Lecture, Tea Highlights Meeting

First in a series of lectures on antiques, given by Louise Langlier, of Cleveland, took place recently in the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. Luther R. Leader. Tea followed the talk, proceeds from which are earmarked for the National Cathedral in Washington. Admiring an antique statuette are (from left), Mrs. Edward A. Proctor, Miss Langlier and Mrs. George Russell.

The Water You Drink Does Make a Difference

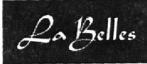

No two drinking waters are exactly alike. It is not likely that any two have exactly the same effect on your system. Good-tasting MOUNTAIN VALLEY WATER from the health area of Hot Springs, Ark., is used by thousands of people to help maintain excellent health. Still more drink it to aid in the treatment of arthritis, kidney and bladder symptoms. In any disorder, ask your doctor how much to drink daily.

Birmingham - Bloomfield Hills Society Notes

By JOYCE KLARR

What a really BIG week! Receptions for the Danish Ambassador, and various brides and grooms, country club dinners and dances, a hunt club show (with horses, naturally) grand opera planning sessions — and a NEW A. and P. opening!

Mrs. Robert Naudal of Dorchester heads a committee of civic minded local women who hope to bring opera to the school children of our town — or rather, bring the children to the opera.

At a meeting at her home the other a.m. we learned how the board of education and our schools' music teachers are co-operating in a unique effort to make Birmingham Bloomfield youngsters opera conscious. Hoping to see bus loads of students head for perhaps their first plunge into grand opera on the week beginning May 22, the committee will stimulate interest between then and now with records, slides, color filmstrips, and operaglyphs (narrations of background and plot) which are being issued by the Metropolitan opera guild.

Plans are underway for the high school level also. Mrs. Henry Ford has induced Karl Hans to give an opera explanatory program at Bloomfield Hills high school. All area students will be invited and must be accompanied by a parent. There will be much more on this later.

I've always been the "Unsinkable Molly Brown" type music lover, but these calls the other morning convinced me, among them Mrs. John H. Louder, Mrs. Robert A. Reid, Mrs. William H. Leeki, Mrs. Jack E. Savage, Mrs. Robert J. Hampson, Alvin Ingram, Mrs. Richard Dickenson, Mrs. James McPhail, Mrs. William Driver, Mrs. John Phelps, Mrs. Richard Russell, Mrs. John S. French and Mrs. Carl Sundberg.

More Music, Man

And since we're being so musical, we had better remind you of the Feb. 10 concert of the Detroit women's symphony orchestra at the Community arts auditorium Wayne state, featuring guest artists Rosemarie Much, mezzo-soprano and Enrico Labra, tenor. Excuse me while I go play the flip side of my latest Terry Gibbs.

Littlest League?

A little league that's growing bigger. That's the story of the Child research center league which conducts basic research into the causes of children's diseases.

Less than a year old, the league is preparing an informative brochure, organizing a speakers' bureau and is having its first fund raiser March 8 at a benefit performance of the Sound of Music. Workers include Mrs. Kenneth C. Davis, Mrs. John W. Butler, Mrs. James F. Carr and Mrs. John M. Pickell, Jr.

Surprise!

Mrs. F. E. Wilson chose the Bloomfield open hunt club as the setting for her husband's birthday party.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Girard entertained last week with dinner at the Bloomfield hills country club. Right now they are in Las Brisas in Alcapulco. Next week it will be Mexico city, and then back home.

RSVP

Mrs. Raymond F. Giffels entertained at a luncheon for her book review group and Mrs. John B. Poole has scheduled a series of three luncheons. Dr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Kemp have planned a series of small dinner parties.

Bird Watchers

State and Midwest champions gave an exhibition at the Birmingham badminton club last Monday night at the Cranbrook gym.

Deep Freeze

Local skiers at Osage last week end included only the most rugged. Baby, it was COLD, outside (19 below Friday night). The snow was fresh powder, however, and delightful. After all, what are iron pills and thermal underwear for, anyway?

Working their way through the blizzard we saw Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Bennett, they're spending a ski week at the club; Gordon Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. John Fauver, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frick, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perry, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Jayne, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Dahlberg, Mr. and Mrs. Alex McDunald, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pife, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Martin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. McGinnis, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. William Rooty and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burton.

Mr. Jack Stiles of Grand Rapids was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Kelley last evening. Mr. Stiles is a candidate for state Republican chairman, and among the many guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Derragh, Mrs. West Wright, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Shine, Mr. and Mrs. Tim King, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Egan, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Struck and Mr. and Mrs. Fran Loud.
