Campus News From Antioch

Two Antioch College students from Birmingham are currently working off-campus under the liberal arts college's study-plus-work plan of education.

The plan requires that all students, regardless of field of concentration, regularly supplement on-campus courses with off-campus experiences.

Freshman Dale Richardson, daughter of Mrs. Richard J. Willis of 979 Chesterfield, is employed as a salesgirl at Woodward and Lothrop department store, Washington, D. C., while Robert Sneed, second-year chemistry major and son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Sneed of 848 Madison, works as a technical trainee at Sinclair Refining Co., East Chicago, Ind.

SNEED, who finds that because of his work he may choose a career in chemical engineering, recently reported to the college that the job "gives me an excellent opportunity to work with engineers and observe the problems they encounter."

Miss Richardson, while she enjoys the job very much, reports that "I have now narrowed my choice of a career by one field—merchandising."

But even more important, the new Antiochian believes, "I'm learning what it's like to hold a full-time job" and be responsible for her own decisions.

A 1961 graduate of Seaholm High school, Miss Richardson began her Antioch career on July 9 under the college's full 12-month operating plan.

Sneed, who graduated from Seaholm High in 1960, also worked at the Sinclair Refining Company last spring.
