"Familiarity breeds contempt"—and that is an underlying cause of many accidents. After logging thousands of miles, drivers often become so familiar with frequent danger signals and situations that they may fail to respond to them in time to avoid an accident. Remedy: Utilize good judgment and all your driving skills every minute that you are behind the wheel.

The Answers to Your Gardening Questions by Bob

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: When is the best time to move and transplant peonies?

BOB'S ANSWER: Peonies may safely be moved in early autumn when they are usually almost completely dormant. Better blues will result from the transplants if the "eyes" in the roots are covered with only an inch or two of soil.
