

INVEST AS YOU EARN

If you're like many people we know, inflation has greatly reduced the dollars you can now put aside for future needs.

This means some of the money you save out of each pay-check must go on double-duty, to hedge against the possibility of further inflation.

Many Mutual Funds have Accumulation Plans to help you invest out of earnings. You'll be pleasantly surprised to learn how practical it is to set up a long-range investment program and add to it out of current income.
