Musicale Planning Membership Tea

Mrs. Robert F. Connor, (left) special events chairman of the Birmingham Musicale, entertained members last week at her home on Westwood drive, to discuss preliminary plans for a membership tea slated Sept. 29 at the Birmingham community house. Working with Mrs. Connor are (second from left) Mrs. Matthew Cammareri of S. Adams, table decorations chairman; Mrs. Kenneth Kesler, of Suffield, membership chairman; and Mrs. John Phelps of Walnut Lake road, president of Birmingham Musicale. Co-chairman of the event are Mrs. Connor and Mrs. Kesler.

Myra Zollinger Wears Gown of Silk Organza

Wearing a gown of silk organza embroidered in sprays of lily of the valley, Myra Louise Zollinger became the bride of Roger Neil Waud Saturday afternoon. The ceremony took place at 4:30 o'clock in Bexley Methodist church in Columbus, Ohio, with Dr. Hiram C. Weld officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milton Zollinger of Columbus and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Othello Stockwell of Tisbury Lane, Bloomfield Village.

THE BRIDE'S gown was designed with a Sabrina neckline, brief sleeves and embroidery on the bodice. The same embroidery circled the sides of the bouffant skirt and enhanced the chapel length train. The bride wore an heirloom veil of Brussels lace. Her bouquet was a cascade of lily of the valley accented with white feathered carnations, sweetheart roses and ivy.

Mrs. Talbot Love of Tuxedo Park, N.Y., served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Zollinger Jr., Jennifer Waud, Ann McKnight, JoAnn Hood and Ann Zollinger.

THE ATTENDANTS all wore gowns of pink organza. The maid-of-honors featured scooped necklines and brief sleeves. Their triple are probably the most boring kind of reading to be found—unless, of course, you stock has jumped four points. Ours hasn't, so we'll move on to another kind of statistic—the LABOR DAY HOLIDAY kind. Right now you are probably asking yourself, "What is this clown going to come up with—a sermon?" No, a PLAN. A plan which, if followed, will practically assure your not becoming a Labor Day week-end STATISTIC. So you see this is going to be entirely a philanthropic effort—like a non-political speech.

FRIDAY—SEPTEMBER 2

Don't leave the office early. Stay in the peace and quiet left by those potential statistics who went early, and clean up those jobs you haven't been able to get at. Drive home easily—after the rush. Rest.

SATURDAY—SEPTEMBER 3

Arise leisurely, and over your second cup of morning coffee, make up your list of things to get at McClellan-Ball's for the week-end. Such as:

FERTILIZER for the lawn. It is now time for the third feeding. 10-6-4 at 20 pounds per 1000 square feet.

GRASS SEED. This is the best time of the whole year to seed—spot, new, or re.

CAPTAN or PHALTAN to stop black spot on the roses.

SULPHUR or ROSE DUST for the mildew on the zinnias.

CHARCOAL, BRIQUETS and GRILLITE for at least two cook-outs this week-end. You might even want to put some of the money for that trip (we have just talked you out of) into a shiny new Big Boy Grill—on sale.

WEED KILLER for the lawn. September is an excellent month for this, but it should be done two weeks before re-seeding.

After shopping in our unique atmosphere, go home and cut the grass. Rest.

SUNDAY—SEPTEMBER 4

Go to church. Rest. Start Briquets in grill for the chicken you are going to barbecue in the spit basket. Rest. Spread the fertilizer you got yesterday. Rest. Listen to the ball game.

MONDAY—SEPTEMBER 5

Once again arise leisurely. Don't even think about anything while having your second cup. Put on the grass seed (sparingly) that you got Saturday. Rest. Plan the cook-out for later today. Give your wife her orders. Rest. Look over the garden and plan where you will plant all the wonderful tulip, daff and narcissus bulbs we will have for you shortly. Rest. Start fire in grill. Rest. Have a real ball at the party. Take two alka-seltzer. Retire early.

TUESDAY—SEPTEMBER 6

Back at the old grind again, but we did it without becoming a STATISTIC—and we did get a lot of rest.

COMMERCIAL NOTES

1. Our MADONNA LILY bulbs are superb—now.
 2. Won't you come for COLCHICUM! the mystery bulb. It blooms as is without water or planting—very large this year. Won't you come soon so that they'll bloom for you and not for us.
