Two Move Up At Bell Co.

New duties at Michigan Bell Telephone Co. have been taken over by Robert W. Bachus and Robert F. Salton, residents of the Birmingham area.

Bachus, of 4225 Malibu, Bloomfield Township, district traffic manager for the company's main long distance service, has been named general plant supervisor in the company's headquarters in Detroit. Salton, of 1035 Wakefield, Birmingham, general staff supervisor-operations staff, has been appointed data processing manager at the company's accounting center in Southfield.

He served in various capacities at Grand Rapids, Jackson, and Kalamazoo before being named district traffic manager a year ago.

SALTON BEGAN his Michigan Bell career at Detroit in 1947. Following assignments in the commercial and personnel departments, he worked two years in Flint prior to his return to Detroit last year to the operations staff.

He is a member of the board of management of the Birmingham YMCA and active with the First Methodist Church.

Behind The Store Fronts

The co-owners of Bloomfield Plaza's Johnnie Decorative & Home Accessories Shop, Miss Bernice Krause and John P. Courtois, report seeing a wealth of new ideas at the annual Gift and Home accessories Show recently held in Chicago.

The Michael M. Michaels, of The Curiosity Shoppe, out Telegraph way, are presently searching out unusual and interesting items along the Atlantic seaboard states for their store. They will be back to greet you Aug. 21.

All set for an Alaskan Range sheep hunting trip are Charles E. Wilson, Jr. (Erwin) and Leo Remally, of the Sportsman. Besides sheep hunting, the party has licenses to hunt Caribou, and also both grizzly and black bear. The group will leave by air Aug. 17, and expect to be back September 15.

Joe Aperauch, former Birmingham Eccentric employee, and now a free lance photographer, and Mrs. Aperauch, are enjoying a long planned European holiday. Samples of Joe's photography may be seen every week in the real estate section of this newspaper. The Aperauchs will be back Aug. 20... with a huge collection of interesting pictures, we trust.

If our own Ken Weaver, The Eccentric's news editor, was in the habit of wearing a vest he would be minus at least two buttons. Ken has been walking on air... and passing out those dizzy spell producing cigars since the arrival of his first son, Jeffrey Kent, early Friday, Aug. 4.

BOB OSBORN, of Birmingham Camera Shop, is listed again as a prize winner in the black and white classification of the current issue of Populart Photography magazine's monthly contest for June. He received a $50 U.S. Savings Bond, and now has two entries competing for the $2000 grand prize to be announced in December.

Mirgeler Retires After 37 Years With Milling Firm

William J. Mirgeler, 1128 Chesnutfield, Birmingham, has retired from Kearney and Trecker Milling Machine Corp. after 37 years association with the company.

Mirgeler, a graduate of Marquette University, has been district manager of the company in the Detroit territory since 1931, following a period when he represented the corporation in Europe, with headquarters in Paris.

Preceding his retirement, Mirgeler was honored at an executive dinner in Milwaukee, Wis., by officials and co-workers of the firm.

Although resigning from Kearney and Trecker, he is retaining other business in the area.

The Mirgelers have lived in the Birmingham area for 11 years and have a summer home at Glen Lake.

Walker Corp. Moves Here

Marriott Walker Corp., formerly at Ypsilanti, has moved to Birmingham with offices at 925 E. Maple.

The firm, which designs, manufactures and installs a complete line of evaporators, spray driers and other equipment for the food and chemical industries, is now completing Puerto Rico's first dried milk plant for Industria Lechera at San Juan, according to A. Marriott Walker, president.

A registered professional engineer in Michigan and Wisconsin, Walker is a member of the Engineering Society of Detroit and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He and his family live at 699 Shephardush in Birmingham.

Big Man in the Moving Business

Here's a man who got just what he deserved. He's a highly skilled expert in his line. In action, he— together with a crew of other Bradley experts— can move a household from anywhere to anywhere, quickly, efficiently, carefully and economically, usually without cracking a cup.

He's a Bradley man... proudly trained and experienced. He knows the meaning of Quality Controlled service, and he takes pains to observe every rule of better practices. Like all Bradley men, he's several cuts above the ordinary in the skills of his trade.

If there's a move in your future, you'll enjoy Bradley service, too.

Nationwide Dialing starts Sunday for MAYfair phone users

Starting Sunday, you'll be able to dial most of your own Long Distance station calls—from MAYfair phones—across Michigan or across the Nation. That's as simple as following road signs on a motor trip.

To call someone in Southeastern Michigan, just dial the number, starting Sunday. You won't have to dial 112.

To call someone in Central, Western or Northern Michigan, or another state, dial the Area Code—it's different than your own Area Code—and then dial the phone number.

Places you can dial yourself, and their Area Codes, if any, are shown in a new booklet already mailed to each MAYfair telephone user.

This new service is easy and so convenient. To get there faster, follow the "road signs."
