

Guests Get Pretties From Paris at Party

LATHRUP—Mrs. Elmer Shaver sparked her lovely party with prizes from Paris, for winning card players last Thursday. Just returned from a 14-week trip through Europe, she traveled from as far north as the Scandinavias to southern Italy. She put on a real gala luncheon for 21 guests, including her daughter, Mrs. James F. Healy who is her house guest from Houston, Tex.

Mrs. C. Herbert Starkey tells us there are still openings in three of the classes sponsored by the Lathrup Woman's club. If you are interested in joining the French, Spanish or flower arranging courses, you can call Mrs. John Pederson, 1881 Bungalow drive. Classes will start as soon as the enrollment is filled.

We have to admire the spirit and envy the fun — that 17 Girl Scouts from Troop 458 enjoyed on a recent Friday night. They camped out in the backyard of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Embelin of California drive, cooked their dinner and breakfast and enjoyed a campfire and attendant fun. Their co-leaders are Mrs. Embelin and Mrs. Jay Beat.

There's no dearth of artistically-minded gals around Lathrup. We just heard that Mrs. Ronald S. Wilson is now taking classes with Shari Brush and is having just loads of fun.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. Beck who are having fun with their first grandchild, Sue Ann, while her new baby brother gets acquainted with his mother and daddy. Little Theodore Martin Beck is the son of Theodore K. and his wife, who live in Royal Oak. He arrived last Thursday.

had a unanimous turnout at their first affair of the season recently, at the Maplewood club. Sixty members, plus four guests, danced to the music of Earl Perkins orchestra with Judy along for extra interest. Mr. and Mrs. David P. Anderson are this year's co-presidents.

Mrs. Walter Baughman, Jr. says the visit of Mrs. Baughman Sr. will accomplish one thing for certain. She says, of course they planned to do their part for 10 days on the 22nd and best of all, a visit to the Auto show. They will be 32 years old. Another 12 year old, as of Oct. 30, will celebrate this Saturday with lunch for his friends and probably a movie in the office. He is Barry Clavet.

We had the same experience, without the drawback of personal confrontation, when we recognized a name on the membership list of the Lathrup Woman's club and discovered we had known its owner some years ago at the Automobile show. Probably they'll all

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Showing the well-equipped kitchen where Marian high school girls are taught home economics by Mother Mary Aquin and mother's club President Mrs. Sidney F. McKenna (right). Getting the conducted tour is Mrs. John N. Bode, 777 Overhill, Bloomfield township.

Mrs. Bode and other mothers of freshman girls were special guests at a welcome party held recently at the new high school, built to serve the five Roman Catholic churches in the Birmingham area. The mothers of newcomers were shown around the school, located on Lahser road near Lincoln.

Landscape Competition Winds Up In Dual-Tie

CRANBROOK VILLAGE—An annual landscaping award went to Dr. and Mrs. Richard Seontine and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh S. Clark in a two-way tie. Each couple receive a $50 bond for the lovely green decor surrounding their homes. The yearly competition is sponsored by Rodney Lockwood and company and the selection is made through a landscape committee, appointed by Cranbrook Village subdivision number two.

The Eugene McIlvanes of Rock Creek drive combined a bit of golf and a visit to a cottage with two other couples, before getting to the point of their northern weekend: a color tour to see what Mother Nature has in store for the foliage. They visited Elk lake and Taubemon Falls and brought back lots of slides; the lady-of-the-house will probably use the slides for inspiration when she gets out her paint brush.

It's on again, off again with house guests at the Paul Pelletiers' Leaving Oct. 4, was cousin Mrs. Phil Sanders after a delightful week's sojourn and then Mrs. Pelletier's great-aunt, Mrs. C. L. Miller, moved in and out and will return in about a month for another visit. Both ladies are from Los Angeles.

And in the nice way that the gals have hereabouts, Mrs. Ralph Pitman introduced two new neighbors at a morning coffee last Thursday. The newcomers are Mrs. Elton Heist and Mrs. Donald Wiltshire; co-hostess was Mrs. Johnson.

Did you know that Marlene Benvenuti will take a part Nov. 18 and 19 in Southfield high school's senior play, "Our Hearts Are Young and Gay," by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough. She will play Therese; Marlene is the daughter of the Onero Benvenuti's of Westbrook parkway.

Birthday boys on Bainbridge are Harry T. Kirk, Jr., whose 11th was observed Oct. 12 with dinner and games for 10 friends; then there is Tom Swearingen who marked his sixth with a dozen parties for lunch and the movies on Oct. 15.

SOUTHFIELD—Helen Schoenhals, 17, daughter of School superintendent and Mrs. Glenn Schoenhals, has had a busy time since returning from a tour of South America this summer with the Michigan Chorale. She has had several speaking engagements, the
