

Relatives Charter Bus For Family Dinner Trip

THE BEVERLYS—Mr. and Mrs. William Brewer and their son John attended an old fashioned Christmas dinner but arrived by the most modern type of transportation—chartered bus.

The Brewers drove to Flint Saturday where they boarded the bus with 23 other members of the family for a casafree trek to the Howard Sackler. Mrs. Brewer's brotherly home in Caro, Stryz year all the relatives got together for this festive occasion and have found the bus the perfect solution to the parking problem.

The Brewers were back on Riverside Monday in time to greet Brewer's mother, Mrs. Thomas Lang, when she arrived to spend the holiday with them.

Judges have been busy during the week looking for the home with the most eye-catching outdoor decorations. Each year the Greenfield

Beverly Hills Association awards prizes to members whose homes have been selected as having the best and most original displays.

Mr. and Mrs. William Goetterman of Elizabeth will have their daughter and son-in-law, Aliman and Mrs. Phillip Marotta, with them for the Christmas holidays. The Marottas arrived Dec. 19 from Charlotte, N.C. and will spend "new week" with the Goettermans before going on to their new base, Maguire Field, N. J.

The neighborhood bridge group on Locherle met recently for their monthly game at the home of Mrs. Harold Foxley. Those attending and counting high card points were Mrs. Wayne Brooks, Mrs. Frank Houser, Mrs. Ed Frank, Mrs. Albert LaCivita, Mrs. Elwood Totte, Mrs. Robert Dising and the hostess.

Over Christmas new Beverly Hills residents, the Richard J. Mullers on Woodrow will be entertaining Muller's parents Dr. and Mrs. F. F. Muller of Connecticut and a brother, J. Edward Muller of New York.

Back home on Arlington are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mountain and their two children Mark and Jane after enjoying a vacation at the Lago Mar in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. They visited Storyland then stopped over in St. Petersburg a night with an aunt, Mrs. A. Keller.

Beverly Hills folks raised their voices in song Friday night when they gathered round the bonfire at the Clair Durrill home on Lauderdale for the second annual Christmas sing. There was hot chocolate, cookies and lots of caroling to get everyone into the holiday spirit.

VALLEY WOODS—Mr. and Mrs.

John C. Moore 12 guests came for Christmas dinner and to admire the beautiful tree they had heard so much about. The gold tree was lit with 75 Italian lights and decorated with white satin balls. There were 50 white doves perched on the branches. The design was Mrs. Moore's idea and her proved quite a conversation piece.

The Williams Harmon of West-lucky will have their family together for the holiday dinner including Mrs. Harris' parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. L. Taylor and Mr. G. Taylor. Daughter Janice will be home from school for a reunion with the family and brother Ken, a student at Groves.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Goulder will have their daughter Mrs. Henry Tietze home for a few days. She flew in Saturday from Carson City, Nev. Married last summer, she is anxious to see her old friends and catch up on the news.

After a Christmas Eve family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Tomi of Smallwood Drive, son Nick was joined by a group of friends for dessert ending with the young people attending a midnight church service.

Recently Mrs. Kenneth Kittle of Westlady and co-hostesses Mrs. Charles Denel and Mrs. John Tessmar were hostesses to 14 neighbors at a coffee to introduce two new residents, Mrs. Pat Meinhardt and Mrs. Henry Bergsma.

WEST BEVERLY—Dr. Paul W. Rowe and Mrs. Rowe from Bay City were here to celebrate Christmas with his parents, the Warren Rowses of Beverly Road.

Robert Strand, son of Mr. and

That Christmas 1961 is a pleasant memory — And the children have settled down to breaking up the toys as fast as possible — And the family can sit down quietly (more or less) by themselves —

January

Is the Time to think seriously about your housing problems.

How many times in 1961 have you wished for an extra bedroom — or an Activities room large enough for all the children — or a small Den in which to get away from it all — or at least one more bathroom?

Maybe you've wanted more land around the house and a sense of freedom — or — maybe you're tired of cutting all that grass.

Whichever is your problem — come in and talk over with us what you need and want.

Housing is our business and we will be glad to help you
