

Plans Include Display Of Carving

LATHRUP — An exhibition of wood carvings executed by area members of the National Wood Carvers Association will be on display in the showcase at Lathrup School for two weeks, beginning Friday. The exhibit is sponsored by the Lathrup Recreation Commission.

The commission has announced schedules for several new classes. Registrations for Wednesday ballet classes will be taken at the second meeting of the class at Birney School. The class meets from 4 to 5 p. m.

Monday ballet lessons begin March 1 with registration at 3:30 p. m. at Lathrup School, in the kindergarten room. Classes will start at 3:45 p. m. Children's creative dancing registrations will begin Saturday with classes beginning March 4 at Birney, with the kindergarten and first grade boys and girls will meet at 9:30 a. m.; third and fourth grade girls meet at 10:25 a. m.; and preschool boys and girls from 11:30 a. m. to noon.

BATON TWIRLING classes will begin March 1 in Lathrup School gym from 3:45 to 4:45. Separate classes for experienced and beginning students will be held if enrollment is sufficient.

Mrs. David P. Anderson is accepting registrations for a ladies modern dance class which begins April 13, from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m. at Lathrup school. The second series of adult ballroom dancing lessons will begin March 1 at Birney School from 8:30 to 10 p. m. Mrs. John Heaton is in charge of registrations.

Registration cards for Lathrup Village Little League baseball will be available March 25, with the first try-outs April 8.

Lathrup Opens Bid On Tree Spraying

LATHRUP—Two sets of bids were opened at Monday's council meeting, both of them relating to tree spraying in Lathrup.

Material for the 1961 city tree spraying program will be purchased from the Michlin Chemical Corp. who submitted a low bid of 79.9 cents per gallon and 93.2 cents per gallon for two formulas, used in spraying for Dutch Elm disease.

No action was taken on bids from five other companies for spraying on a per tree basis. The bids were secured for the benefit of citizens wishing to protect trees on their property from Dutch Elm disease and leucanium scale.

City administrator Jerald Stone will make a recommendation to the council on the latter bids, following investigation by the forestry advisory committee.

Want ads cannot be accepted after 5 p. m. each Tuesday.

Set the Poker Table With Prime Steaks

LATHRUP—Chef and co-champ of the local carpentry division, Joseph Swain presided at the grill as eight of his friends gathered for a stag party Friday at the Swain residence on Bungalow Drive.

The basement recreation room was the scene of the prime steak event. According to his better-half, the meal included such gourmet specialties as wild rice and mushrooms in wine — prepared, if you please, by the man of the house.

As for the wood-working bit, it seems that Swain, with the ardent support and assistance of friend and neighbor Dave Anterson, built a mahogany poker table, complete with niches for glasses and chips.

Naturally, it was initiated at the party.

Grandparents for the second time, Mayor and Mrs. Richard N. Cogger are mighty proud of their first grandson, James Douglas Lay, born Feb. 9. His parents are the James Lays of Port Huron and his mother is Carolyn.

The Coggers are still smiling over the recent birth of little Pamela Ann Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Martin, Jr. who has cooed her way into her grandparent's hearts.

The group is sponsoring an evening at the Ice Capades. It will be at the Olympia in Detroit.

Proceeds go to a special project of the auxiliary, the maintenance of a four-bed ward at the hospital. The two ladies are ready to give you any and all information about tickets.

Special events were recent dances given by two clubs in Lathrup. The Village Dance Club met as they usually do, at the Maplewood Club and voted their Valentine-motif and evening's fun quite the best of February events on the calendar.

Lathrup Supper Dance Club also held its always successful monthly dance party with square dancing and a hearty and flowery theme, recently.

Just back from a three weeks' holiday, that included four days in New York and a cruise aboard the Empress of England, Mrs. Elmer W. Shaver reports a wonderful trip. An added pleasure was an opportunity to visit friends in Curacao, in the Netherlands Antilles, in whom she became acquainted while on a European jaunt last year.

S'field Crash Causes Death

SOUTHFIELD—A two-car collision on Telegraph Road near Northwestern Highway early Saturday morning took the life of a 24-year-old Detroit man, John L. Wheeler.

The driver of the other car, David C. Forney, 61, also of Detroit, was admitted to William Beaumont Hospital, suffering multiple cuts and bruises. He was discharged Sunday.

FORNEY told police he was driving north on Telegraph when Wheeler's car, heading south, crossed over the island in the center of the road. Forney said he could not avoid the collision.

The right door of Wheeler's car was forced open by the impact and he was thrown halfway out, his head striking the pavement.

The victim died at Beaumont Hospital less than an hour after the accident.

Vacationing Pair Try Split-Level Swimming

CRANBROOK VILLAGE — Swimming with a flair at Dunns Falls, Jamaica, is quite an experience, according to Dr. and Mrs. Richard Seontine who returned recently from a two-week plus holiday. Different levels of the falls offer rapid thrills for the young-in-heart and the strong-of-limb.

The Seontines included a few days at Miami on the southern jaunt and the doctor also attended a medical convention.

And Pam and Donna Seontine, age 6 and 3, respectively, were hostesses to 24 little boys and girls at a gay Valentine party, ice cream and cake, of course, were on the agenda and a real grown-up dance contest — with prizes all round, the latter strictly small fry style.

The coffee pot will rest for a while now that primary election time is past but Robert Landers, Southfield council candidate, met lots and lots of people at the neighborly get-togethers.

The John Semivans hosted 20 friends at one gathering and Dr. and Mrs. Richard Seontine got in under the wire with another coffee Friday night. At the Semivans' "meet-your-candidates" party, an additional attraction was majority candidate James S. Clarkson.

Wish we'd caught the Peter Masons before they moved back to Flint, their former residence. They pulled up their stakes at their Autumn Lane home not too long ago, after living in Cranbrook for two years. Mason owns an insurance agency in Flint and was active in the Cranbrook Village Property Owners Association number two while a resident hereabouts.

About the younger set: Boy Scouts from Birmingham Troop

1801 spent a recent Saturday at Bald Mt. working on their first class badges and local scouts Jeff Linstrom, Paul Gabler, Harry Kirk and Doug Semivans were right there doing their bit.

More recently, the same four participated with fellow troop members in an overnight campout in Cranbrook, working on yet another badge and wowing up a night with a pancake breakfast at the Lloyd Gablers' — mother last count, but they sure can eat, she discovered anew.

Brownies from Troop 75 will head for Greenfield Village Saturday evening for an all-night stay in the dormitory, dining at the inn and, of course, swimming — plus all the sights. Their leader is Mrs. Ralph Pitman; Mrs. Robert Durward is co-leader.

Ten mothers Mrs. William Sargent, Mrs. Archie Craig, Mrs. Edmund Graham and Mrs. Clyde Blasler — the latter's husband is Cubmaster — did a powerful lot of organizing for the Blue and Gold dinner of Pack 1685. It was held at Northbrook School Friday night.
