chard performed the ceremony. Mrs. Asbury is the former Judith Ann Huntwork.

Parents of the bride and bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Huntwork of Erie Drive, Orchard Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Herschel O. Asbury of Waterford Township.

POINTE DE Lyon lace finished with seed pearls accented the portrait neckline of the bride's gown of white silk peau de soie styled with a full circular cathedral train. A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. Her bouquet consisted of white roses and ivy.

Patricia Huntwork attended her sister as maid of honor. Sharon Boyce and Maria Jackson served as bridesmaids. Their ball-skirted dresses of silver green satin were worn with matching satin shoes and hats. They carried bouquets of Mary Jo roses. The honor maid's flowers were Hibbard roses.

ON THE ESQUIRE side were Paul Johnson of Milford, best man; with Richard Whitmer and David Struble seating the guests.

Leaving for the eastern honeymoon and her future home in Cheektowaga, N. Y., the new Mrs. Asbury was wearing a pale blue wool sheath, matching hat and brown accessories.

Top Makeup Artist Signed For Spring Fashion Show

Twenty fashion models will parade in 30 foot ramp to show the charming colors and lines of today's fashions when the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital luncheon and fashion show is held March 17 at the Elks Temple in Pontiac. A few women are sponsoring the affair, with proceeds to go toward a blood machine for the use of the public.

President of the Blood Group committee in charge is Mrs. F. O. Renshaugh, who reports that an heirloom costume that won first prize in a style show in 1840, will be a feature of the parade of fashion.

A MIST of red velvet curtain and 100 flowering shrubs will open the show. Suits, hats, costume jewelry, printed silks and "the little black dress" will be shown in the flatteringly feminine shades of emerald, turquoise, pink, willow greens and carnations red.

Fashion show committee members include Mesdames Sue Davidson, Robert Tricker, Fred Cockle, Cap Wright, Clifford Dick, Joseph Spadafore and Austin Sansone.

In charge of the makeup will be Leaf Bronn who has worked with such hostesses as Miss Norway, Miss France and Miss Universe.
