Beverly Association Goes 'Toujours Gai'

EAST BEVERLY—If Glen Oaks looked different for Beverly-Greenfield's "Evening in Paris" Saturday, then, vive la difference! A mock Eiffel tower and an elegantly-carved French noodle stood at the entrance. Beyond that—streamers and cafe-style canopies in the red and white of the French tricolor.

"Blue! Taboo! Especially at the sight of bubbly in beret and penicillin mustache. Madame received French perfume. 'Twas toujours gai from the time Joe Stark's orchestra opened the association's annual dance till it ended with a late buffet supper.

Cocktail hosts before the dance included the William Basses of Sheridan, the William Duplers of Auburn and the Robert Desings of Locherbie. The Kenneth L. Browns of Amherst, the Ralph W. Smiths of Arlington and the Russell E. Vorpagineis of Kirkshire also entertained.

For the latter, it was a get-acquainted event. The Vorpagineis moved to 1641 Kirkshire from Milwaukee, Wis. only last fall. He's a chess pro; she's a white in the kitchen after 15 years with Milwaukee's "What's New in the Kitchen" TV show. They have two boys: Erick, 9, and Curt, 6.

Many a sun tan was showing at the dance. The John Baldwins of Amherst got theirs from two weeks in Sarasota, Fla. with Nancy.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson, also of Amherst, were named from two weeks on Pieta Key. They also visited St. Petersburg, Fla., New Orleans and Mammoth Cave, Ky. and Catalina.

The Russell Rileys of Arlington are back from three months in Tucson, Ariz., and side trips to the Grand Canyon and on to Los Angeles and Catalina.

Though the Charles F. Kornesheis of Birwood wintered in St. Petersburg, they didn't miss the snow. The weatherman arranged that blizzard for their homecoming.

The Martin M. Bunkes of Beverly took a long weekend to visit the Vincent McCarthys of Cleveland and the Richard Burns of Pittsburgh so that Granddaddy and one-year-old Susan could celebrate their joint birthday together.

Full house at the Eugene Bussens of Georgia recently when her parents, the Edward Doyers of Albany, N. Y., paid a week's visit. Their neighbors, the William Shiveleys, have houseguests now. Her parents, the C. H. Beckers, and sister, Mrs. E. J. Bard, arrived from Indiana last weekend along with a niece from Pennsylvania to get their first peek at Linda Ann, born Feb. 10.

get their first peek at Linda Ann, born Feb. 10.

Two Sundays ago, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson of Amherst entertained 29 at a buffet reception honoring his aunt and uncle, the Walter Showards of Detroit, who are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary.

WEST BEVERLY—It was the first time in 18 years that Mrs. Mary Courier of Detroit saw all six of her children together. Mrs. L. J. Langton of Besonsfield arranged the reunion and large party on the week as guests of the Langtons before returning to California.

The family received 165 guests in a blue-and-silver-decked hall in Plymouth. A buffet and dance followed the cutting of the huge birthday cake. Mr. and Mrs. John George and Mrs. Jack Tracy will stay on for the week as guests of the Langtons before returning to California.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Krempa have returned to Medford after four weeks in Florida near Fort Lauderdale and Coral Gables. Their daughter Judy and fellow senior Judy Boesel of Lima, Ohio joined them during U of M spring recess.

Dr. and Mrs. William Braley spent the week of the American Academy of Pediatrics convention in Washington, D. C. Between meetings they toured the Capitol and had time for several visits to the National Gallery.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Brockmiller of Mayfair Lane are home after a three-week vacation at Lauderdale-by-the-Sea and Palm Beach.

VALLEY WOODS — Mr. and Mrs. Ronald K. Evans waited out the winter in Puerto Rico before returning to Evergreen. They spent three months in Dorado Beach where the Cyrus Osborns of Bloomfield Hills also vacationed.

SOUTH BERKSHIRES — The Marvin Cline of Stillamar topped their 16-day vacation in Pompano with a bit of deep sea fishing. Mr. and Mrs. Cline and Sue boast only a Florida tan, but Bobby, 7, landed a 12-pound kingfish and Laura got a good size tuna.

Dr. and Mrs. Victor Zaitz, who vacationed with their Corryell neighbors the Selwyn Asquiths, reported perfect weather on their two-week stay in Hollywood, Fla. With true beginner's luck, Mrs. Zaitz reeled in a rare Wahoo, but the 100-lb. dolphin that Asquith battled, broke his line.

Mrs. Eugene Laake of Buttonwood Court was hostess last week when her pinocchio girls gathered for dessert-and-cards.

The Arthur Semaks of 20300 Corvill hope to get better acquainted now that the Berkshires is set for spring. They moved from Detroit when much of the area was on vacation. He's a bowling fan on days away from Chrysler Engineering. They have three children: David, 9, Kathleen, 7, and Curtis, 3.
