Badger, Brotzmann Add Local Touch To Spartan Golf

Michigan State University's golf team continues its local touch this season.

Albert "Buddy" Badger, 20-year-old junior from Bloomfield Hills is expected to be one of the big guns for the Spartan linkers.

Last year Badger compiled a 3-4-2 record while appearing in six spot and averaging 79. He is holder of the school's Forest Aiers Golf Course record with a four under par 67. He shot a 71.2 average on the spring training trip.

MISSING from last year's squad is Birmingham's Tim Baldwin who tied for 12th place in the 1960 Big Ten Meet. Baldwin was a senior last year.

Acting coach of the Spartans is John Brotzmann who is a former coach at Birmingham High School. Brotzmann is manager of the Akers Course.
