

(Continued from Page 1)

public relations department Feb. 1, 1949.

De Lorenzo and his wife, Josephine, have four children: Annette Marie, Anthony Joseph, Josephine Maria and Peter Michael.

Residing at 271 Lone Pine road, Bloomfield Hills, is LOUIS C. GOAD, executive vice president in charge of general staff activities at GM.

A native of Petersburg, Ind., and a graduate of the University of Illinois, he joined GM in 1923. He is a member of Orchard Lake and Bloomfield Hills Country clubs. He and his wife, Frances, have two children, Thomas and David.

Another auto industry executive residing in this area is HARRY A. WILLIAMS, managing director of the Automobile Manufacturers association, who also is serving as manager of this year's National Automobile show. He lives on Oakland drive in Bloomfield township. Other automotive executives living in the area include:

General Motors

ROGER M. KYES, vice president of General Motors in charge of accessories since September, 1959 and a member of the board of directors, is a resident of Bloomfield Hills, living at 945 Cranbrook road. He is a native of East Palestine, O., and a graduate of Harvard university. He has been with GM since 1948, when he assumed the position of executive in charge of procurement and schedules staff. He and his wife, Helen, have four daughters.

CHARLES A. CHAYNE, vice president in charge of engineering staff since 1951, lives at 5130 Clarendon Crest, Bloomfield Hills. He joined GM as head of Buick Motor division's engine division in January, 1930.

A native of Hattisburg, Pa., he graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Harvard university. His hobby is collecting American and foreign antique cars.

RICHARD C. GERSTENBERG is vice president in charge of finance staff for GM. He resides at 3520 Burning Bush road, Birmingham, and has been with GM since 1932. He joined the company as timekeeper with Frigidaire.

A native of Little Falls, N. Y., and a graduate of the University of Michigan, he is a member of the American ordnance association, Comptrollers Institute of America and the National Association of Cost Accountants.

JAMES E. GOODMAN, group vice president in charge of GM's body and assembly divisions and director since September, 1958, joined the firm in 1925 as an assembly line production worker at Fisher body's Norwood, O. plant. He is a native of Union City, Ind., and he and his wife, Ruth, have one son, Jack Vincent. Goodman's hobbies are fishing, hunting and golfing. He lives at 451 Goodhue road, Bloomfield Hills.

DR. LAWRENCE R. HAFSTAD, 5361 Lauren court, Birmingham, has been GM vice president in charge of research staff since September, 1955. He joined the company in that position.

He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and is a native of Minneapolis, Minn.

HENRY M. HOGAN, joined GM's legal staff in New York in 1920 and is now general counsel of the company, a position he has held since 1947. He transferred to Detroit in 1941.

He lives at 444 Arlington, Birmingham, and was born in Torrington, Conn.

ORMOND E. HUNT, a director of GM since 1934 and retired executive vice president, lives at 1650 Rathmor road, Bloomfield Hills. He joined the company in 1921 as chief engineer for Chevrolet.

A native of Saranac, he is a graduate of the U of M.

CARL H. KINDL, is vice president and director of GM and group executive in charge of Canadian and overseas operations. He joined the firm in 1925 on the engineering staff of Delco-Remy division, at Anderson, Ind.

He lives at 1340 Pembroke drive,

Bloomfield Hills, and is a native of Pittsburgh, Pa. He graduated from Carnegie Institute of Technology.

EDWIN C. KLOTZBURGER, vice president of GM and general manager of Fisher body division since 1958, joined the company in 1923 as specifications clerk in Chevrolet motor division's St. Louis plant.

He is a resident of Birmingham, living at 1090 Glenhurst drive. His hobbies include restoring old cars as well as amateur radio and stamp and coin collecting. He is a native of St. Louis, Mo.

SEMON E. KNUDSEN is vice president of GM and general manager of Pontiac Motor division, a position he has held since July, 1956. He joined the firm in 1939 on a special manufacturing assignment at the Pontiac division.

He resides at 31500 Bingham road, Birmingham, with his wife, Florence Anne. The couple have four children, Judy, Lisa, Kristina and Peter. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., and is a graduate of MIT.

WILLIAM L. MITCHELL, a GM vice president in charge of the styling staff since Dec. 1, 1958, joined the company in 1935. He lives at 644 Hamilton boulevard, Bloomfield Village. He and his wife, Nancy Jane, have two children, Nancy Lynn and Wendy Lee.

A native of Cleveland, O., he graduated from Carnegie Tech and the Art Students league in New York. His interests include water color painting, in addition to automobiles.

PHILIP J. MONAGHAN, vice president in charge of the manufacturing staff for GM and former general manager of GMC truck and coach division, joined the company in 1936. He was then methods engineer for Ternstedt division in Detroit.

A graduate of Georgetown university, he is a native of Detroit. He lives at 940 Cranbrook road, Bloomfield Hills.

CYRUS R. OSBORN, executive vice president in charge of engine divisions since September, 1959 and director of GM, joined GM in 1921 as an apprentice in the Dayton engineering laboratories. He lives at 125 Martell drive, Bloomfield Hills.

He graduated from the University of Cincinnati and is a native of Dayton, O. He and his wife, Jeanette have two children.

