

Spirit of Christmas Gets Permanent Lift

SOUTHFIELD—Nearest Christmas present we've heard of involves a case of giving not receiving—except for intangibles such as the satisfaction of a good deed. It all began when a customer at a Southfield beauty shop mentioned that women patients at the Pontiac State Hospital would enjoy having their hair set for Christmas. Style Rita Beauty Shop owner Margaret Clement mulled this over and decided if a hair set would be nice, a permanent would be even better. Hence, she and two of the operators, Nancy Whitman and Trudy Meisner, took one of their days off and spent a good many hours giving permanents to 20 patients, setting their hair and doing sets for another two women. It was such a satisfying experience to them that they are now planning a repeat.

CRANBROOK VILLAGE—Water skiing and boating, in fact sports in general, are enjoyed by newcomers Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. McGoough who moved to Fall River Road recently. They are former Oak Park residents. McGoough is a project engineer with Darin and Armstrong and is busily engaged in finishing work on his master's degree in business administration at the University of Detroit. The couple have two youngsters, Edward, 2, and Mary Beth, 1.

Better late than never department Little Cynthia and Christie Ugorowski celebrated their birthdays together not too long ago. Cynthia is now a big three and Christie, 2.

Christmas partying was also on the agenda when Mrs. Ugorowski entertained Rambling Road neighbors, all 16 of them members of the two social groups who meet monthly. The groups combine for a Yule do and enjoyed a gift exchange, along with holiday wishes.

UNIVERSITY OF Michigan Junior Jim Johnson, 20, is now president of Kappa Sigma fraternity. Jim was a 1959 graduate of Birmingham Shoemaker High School and is majoring at the university in business administration and psychology. He is the son of the Roscoe Johnsons of Autumn Lane who, incidentally, will host the Ralph Pitmans and their daughter, Robin, at Christmas dinner. The Pitmans live on Bainbridge Drive.

December Moving Day Adds to Christmas Rush

LATHRUP—A medal for valor should go to former Cambridge Village residents Mr. and Mrs. John Lefebvre who picked a close-to-Christmas moving day—Dec. 10. Taking it all in good spirit, they were busy helping family dachshunds, Chihuahuas, adjust to her new home on Somerset. The Lefebvres had lived on Lexington Parkway for almost eight years.

Their children are Dennis, 8, Valerie, 6, and young Charles, nine months. Lefebvre works out of the executive offices of Hygrade Food Products and is an accomplished woodworker—his wife says he completely finished the recreation room in their former home. She likes to read and sew.

Another medal should go to the Ernest Givens who are newly moved into the former Earl Poe residence on Bloomfield. Formerly of Farmington Township, they have two sons, Brian, 6, and Gary, 4. Father is an engineering coordinator with the tractor and implement division of Ford Motor Co.

The couple enjoy working with the junior high group at North Congregational Church, also help with camp counseling during the summer. Both play the piano and enjoy music.

Dec. 15 was the date chosen by the Mariners Group at Lathrup Community Congregational Church for their progressive dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nancarrow and the John Williamsons, were in charge of arrangements which included appetizers at the homes of five member couples, dinner at another five at the home of the Bernard Leshleys of Rochester.

Appetizers were served by the Chester Johns, William Allis, Robert Givins and Thomas Walls, all of Lathrup or Southfield, and also at the Robert Bockemuehls of Birmingham. Dinner was at the homes of Dr. and Mrs. Wendell Doering, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Forbush, Alfred Skyers, Edward Marvins, Alfred Skyers, who are also Lathrup or Southfield residents.

The progressive dinner is a traditional and favorite event of the Mariners.

Members of a sister team at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Lefstrom of Rainbow Drive are Carol, 22, and Barbara, 21, who are both officers in the Beta Tau chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma at the University of Detroit. Carol, who was recently elected secretary of the pledge class is a junior, majoring in sociology. Barbara, a senior, is keeper of the grades in the sorority.
