Beverly Couples Enjoy Annual Golfing Event

WEST BEVERLY—Evidently they haven't heard of golf widowhood around Port Huron.

Last weekend's Black River Invitational, which drew several entries from the Birmingham Country Club, not only scheduled a nine-hole women's tournament Friday but ended each day's play with cocktails, dinner and dancing at the Black River Country Club.

Perhaps that's why it's an annual event for the Angelo V. Lettis of Rosevale and the Charles Gradnager of Riverside who enjoy this unusually small (90-teens) tourney.

No scores in at this writing, but the club has high hopes for Grammer (paired with Red Run's Perry Byard of Royal Oak) and the "pro-am" champ Lettis (steamed with St. Louis and Birmingham club champ Jack Geiss of Bloomfield Hills).

Quite a crush at the Charles Lettis' garden party on Hillcrest last Sunday. Almost 50 were invited to wish bon voyage to his mother Mrs. Norman Cole who makes her first trip abroad today.

Birmingham's well-traveled Mrs. Charles Shan (6's her tenth trip) will make the flight with her from New York to Dublin and on a six-week motor tour of the British Isles. They plan to spend another two weeks motoring through Denmark, Germany, France, Switzerland and Austria before returning.

"What a haul!" said the Kenneth Rydens of Riverside of their most recent houseguest. From fellow "hand" operators that's high praise not an insult. Jack White of Gishborne, New Zealand, tall letters ZL2GX rates it because he was the first to make confirmed contacts with 30 different countries.

The Rydens entertained for Mr. and Mrs. White Friday night at dinner in informal dinner while their host of the week before, Dr. Roger DeBusk of Grosse Pointe, dined the entire party earlier at Grace hospital.

Earlier the Rydens entertained her brother's family from New Milford, Conn. and even now they're busy playing host to world-beatificars taking Red Cross water safety classes in their pool.

Another indefatigable hostess is Mrs. Robert Johns of Waltham. Thursday she entertained at a small luncheon at the Birmingham Country Club for Mrs. Clarence Jay of LeSueur, Minn.; Friday, a foursome at Kingsley's.

Chris Greenwood, daughter of the H. F. Greenwood of Beaconsfield, offered her pool for the "Y" day camp staff's steak 'n' splash party last week. Fifteen contessors, plus directors William Beck and Owen Manchester and their families were there.

Connie Gordon of Birmingham was Calla Seasoner's guest the last weekend the Harold Reasoners of Mayfair Lane spent in Alpena.

Spectators, the Ernest G. Aruff of Evergreen, said that the high winds, which broke up the Grosse Pointe Farm's Regatta didn't damage the Lochness monster, their son-in-law's entry. By Johnston took home the Harry Purton Bowl for outdoors in the to see former neighbors the Gifford Beasins. Before returning to West Rutland they also visited Niagara Falls.

David Marble of Madoline returned Tuesday to Kessler Field Air Force Base in Biloxi, Miss., after a brief leave visiting his parents. David was the first recruit to enlist at the Birmingham office.

Have You Met . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ashbolt of 19144 Devonshire? They moved to West Beverly with David, 17, early in July. Ashbolt is a retired Michigan Bell engineer.

They are former residents of the Rosedale Park section of Detroit. And a lot of our teens will be familiar with David—drummer with Southfield High's "Thunder-tones."
