Oak; Mrs. John Piekoll, Jr., 202 Suffield; Mrs. Don Borgeson, 18301 Riverside drive; and Mrs. John Butler, 817 Waddington road. The league was organized four months ago to promote active interest and public enthusiasm for the Child Research Center of Michigan.

Selecting Books for Derby Fair

Selecting books for the annual Derby school book fair Oct. 19-20 are (from left) Mrs. Robert Swanson, 915 Norwich; Robert K. Ford, principal at Derby; and Mrs. Charles Woodson, 941 Nampa court, Birmingham. The sale will be from 7:45 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Proceeds will benefit the library fund. Books on art, poetry, hobbies and reference books will be featured. Chairman of the sale is Mrs. Charles Woodson.

President's Day at Birmingham CC

AT LEFT—Whirling to the music of Chuck Leonard at the Saturday event are (from left) the Ray Maquires, club's golf pro; and the Anthony Anzicks of Sunningdale drive, Bloomfield Hills.

ABOVE—Saturday was President's Day at Birmingham country club in honor of James G. Nick. Chatting with Mr. and Mrs. Nick (center) are (from left) Mr. and Mrs. Keith Elias of Franklin road and Mr. and Mrs. William R. Shaw of Marblehead drive.

Invitations Going Out For Mart

Addressing invitations for the Oct. 26-27 Christmas Mart sponsored by the planned Parenthood association are (from left) Mrs. James Carmel of W. Long Lake road and Mrs. Marshall Fredericks of Lake Park drive. Among the local women who will be serving as salesladies at the Veterans Memorial building are Mesdames J. W. Sanders, John Booth, Clifford West, Robert Wardrop, John Kerr, John Blomquist, Paul McKenney, Robert Craig, David Baumhart, John Bagby, William Baldwin, Edward Lerchen, Arthur Buterbaugh, Burt Shurly, George Russell, Bruce Craig, Robert Graham, Robert Martin and Miss Phoebe Otter.

