Joan Marie Boudreau Marries John M. Hyde

MRS. JOHN M. HYDE

Holy Name Church was the scene Saturday for the marriage of Joan Marie Boudreau to John Michael Hyde. The Rev. William Davidson performed the 11:30 o'clock ceremony.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Joseph Boudreau of Old Mill Road, Birmingham, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Hyde of Detroit.

THE BRIDE appeared in a gown of ivory delustrated satin designed with an empire effect bodice with pearl beading, a scooped neckline, three quarter length sleeves and a bell-shaped skirt with obi beaded panels at the back.

A Swedish crown of pearls secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of French roses in Camelia fashion with tiny rose leaves.

Attending the bride were Norma Jeanne Pettis, maid of honor; Eileen LeZotte and Elvie Marie Boudreau. They appeared in demure green chiffon velvet and elustrated satin gowns and carried white mums and ivy.

JAMES DAVID Hyde stood as best man and seating the guests were Paul Joseph Boudreau and John Francis Hyde.

Following the ceremony, guests were greeted at Oakland Hills Country Club.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Boudreau chose a princess style gown of sand beige with alencon lace with a peau de soie skirt.

Apothecary Low Boy $109.00

This Ethan Allen Apothecary Low Boy was inspired by the "traveling chest" of the itinerant peddler-apothecaries of Early New England. These chests were fitted to hold the drugs and "goodmother's herbs" that were the 17th century's answer to antibiotics.

This roomy 4-drawer Apothecary Low Boy (the 3 small drawers at top are ideal for storing the small items that tend to go astray so quickly) has all the charm of the original . . . and accents its clean lines with striking ceramic pulls. It's an ideal hostess piece—provides practical storage beautifully in living and family rooms.

For open stock Ethan Allen Early American furniture by Baumritter and all the charming unusual accessories that go so wonderfully well with Early American, come in and see our vast collection for every room in your home. You'll find our staff is well informed and most interested in helping you solve your decorating problem. You'll enjoy planning for a delightful future in the past!
