Kiwi Club Installs Officers at Dance

The Kiwi club, former American Airlines stewardesses, local chapter gathered Saturday evening at the Kingsley Inn for dinner and dancing.

Officers installed for the coming two years were Mrs. Robert Reynolds, president; Mrs. Vern Glendening, vice president; Mrs. V. E. Roycroft, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. D. Putnam, recording secretary and Mrs. Raymond Boska, treasurer.

Their Nose for News Stimulated by Tour

WESTCHESTER—Several young readers of The Eccentric had a chance to see "a newspaper in the making" when they visited The Eccentric offices Sept. 21, accompanied by Mrs. George Fulkerson of Middlebury lane.

The tour was part of the entertainment planned by Mrs. Fulkerson in celebration of the seventh birthday of her daughter, Tavi. Knowing the hunger pangs of small fry, following an afternoon in school, Mrs. Fulkerson had a surprise package of goodies for the young guests to eat enroute to Birmingham.

Tavi's guests included Jeffrey Aronson, Jill Batchelor, Randal Bryant and Betty Jean Erwin. The children are all students at Valley Woods school.

Members of the Westchester branch of the WNFCA will meet Sept. 26 at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Frank Druzyński, of Cranbrook road to hear Mrs. L. E. Carter talk on "Day Lily Culture."

Because the lily is the official club flower, this talk should be of particular interest to the members. Mrs. C. O. Boeman, Mrs. D. O. Bencke and Mrs. R. W. Jacobs will assist the hostess.

A new and interesting project recently undertaken by the club is the publication of a newsletter which will be mailed monthly to each of the 56 members. The first issue will be out this month and is under the supervision of Mrs. Robert Linker and Mrs. Melvin Goddell.

CRANBROOK - MAPLE "Gardens of the Bible" will be the subject of Mrs. J. P. Carrith's talk to members of the Maplebrook branch of the WNFCA when they meet at 1 p.m. Sept. 28 at the Show case, 136 Brownell street.

Mrs. Carrith, who is a resident of Pleasant Ridge, has made a study of the gardens of the Bible. She also visited many of the Biblical gardens during her tour of the Holy Land. Residents interested in garden club work are invited to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served by hostesses Mrs. K. H. Busha and Mrs. Carl Neppach, Jr.

BIRMINGHAM FARMS—Fourteen young people gathered at the Sandalwood drive home of David Gallian Saturday evening for dinner and a last get-together before leaving for their respective schools and colleges. David left Monday for Michigan State university and the start of his sophomore year.

Among David's guests were two others bound for State, Tammy Ducht and Jan Picea, Gary Byrdell and Ken Allen, Lawrence tech, and Shirley Smith, Mt. Holyoke.

Four slightly younger guests who will return to Bloomfield high school to pursue their studies were Pamela Read, Sue Allen and Janine Leslie.

The proud little Welsh and Shetland show ponies won State fair honors for their owner and trainer, Don Gilme, of Forest lane.

The ponies, Silver Sue and her foal Silver Bonnet, are but two of the five ponies that trainer Dan puts through their paces on the Gilme's three acre estate known as Gilme's little acres.

This is the third year that Dan has shown his ponies at the fair. An added honor was his appearance on the Fay Elizabeth show with Silver Sue and Silver Bonnet.

Sixteen-year-old Dan is a student at Seaholm high school and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gilme.

Officers Installed

The Detroit chapter of Clipped Wings, United Air Lines Stewardesses alumnae, Inc., held their first meeting yesterday at Topinka's restaurant. Officers installed were Mrs. D. B. Scott, president; Mrs. Robert Schaefer, vice president; Mrs. William Farrell, secretary; and Gweneth Nolan, treasurer.

Birmingham - Bloomfield Hills Society Notes

By JOYCE KLARR

There is a traitor in our midst!

By name Mrs. James Bartlett of Madison avenue. No one would think to look at this pretty brunette that here was a woman who threatened our whole way of living. Why? Because (like the traitor of Oa) of the wonderful things that she does.

We visited her the other morning at an hour when most of us are wondering if we have enough energy to mix our metaphor for the day. There she was, bright eyed and immaculate with a house to match. Three of her six children (the oldest one nine) were in school. The other three were playing quietly somewhere in the house.

