

Beverly Vacationers Begin to Come Home

WEST BEVERLY — Dr. W. L. Christensen's family of Kenneway Drive and the E. J. Racinos of Sunnyslope put miles of uncharted waters and woodlands to a rest and civilization on their vacations.

The Christensens hauled their 17-foot boat to Iron Bridge, Canada and then took to the water to reach remote White Lake. The cabin they shared with Dr. and Mrs. Thomas McNerny's family of Royal Oak was the only one on this four-mile lake.

For three weeks they pioneered — making do with the supplies they hauled in the nearest store (less than 70 miles), cooking over a wood stove and chopping their own wood. They ended their vacation with a three-day stay at Hidden Valley.

The Racinos took their comforts with them, heading into Georgian Bay aboard their 40-foot cruiser "Panacea." They found a cliffside near Warton on Colpoys Bay that so enchanted them they bought property for a future home there. Their month-plus cruise took them far from the village, but when they met neighbors in harbor for the night, they offered to help a late arrival and were pleasantly surprised to find it was Mr. and Mrs. Max M. Roensch of Riverside up for a three-week sail on the Bay.

Other returns: Dr. and Mrs. Arthur DeRooster of Bedford who spent two weeks at Twin Lake with Christine and Gay and the Robert C. Austins of Detroit. Diane came up weekends and Mark who was adding to the invitations, joined them for the last week.

Soldier Philip Sarante from Fort Monmouth, N. J., to Huntsville, Ala., also arrived as they were returning. He was assigned to the Redstone project after graduating second in his electronics class.

Mrs. Alex Kostock got safely back to Kirkshire in spite of two blowouts on the return trip. "Basic training" — two weeks at Woodland Lake with four children, one dog, two kittens and five turtles — undoubtedly touched her up.

Dr. and Mrs. John P. Varley of Devoehre managed another week at their summer home near Traverse City.

Mary Jo Davis of New York City is spending the month with her mother Mrs. L. Clayton Garham of Beverly Road. The talented swimmer is between engagements, having just come from putting on a water ballet at Grossinger's in the Catskills.

VALLEY WOODS — The Harold B. Longways of Kenneway Drive spent over a week visiting Lincoln shrines in southern Illinois including Springfield and New Salem. And on the non-historic side, they enjoyed visiting a cattle sale barn where "the auctioneer's chair" sounded just like the tobacco man's.

Springfielders came to Beverly Hills too. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gaske of Marlin Court recently entertained her brother's family from the Lincoln state. Mr. and Mrs.

Village Twin Quota Has 'Em Seeing Double

CRANBROOK VILLAGE — John's two little girls and their feminine counterpart from Chicago especially enjoyed sailing on the family sailboat on Orchard Lake with their cousins and the men-folk, including the two teenage sons of Frank, took time off for a bit of golfing.

Hear tell the Sid Zwirens are enjoying the company of her mother, Mrs. Emma Kendrick of Scotia, New York, who arrived three weeks ago.

"We're just relaxing," says Mrs. Zwiren. Mrs. Kendrick plans to stay another week.

John weighed five pounds; David weighed in at four pounds, eleven ounces. They are due home any day now — they're putting in a little extra time at the hospital to give them an A-2 start.

There are two brothers at home anxiously waiting for them — Peter, 7, and Dick, 8. Like Mother and Dad, they're finding it "kind of hard to believe yet."

Another set of twins, Kathy and Kelley, three-year-old daughters of the Charles O'Neills of Spring River Drive, enjoyed a week at St. Clair on the Canadian side with sister Erwin, 4, brother Terry, one plus their parents and maternal grandparents.

The children haven't seen their grandparents since the couple left their South Bend, Ind. home for an Easter visit with the family. It was cozy and fun in the cottages, all agreed.

And a fun weekend is reported by the Jack P. Bradys, also of Spring River Drive, who hosted John's brother Frank and his family from Chicago during a recent weekend.

