Bernard Hagen, 20, 1829 Hazel, suffered cuts and burns of both hands New Year's Day when a tear gas grenade he was examining exploded. He was treated at Beaumont Hospital and discharged. Hagen is home on leave from Fort Gordon, Ga.

Photos Relate History of Community House

Opened in 1923

Here is the Birmingham Community House as it stood in 1924. The frame home was officially opened as the Community House in April, 1923. at the southwest corner of Bates and Maple

Laying the Cornerstone in 1929

In April, 1929, the cornerstone for the present Community House at Bates and Townsend was laid. Among those taking part in the ceremony were (from left) Mrs. Charles J. Shain (with trowel in hand), one of the founders; Mrs. R. H. Mann, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Henry Whalen, recording secretary; and (at extreme right) Fred D. Farrar, of the architectural firm of Muehlmann and Farrar, who designed the Community House.

Playing Billiards in 1930

This picture of boys playing billiards was taken in the Room for Boys in the Community House basement in October, 1930, seven months after the new, two-story building was opened.

Board of Appeals Holds Hearing On Zoning Changes

LATHRUP — A public hearing on the proposed multiple dwelling zoning ordinance, amending zoning ordinance 18 (as amended), was held Wednesday evening before the Zoning Board of Appeals. The proposed ordinance includes as for three specific areas. They are for one block on 12 Mile, west of Southfield Rd. from Gay Place to Bloomfield and one block on 12 Mile from Bloomfield to Santa Barbara, both areas earmarked for R-2 zoning under the proposal. A third petition requests a change to transitional zoning for one block on 12 Mile

9 CONVERTIBLE BONDS For Purchase Now

Convertible bonds have two major investment appeals: limited risk of price decline and the possibility of important price appreciation. Our Bond Bulletin examines the special attractions offered by convertible bonds and explains why increasing demand for them is expected over the coming months. Our Bulletin recommends 9 convertible bonds in which risks are limited, yet whose prices will reflect any increase in the price of the common stocks into which they are convertible. These bonds provide current yields up to 4.7%, and are selling at reasonable prices in relation to conversion parity and investment value. For your copy of this Bulletin, now available to investors, simply mail the coupon below.
