Low Temperatures— High Time for Skating

FRANKLIN—The Couples Club seems to know just how to make the very best of a situation. Near zero temperatures? A skating party, planned for Feb. 10 at 8 p.m. at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Swell on Indianwood Trail, the program makes reasonable provisions for the indoor type and takes reservations for cards will be included. Reservations should be made with chairmen of the month, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Miller of Yachon and Mrs. Leland McRoy of Greenbriar. And, indicating the vitality of this group—they're already making arrangements for a dinner-dance March 10 at System Glenn Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Day are in charge of details.

That Franklin is in a partying mood was proven conclusively Saturday as a record crowd of 295—attended the annual President's Ball at Birmingham Country Club. Though most everyone showed up for the cocktail hour preceding dinner, a pre-cocktail party for the past and present board of directors and their wives was held at president Gordon McAlpine's home on Ramsey Road. Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a barbecue outfit to McAlpine for his leadership the past year and his willingness to continue as titular head through the next eventful year.

They call it a "hotel campout"—or boy scout troop B-11 and their date, as they head for three nights at Sleeper State Park near Caseville—and heated cabins, this weekend. On Feb. 12 the troop will participate in Scout Sunday at services at the Franklin Community Church. Don McIntosh will receive his God and Country award.

On the evening of Feb. 13, parents and friends are invited to attend the winter court of honor at the Franklin Community Church. There are so many things we can't tell you about account No. 1007, opened at the Franklin branch of the Detroit Bank and Trust company about a month ago to help a Franklin friend. But, we can say, it's a thing to be proud of and supported. You're only to specify the bank personnel to know how well it is going and how much it means. Account 1007 is a good reflection of community affection and respect for a good neighbor. It mirrors the hope and the heart that sets these three and a half square miles apart from all the world, making it the biggest little village on the map.

Budding ballerinas, students of Miss Dolores Ruhl, proudest between Bloomfield Junior High School and Mayfair Nursery last Saturday and Sunday to learn all they could from a real ballet master, Peter Nelson of New York. He spent the weekend teaching them the fundamental choreography for the complete "Nut Cracker Suite". This ambitious undertaking is part of the elaborate preparation for the traditional spring recital Miss Ruhl is confident her pupils can achieve.

Heralded as wife-saver, the Imaginary Bazaar to be held Feb. 14 by the combined circles of the Franklin Community Church, is developing steam under the gentle persuasion of Mrs. Edward Green. Free-will offerings, which represent the time, talents, trips, temperaments and tedium usually characteristic of bazaar activity, will be contributed at the 1 p.m. service and tea.

The special program is featuring a choral group from the First Methodist Church of Farmington in an impressionistic effort, "Circle Beyond Fear" by Darius Leander Swann.

Religious Drama in Franklin Tonight

FRANKLIN—"Man Seeks Expression", a program of choral music and religious drama featuring the Touring Choir and Wesley Players of the Wesley Foundation, Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, Ill., will be presented at 8:30 tonight at the Franklin Community Church.

Choral selections span several moods, from Negro spirituals to contemporary compositions.
