Purchase First Bag of Peanuts

The first bag of peanuts sold for the Kiwanis club annual peanut drive was made to Nick's Crusaders on Sept. 16. The Crusaders, a philanthropic organization, composed of business and professional men, are shown presenting their check for $100 to the president of the Birmingham Kiwanis club. From left: George Kocis, director of Nick's Crusaders; John Nicholson, president and founder of Nick's Crusaders; Chas. D. Mosier, vice president, Birmingham Kiwanis club; Eastburn Rusco, president of Birmingham Kiwanis club, and Ralph Osterman, director of Nick's Crusaders.

Area Workers Assigned Tasks in Torch Drive

Allan Sheldon III, co-chairman with Mrs. Theodore O. Yntema for the 1960 Torch Drive's advance committee, has assigned 115 workers their quota of $1,173,124.

The committee's goal, to be raised before formal opening of the three-county campaign for $17,900,000 on Oct. 18, was announced at a kick-off luncheon in Detroit last week.

Alfred B. Clancy, Jr., vice chairman of the board of directors of the Michigan cancer foundation, told volunteers that the work of his organization would be continued on the same level that has made it the "foremost cancer-fighting unit in the country."

Dr. Joseph N. Schaeffer, director of the Rehabilitation Institute, described the work of his agency in helping handicapped persons develop their maximum abilities.

WALTER C. LAIDLAW, executive vice president of the United foundation, said that an analysis of financing of local agencies in 10 of the largest cities in the country showed that Detroit had increased its giving by 36 per cent over 1949.

"The nearest city, both geographically and in percentage, is Cleveland, where 1960 allocation to their federation of local agencies is $3.36 per cent above 1949," Laidlaw said.

"Many other federations in big cities have not fared so well, where percentage of gain in some instances are 20 per cent and even lower."

Mrs. Yntema, in a memo to advance gifts committee volunteers, said that the 1960 Torch Drive would be campaigning for three new agencies not represented in earlier campaigns. They are the National Council on Alcoholism; Don Bosco Hall, formerly the CYO Home for Boys; and the Oakland County Legal Aid Society.

THE ADVANCE gifts committee is made up of volunteers whose assignment is to solicit prospects on a personal basis and previous to the opening of the campaign.

The results of their work are made available to and reported through the six campaign units of the Torch Drive. These are automotive and suppliers, major commerce, general manufacturing, professions, trade teams, community campaigns, and schools and government.

Sheldon pointed out that this year's overall Torch Drive goal is the highest ever set.

"The requests of the agencies were for nearly a million dollars more," he said.

"ALL THE campaign leaders will make every effort to raise as much more than the goal as possible. Our responsibility will be to suggest fair share giving where contributions seem low, obtain new gifts, and to urge increases where giving seems to have been good."

Rec Board Decides on Sewage Land

The recreation board formulated its recommendation last Thursday to hold the 66-acre sewage disposal property at Cranbrook and 14 Mile roads in its entirety for future recreation development.

The board has made plans and studies for the use of sections of the land, but believes further attempts to plan any portion of it should be held up until capital funds are available for development.

The recommendation will not be submitted to the city commission until the planning board meets with the commission Tuesday, Sept. 27 and has a chance to draw up its recommendation.

THE FINAL DECISION as to the treatment of the property lies with the city commission on the basis of the combined recommendations.

Other business of the monthly meeting included Charles Gale's report on the new lighting system to be installed at the Municipal Ice Rink, Nov. 1. Low bid for the $4,865 job went to Schultz Electrical Service of Pontiac.

Mrs. A. R. Stevenson, 268 N. Williamsbury, attended the meeting to request that the board sponsor a water ballet class for teenage girls.

Recreation director Don Martin explained the costs involved in organizing such a class and the board approved the scheduling of it if adequate registration and funds were received to operate the program on a self-supporting basis.

Suffragen Bishop To Be at St. James

The Rt. Rev. Archie Crowley, Suffragen bishop of Michigan, will be present at St. James Sunday at 5:00 P.M. to dedicate the Chapel of the Holy Spirit and the new sections of the parish house. Following the services of dedication, a reception will be held and a tour of the building will take place.

The service will be that of evening prayer with all three churches and a procession into the new building where the prayers of dedication will take place.

THE TWO are accused of first degree murder and conspiracy to murder Parvin (Bill) Lassiter, Mrs. Lassiter's husband.

Lassiter, a Royal Oak car dealer, was shot and beaten near Willow Run airport April 6, 1959.

Watson's attorney, Ralph R. Goldsmith, filed a petition last week requesting Rashid to disqualify himself as trial judge.

Rashid was scheduled to hear arguments by the lawyers at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, then make his decision.
