

2 Writers Stitch Away On Travel Wardrobe

LATHRUP—Mrs. Vincent Zattel spent a week recently at Midland visiting Mr. and Mrs. Toivo Kauppi. Dorothy and Mrs. Kauppi—the former Mary Schmidt of The Birmingham Eccentric—put in some profitable hours sewing on an ensemble for Mrs. Zattel's projected spring visit to Europe, proving that writers are handy people.

William C. Main, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert C. Main, of 18734 Do-roles, reports that his fraternity, Tau Kappa Epsilon at the University of Michigan, has purchased a 1958 American LaFrance fire engine.

The boys brought the vehicle home during a recent holiday and renovated it to hold about 35 boys for fraternity doings. Plans are to ride the engine in a spring parade on campus next week.

William, of course, will be aboard on what may be the only fire engine owned by a fraternity in this state or possibly in this country.

Celebrating her 15th birthday yesterday, a local young miss with a great deal of talent, has something to make her name. Her name, of course, is Nancy Wilson and she's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred A. Wilson.

Nancy entertains for various clubs with piano and clarinet and does marvelous monologues in addition to singing in a choral ensemble. She's also an accomplished piano accompanist.

SHE'S VERY excited about her first trip to Inlet 10, coming up, and a two-week visit with her aunt, Mrs. F. J. McLeslin, in Manhasset, N. Y.

She was the winner on a television program in March, received a superior rating in the senior concerto division from the National Federation of Music Clubs in another March event and has won an Interlochen scholarship.

Future plans include a piano concerto with the Southfield All City Orchestra accompanying her at the school on May 31, a performance with the Kiwanis International convention in July at Toronto, Ont. and—well, we could go on and on.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shoemaker of Meadowood Court spent five days during the Easter holiday on a jaunt to Washington, D. C. with two sons, Jim and John, 12. It was the first trip to the capitol for all but Dad, who enjoyed showing the family the sights.

Mrs. Shoemaker says she enjoyed it all thoroughly and got the impression she was even more excited than the boys at the national landmarks.

Sky-High View Thrills Travelers in Florida

CRANBROOK VILLAGE—Highly anticipated Florida trip for the Fred Thaldorf was a "more-than-a-few-minutes glimpse" of an "Exotic" "rock" aloft after launching from Cape Canaveral.

The exciting flight was alighted as they were enroute from W. Hollywood to Orlando, during their three-week holiday.

The Thaldorf's visited her sister at Orlando, another sister at W. Hollywood and spent a few days on the Keys, enjoying the "wonderful weather."

Small boys will rocket to the Pontiac "Y" and an afternoon of swimming Saturday with their dad—the younger fellows are members of the Cree tribe, Indian Guides and their Chief is Robert Sweeting.

The tribe's last meeting was held at the Swearingin home on Bainbridge with Chuck, Tom and Bob Swearingin hosting the group.

And a much longer trip is being enjoyed by Mrs. Mervin Kline and her sister, Rose Pontello, who left April 9 for a five-week trip to Europe. They will visit England, Norway, Holland, Switzerland, Austria, France and Italy.

While they're gone, Kline will hold the fort down.

The Lloyd Gablers relaxed, following the recent election, at a cottage on Lake Huron, north of Lexington and near Port Sanilac. With the youngsters, they had an isolated but festive four days—because neither television or telephone was on the premises.

The only radio was minus a tube but the weather on their return trip was anything but minus—a real whooper of a snowstorm accompanied them part way home, says Mrs. Gabler.

Incidentally, we hear an election might party, with committee chairman considering families and their wives present to avail returns, was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Seemilow-Snacks and votes were mutually satisfactory.

Newcomers to Cranbrook are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hunter and their eight-year-old son Steven. They moved in late March to their new home on Grosvenor from Royal Oak, enjoying the "wonderful weather."

He's a security salesman for Goodbody and Co., Royal Oak, and an avid sportsman. "Likes any kind of sports," says his wife—who likes to sketch and is an equally avid reader.

SOUTHFIELD—The Family Life Nursery will hold an open house at the church two mornings a week. Mrs. William Sargent, 2950 Spring River, Cranbrook Village, is president.