FRANK O. RILEY is general manager of the Ternstedt division of GM and started with the company in 1939. He assumed his present position April 15, 1960.

He resides at 2020 W. Lincoln road, Birmingham, and is a graduate of U-M. He was born in Port Huron, Mich.

JAMES M. ROCHE, vice president in charge of distribution staff for GM and former general manager of Cadillac Motor Car division, was statistician for Cadillac in Chicago when he joined the company in 1927.

Living at 425 Durstall road, Bloomfield Hills, he and his wife have three children, James, Douglas and Mrs. James Quinlan. His hobbies are music, fishing and golf.

GEORGE RUSSELL is an executive vice president-finance for the company and has held the position since Oct. 6, 1958. He became associated with GM in 1927 on the treasurer's staff in New York.

He lives at 283 Lone Pine road, Bloomfield Hills and is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. He is a member of the Bloomfield Country club.

CLYDE W. TRUXELL, JR. is general manager of the Detroit diesel engine division and started with GM in 1932. He assumed his present position July 1, 1956.

He is a native of Detroit. He lives at 31750 Brandingham, Franklin.

CALVIN J. WERNER, vice president of GM and general manager of the GMC truck and coach division at Pontiac, began his career with the company's Delco division in 1923. While a cooperative student, he continued working and received his electrical engineering degree from the University of Cincinnati in 1930.

He lives at 2633 Endsleigh drive, Birmingham.

HAROLD G. WARNER, is vice president of GM and general manager of the Cadillac Motor Car division. He became head of Cadillac 33 years after starting as an hourly-paid worker on the assembly line. His home is at 5950 Snowshoe circle, Birmingham.

C. E. WILSON, former president of GM and now a director, began his association with the company in 1919 as chief engineer and sales manager of the automobile division of Remy electric company.

He makes his home on West Long Lake road, Bloomfield Hills, with his wife, Jessie. They have six children, Thomas, Jessie, Jean, Edward, Rosemary and Charles.

Chrysler

DONALD D. ALBERS, assistant to the general manager of the Plymouth - DeSoto - Valiant division of Chrysler, attended Oregon State college and the University of Iowa.

Prior to joining Chrysler, Albers spent eight years in automotive sales and product planning work at the Pontiac division.

He resides with his wife and two children at 4455 Tarry Lane, Birmingham.

KENNETH S. CRAWFORD, plant manager of the Plymouth Detroit assembly plant, is a 35-year veteran of the auto industry. Born in St. Johns, Mich., Crawford attended the University of Michigan and majored in mechanical and aeronautical engineering.

Crawford resides at 999 Putney, Birmingham.

A. W. GOLLING is administrative assistant to the general manager of Chrysler and Imperial division. He attended Hillsdale college and Michigan State university, majoring in marketing and economics.

Before taking his assignment, Golling was manager of Chrysler's consumer research staff. He resides at 5523 Crabtree road, Birmingham.

A. H. GREEN, business management manager, resides at 3245 Morningview, Bloomfield Hills. Born in LaGrange, Ill., Green brought to Chrysler an extensive background in automotive accounting and business management, 11 years of which was acquired with the Chrysler corporation. He left the post of operations manager of the corporation's dealer enterprise division to take his present position.

CLAUDE T. McCLURE, director of service, was born in Garland, Ala. After attending the University of Georgia, he served as parts manager in automobile dealership until he became a civilian member of the U. S. Army Engineers.

A member of the Society of Automotive Engineers, McClure resides at 1698 Ledbury drive, Birmingham. He is also a lieutenant in the U. S. Naval reserve.

Ford

JOHN DYKSTRA, vice president of manufacturing of Ford Motor Company, and a resident of Birmingham, is a veteran automotive-manufacturing executive. He was born in the Netherlands and moved to Detroit as a young man. After attending night school at Cass Technical high school in tool and die design, he furthered his education with correspondence courses in foremanship and related subjects at LaSalle university.

Dykstra directs activities of the manufacturing staff, mobilization planning and defense sales activities. Appointed to his present position in April, 1958.

WILLIAM T. GOSSETT, vice president and general counsel of Ford, makes his home in Bloomfield Hills. He is a graduate of the University of Utah and Columbia university. In 1947 he was awarded a doctor of laws degree by Coe college, and in 1957, a doctor of humanities degree from Wayne State university.

Included among his many affiliations and citations are a trusteeship in the Cranbrook Foundation, a membership on the board of trustees of Harper hospital and a citation in January of this year from the Detroit Council of Churches. He was named Layman of the Year.

MERRITT D. HILL, vice president of Ford and general manager of its Tractor and Implement division, has his headquarters in Birmingham. He and his wife live at 965 East Garrigay circle. They have two married sons, Charles and Richard.

A native of Pontiac, Hill was graduated from the University of Detroit where he is now a member of the lay board of trustees. He is also a director of the William Beaumont hospital, a member of the advisory committee of the Oak-

(See LEADERS, Page 7)

Ace Wilson, Jr.

"You're Invited to try the
'61 Pontiac..."

THE SPOTLIGHT IS ON THE NEW HOME OF

Oakland County's
Franchised Pontiac Dealer

ACE WILSON'S
ROYAL PONTIAC
SALES & SERVICE

400 North Main — Royal Oak