THE REASON for our visit was to learn of her culinary victories at the Michigan state fair. She won first place for her strawberry jam, second place for her English muffins, third for her devil food cake, raspberry and cherry jam and a fourth for her grape jelly.

How does she do it? It would be terrible to tell you that she always did her cooking surrounded by six well scrubbed and clean girls, but in truth she had to admit that she can't stand anyone else in her kitchen when she is cooking especially children! My spirits brightened at this but were dashed when she told me that she has no help, iron 25 shirts a week (five boys plus her husband) and still finds time to design and make silver jewelry, enter school activities, bowl and visit with her charming neighbors among them Mrs. Grace Smith and Mrs. George Reed.

Her husband, an architectural draftsman, gets into the act too. He has remodeled the inside of their lovely home in a clean cut contemporary of his own design. It's his first attempt with tools and the results are enough to frighten Yamaoka.

It's a question of stamping this kind of woman out or of joining her. She could ruin the good going for years!

As I was crawling out the doors on all fours, ready to go somewhere and fall on my sword, muttering about checking back next summer she cheerily said, "Please do you can see my brand new baby then."

Local Resident To Talk on Poland

Another woman on the go is Mrs. Anthony D'Agostino of Riverchase drive who will show her pictures and speak on Poland today at St. John's Episcopal church in Roy Oak on Sept. 28th at 7:45 p.m. Mrs. D'Agostino lived in Poland for three months last year and has been studying the Communist penetration there of mind and ideals.

Her three weeks inside Russia led her to Moscow, Leningrad, Novgorod and Minsk, where she was charmed by the kindness and curiosity of the Russian people. The only unpleasant incident occurred over a roll of confiscated film, pictures taken when she managed to slip away from her Russian guide. Mrs. D'Agostino expects to return to Poland and Russia to continue her first hand studies soon.

Village Players' Opening Reception

The Village Players launched what promises to be a smashing season at their opening reception last Sunday. The playhouse was jammed with local theatre buffs, all talking about the beginning of the amateur season in our town. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Berrien Kitchum, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Giffels, and a host of others.

Also present were the Herbert Royals, the Ed Deeres, the John Michells, the Hon. Morgan, the William Genings, Mrs. Ann Young, the Harold Geigers, and the Jack Klemm.

BAA Gets Off

To a Flying Start

The Bloomfield Art Association just got off to a flying start at their opening party last week. Since their theme for the month is "art in art," the BAA building was decorated with weird animal caricatures created by Betty and Bill Dennis (Dy. Seuss, beware). Our local artists are promising us a stimulating season, and among them are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Vincent, Mrs. Harold Drew, Mrs. Marcia Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. William Newberg, Mrs. Don Abrams, Mr. and Mrs. Max Fruehauf, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Diehl Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Rocco De Marco, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bender and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hall.

Foreign Student Visits Birmingham

Finland has won new admirers in our area. Henrik Hult is the young man responsible. He is in this country to attend the University of Michigan business administration school and spent last week end with the Morris Purdyas as part of U of M's "operation friendship." One hundred foreign students from Ann Arbor met at Cranbrook last Saturday morning and were dispersed to various homes in the area. Blond and handsome, Mr. Hult is enthusiastic over all things American and he particularly enjoyed the jam session which went on all hours at the Purdy's the other night. His only regret is that he left his skills at home, and now finds he will need them for the winter in Michigan. A resourceful Finn is never daunted however and Henrik has called his university choir now in Rome to pick up his skills when they return home and bring them to the United States where they have an engagement later in the season.

Down the Au Sable

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Oglesby of Westwood have a tale to tell. It's about their recent canoe trip down the Au Sable with son John. As Mrs. O. explains it, they didn't really rough it. They did have tents and sleeping bags. We will learn more of the trip in a few weeks when the Oglesbys feel they will be able to view it more objectively.

Martins Entertain

The Nick Martins of Barden road in Bloomfield Hills had a baseball party last week. Thirteen couples met at Vaughn school for the time, then returned to the Martins for cocktails and dinner.

Surprise Shower

There was a surprise stork shower for the Edgar Jollys of Yarnouth last week. Guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Paddison included Mr. and Mrs. Roland Berndt, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pokorny, Mr. and Mrs. John Simmers, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Heyl and Mr. and Mrs. L. Vincent.
