"Getting to Know You" Is Theme for Opener

BEVERLY HILLS—"Getting to Know You" is the reason—fall is the season—for the first gathering of the Riverside dance club next Saturday night at the Birmingham country club.

Nine West Beverly couples plan to celebrate the opening event with cocktails before the dance in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Gillett on Northcote.

They are Mr. and Mrs. William O'Rourke, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Beukema, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Anderson, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur DeRosier, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rigley, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Ritz, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Bailey.

Past president of the Riverside dance club, William Koenig, and his wife, formerly of Birmingham, won't be there to head the receiving line since they moved to California early this month. But they bid good-bye to some of the members at a barbecue hosted by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rigley in their home on Bedford road. They were the George Dettlingers, the Maynard Beukemas, the William O'Rourkes and Dr. and Mrs. A. L. DeRosier.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Passino, of Westland, who are expecting their fourth child in October were surprised recently by a baby shower given by Valley Woods neighbors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Schimpke on Plumwood. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reason, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Linker and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rogers, of Birmingham, were guests.

Lots of "doins" on Devonshire, we find Mrs. Bud McConkey, of Farmer City, Ill., is spending the month with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Johnson. And down the street in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Neil C. Brady, there were enough visitors recently to call it a small family reunion. Her parents from Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cormack, were there when cousins from Australia paid a brief visit. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jones left for Melbourne at the same time the Cormacks headed for the west coast to see Mrs. Brady's three sisters.

Saturday night on Devonshire there's to be a mixed bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Miller. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Ritz and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillett will make up the tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Farmer, of Lauderdale, returned recently from a nine-day trip through Canada to New England.

Mrs. William Bailey, of Locherbie, was hostess yesterday at a birthday luncheon for Mrs. Maynard Beukema. Completing the bridge foursome were Mrs. Stan Anderson and Mrs. William O'Rourke.

Mrs. John Wilkins, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was guest of honor at a luncheon given last week by Mrs. Robert Moore, of Marguerite.

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Garriep, of Warwick drive, followed the best to California last week. They will return next week after vacationing in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Las Vegas.

Mrs. Thomas Raleigh, of Beechwood, and Mrs. Donald Bouchard, of Locherbie, will be co-hostesses Oct. 6 in the latter's home for one of the first of the GOP's "Operation Coffee Cup" campaigns in Beverly Hills. About twenty-five have been invited to meet congressman William Broomfield and Arthur Baker, candidate for the state legislature. Mrs. Baker will also be introduced at the morning coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Risk, of East Rutland, returned a fortnight ago from a week's trip in the Great Lakes region. They drove from Beverly Hills across the Straits Bridge to Eagle River, Wis., to visit a cousin. Retiring they stopped in Milwaukee and Palatine, Ill., to attend her sister's silver anniversary party. In Palatine, they also visited with former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Price.

Open season on deer starts with a bang for most hunters—but not for bow-and-arrow buff Carl Moll, of East Rutland. He and three Detroit area friends head north tomorrow night for a week's hunting at the Moll's cabin near Lewiston, Mich.

Christmas in Casablanca? It's a possibility for the Maynard Beukemas, who received the invitation from her brother, Charles Anderson, along with a letter saying he was finally back there, though he and his new bride (they were married in Gibraltar last May) ended their visit to Beverly Hills in August. The Andersons have purchased a summer home on Long Lake, Wis. Mrs. Beukema added, so that one way or another, the two families will see each other shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Zwolinski, of Marguerite, returned recently from a two-week sightseeing vacation with their young son David. After four days visiting at the

Two Clubs to Join In Annual Autumn Tea

WEST BEVERLY—Officers of the West Beverly hostess and sewing clubs will take turns at the tea table next Tuesday when they pour for guests attending their annual fall tea in the home of Mrs. K. N. Ryden on Riverside drive.

Serving for the Hostess group will be President Mrs. George Theising; First vice-president, Mrs. Harlan Ritz; secretary, Mrs. Edward Rickard; and treasurer, Mrs. John Danek. Sewing club hostesses will be new officers: president, Mrs. Francis McCracken; treasurer, Mrs. Alphonse Staehli; secretary, Mrs. Donald Kalmbach, and retiring president, Mrs. H. J. Guenther.

During the tea, guests will have a chance to welcome newcomers and admire the needlework to be displayed by the sewing club as a reminder of the annual in-gathering of the National Needlework Guild, scheduled for later this month.

There was shootin' and shoutin' at Beverly scout Sept. 20 when Beverly cub scout pack B-24 rounded up 18 new boys for their first fall meeting.

The shooting was by Lt. Coykendall, Michigan State Police, who demonstrated his expert marksmanship by popping four balloons, one at a time, blown up inside a giant one. That was just one of the spellbinders in his program on guns and how to use them safely.

The shooting was for the fifteenth anniversary scouting exposition honor award displayed by Cubmaster Robert Spencer. The pack won a gold shield for the top of their flag for their vegetable puppet exhibit in the show.

They also applauded when Rick Hatch, Greg Harbage and Don Fraser were inducted into Boy Scouts by Scoutmaster Don Beau-val.

And finally for Roger Gillett and Ricky Reynolds who attained Webster rank. Pack mother Mrs. Leslie Poland then directed the boys to weekly den meetings in the homes.

EAST BEVERLY—New superintendent of Birmingham schools, Dr. Otis Dickey, will be guest speaker on the first Greenfield school PTA program at 8 p.m. Oct. 5. He will follow a welcoming speech by Principal Noah Blosser, who will also introduce the teaching staff.

Politics will also be on the program, publicity chairman Mrs. Richard Siegel announced. The League of Women Voters is sending a speaker to present a five-minute review of the "you-can" proposal coming up on the November ballot.

SOUTH BERKSHIRES—The South Berkshires women's group will start their new-season sessions Tuesday at 7 p.m. with a smorgasbord prepared by members at the Ranch Room of the Birmingham Community house. Home economist Jane Fyfe will be the guest speaker with tips to the ladies on "How to Get the Most from your Home Freezer." The program will be followed by cards.
