

Most people just want to be left alone, especially "in the land of the free and the home of the brave." Most people want to live their own circumscribed lives, which include family, a few friends and acquaintances, their home, with time for some recreation. The problems of learning their role in self-government, in learning how wisely to vote, are pretty much neglected.

No matter what you have to sell, Birmingham Eccentric classified ads will do the best job for you. The cost is low, they are easily prepared and usually bring desired results.

SOUTHFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

Pocket Book Fair Encourages Reading

By Judy Wuestwald and Diane Exworthy
Special Writers

The establishment of a new book store at Southfield is one of the many current student council activities.

Through the news agency, the student council is purchasing pocket-books to sell to students. On Jan. 13, a pocket-book fair was held to introduce to the students the types of books that will be available.

Mr. David Moscow, English teacher, introduced the idea to pocket books will promote more reading on the part of the students. It is my intention to interest the students in forming reading libraries of their own.

THE ANNUAL talent assembly sponsored by the student council will be held on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Southfield auditorium. Judy Parker, student council vice president, is in charge of the production.

THE TEXAS COWGIRLS, professional girls basketball team, played the Southfield High coaches on Jan. 18 and the Varsity Club of Southfield played the Farmington Varsity Club on the same night.

Proceeds of the two games went to the financing of the Varsity Club scholarship fund. The boy who has done the most for the Varsity Club and the school in athletics will receive a $200 scholarship.

The Texas Cowgirls, "Champions of the Female World," have played such famous teams as the Green Bay Packers, Michigan State Rose Bowl Champs, the Harlem Globe Trotters, and the Hawaii 60th Staters. The Texas Cowgirls have won 70 per cent of their games in the past 10 years.

Semi-Finalist

Sue Muir, 16, 775 N. Valley Chase, Birmingham, has been selected as one of 16 semi-finalists in the Miss Achievement of 1961 contest in southeastern Michigan. The young business woman, dubbed Miss Birmingham, will represent the local Junior Achievement Business Center at the Miss Achievement finals in Detroit Friday.

Bigge. The cast will be chosen and announced sometime next week.

THE JUNIOR CLASS has been preparing a class variety show in order to raise money for its treasury. Out of 14 acts, only seven were chosen. Advisors of the junior class are Mrs. Saylor and Mrs. Baumgartner. Sophomores are also planning a variety show to be presented as an all-school assembly.

SKIING at Wallon Hills during the week-end of Jan. 27 will be the highlight of the season for the Ski Club. Bus will leave school that Friday at 4:30 p.m. and return Sunday night.

Students will stay at Silver Birch Lodge.

GROVES HIGH

Greek Satire Peps Up Assembly and Team

BETH KOENIG and JAN TARACKS
Special Writers

Last Friday, Groves had an all school pep assembly in the gymnasium. The purpose of the assembly was to promote school spirit for the Friday night basketball game at Zoumalis Christian.

Mrs. Sharrard's Latin III class presented a short play which took the audience back in history several thousand years. When the curtain rose the audience found several gods and goddesses meeting on Mt. Olympus.

They had been requested by Groves students to help their basketball team win the coming game. The gods came through, with Hercules, played by John Nyland, giving the team strength. Mercury, played by Barb Harling, giving the team speed; and Minerva, played by Lee Eyer, giving the team wisdom.

Finale of the play came when the gods and goddesses led the basketball players on the gym floor with oversized muscles and wings attached to their arms and legs. Besides a commentator, the other gods and goddesses represented were Apollo, Bacchus, Cupid, Diana, Jupiter and Juno.

OSCAR WILDE'S "The Importance of Being Earnest" has been chosen by the Dramatics Club for its spring presentation. Tryouts were Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday under the direction of Miss

Olsen's Market

THE MEAT of our MESSAGE

Some of our well-traveled customers insist that Olsen's is the only market of its kind in the whole 50 States. They mean, where else can you get Spickled pigs hocks, Alex Parks' habibi-forming, farm-style sausage and other meat specialties made to our old-time, and somewhat secret, recipes? They say also that this is one of the very few butcher shops left, dedicated to give customers of discriminating taste what they want, quality first, price afterwards, but within reason. Thus we are obligated to stock only the top qualities of meat, and butcher them expartry. We can fashion a crown roast of pork fit for a King, roll and stuff a leg of fresh pork, sculpture a two-inch steak, or bone a white fish, into commanding objects of culinary art, without batting an eye. Come in and see for yourself—no free catnap, but we will give you some of our own recipes.

POOR MAN'S BEEF BANQUET 69¢ lb.

Fresh, lean shoulder of top quality beef, ground medium fine, no scraps or salt used. They are rolled in our special tomato bread crumbs. A nice taste treat, so tender you can eat them with a fork.

FANCY GROCERIES, FRUITS and VEGETABLES

ALSO IMPORTED HAND-WOVEN BASKETS IN MANY STYLES and other items of attractive characteristics, not usually found in super-markets or ordinary stores.

Where CUSTOMER CONSIDERATION comes first!

BIRMINGHAM SALAD Baked ham, green peas, corn, baked beans, carrots, dressing and delicate spices. Ready to serve. Ideal for sandwiches, large crowd for dad's lunch or family ones for teas and luncheons.

Kingswood School

Students Hear Duo Pianos In Program

By BETSY WRIGHT
Special Writer

Last Tuesday evening, Jan. 24, Kingswood was hostess to one of the programs in the Cranbrook Music Guild's concert series. The production, featuring the duo pianos of Alfred and Herbert Tullshiek, was presented in the auditorium and was open to all who wished to attend. Usually programs in this series are held at Booth House and only members of the Guild may attend, but once a year a concert such as the last is held at Kingswood, where the 12 students who are members of the Cranbrook Music Guild served as ushers. The residence of Harry D. Hoey, headmaster of Cranbrook School, was the scene of an enjoyable tea Sunday afternoon, Jan. 22. Seniors of Kingswood and Cranbrook were invited to attend. Each year the Hoey's give four separate open houses for grades 9-12, at which it is hoped the two schools may become better acquainted. Replies have already been received by five girls who have applied for next summer abroad with the Michigan Council of Churches.

Juniors Martha Foren, Susie Mays, Denise Pauley and Betsy Wright, and seniors, Margie Greaves, will spend June, July and August with families in Western Europe. The exact country of each girl is not known as yet. Applications, incidentally, may still be sent to the Council for next summer abroad.