Con-Con Candidate Puts into Politics

WEST BLOOMFIELD — A West Bloomfield Con-Con candidate, too busy campaigning to play golf, has found a way to mix politics and putting to cover campaign expenses.

Arthur N. Tichin, Democratic candidate for Constitutional Convention delegate in Oakland County's 14th Legislative District, Friday sponsored the first — and last — "Tichin Open" at Knollwood Country Club in West Bloomfield.

"I CAN'T SAY the putter was used to sink any sensational sub-par shots," Tichin admitted, "but maybe the winner will put it to better use. I'll be too busy meeting people and presenting my views on Con-Con issues to play very often and, if I'm elected, the business of the convention will be a full-time job."

Stanley L. Aaron, Southfield, and Joseph Masterson, Birmingham, co-chairmen of the unique sporting event, emphasized that Tichin's new status as a self-styled "former amateur golfer" does not mean he's a golf pro now.

"Not with that slice of his," said Aaron.

To Graduate 2 Residents

Two Birmingham residents will graduate from General Motors Institute Friday.

The EXERCISES held at Alwood Stadium will mark the 34th commencement for General Motors Institute, an engineering college which provides the company with almost 25 per cent of its engineers.

Over 1,100 graduates will receive recognition at the exercises. Four hundred-and-sixty graduates will be granted degrees and 435 will be awarded four-year Cooperative Engineering and Business Administration diplomas.

OF THE institutes more than 6,000 engineering graduates, nearly 70 per cent have remained with General Motors. Fourteen per cent of these graduates are now in top management or technical positions.

Some 8,000 relatives and friends of graduates are expected to attend the exercises.

Commencement week-end activities will begin Thursday with an all-day orientation conference. Other activities include Baccalaureate services and an open house for relatives and friends at 11 a.m. Friday.

The 23RD ANNUAL Alumni Day will be held Saturday. Gordon F. Andrus, 32555 Eastlady, Beverly Hills, Class of 1936, of Chevrolet Motor Division, is chairman of Alumni Day activities.

This annual Graduate-Alumni Dance Saturday evening in the auditorium will conclude Alumni Day activities.

Nick Brancato and Tommy. Other relatives greeted them at a cocktail and outdoor supper party planned in their honor by the Gaskins.

Janelle Severy, daughter of the James Severy of Eastlady, is spending the week at Gratio Inn with her grandmother, Mrs. Glenn Severy of Berkley.

The men of Westlady's J. E. Herold family got away for the weekend. Dad and John spent a three-day weekend golfing, shooting and fishing the Au Sable.

And in the Werner Guenther family of Plumwood, it was Jim and Rick who got away, spending their second season at CYO camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fletcher of Lakeland, Fla. spent a weekend with the R. J. O'Briens of Bellvue Trace weekend golfing, shooting and fishing the Au Sable.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Keer, Kathy and Nancy, were ten days away from Kirkshire visiting her sister's family, the Philip Hutches of Baldwin, Long Island and taking excursions to Jones Beach and Coney Island.

The John Cairns of Pierce visited Cape Cod and New York City, "doing the town" while the children visited their grandparents for two weeks.

What's in Line for School Design

Members of the Michigan Association of School Boards and the Michigan Association of School Administrators will be treated to a preview of the architects' drawing boards of what is in store design-wise for schools and school facilities at their respective Association's first annual joint convention and exposition Sept. 14, 15 and 16 at Cobo Hall.

We have had a change in plans and find we seldom use our lovely home in Rudgate.

We're proud of it's custom construction and exceptional features, for instance, there are 5 Bedrooms and 4 baths, a butternut paneled activities room and a dream kitchen with Mutschler cabinet work.

The grounds were landscaped by Harry Klein and completely sprinklered. Off course the house is summer cooled, Trion filtered and there's build-in HiFi and Intercom.

You'll have magnificent views of the Detroit skyline from the walk-out patio on the lower level and you can walk to Cranbrook and Christ Church. Make an appointment to see this superb home by calling Brook at MI 4-6700.
