Milky Way Lights Up Summer Sky

ANN ARBOR—The Milky Way, studied with stories and legends, will light up the summer nights, a University of Michigan astronomer says. It comes into good view in the early evening hours, rising almost parallel to the eastern horizon. "This giant glowing band of remarkable variety and beauty spans the sky from north to south, rising higher, and higher as the later night hours and the summer progress," explains Associate Prof. Hazel M. Loeb.

"It was a boy," Mrs. Theodore DuCharme of Birwood reported to Mrs. Robert Knapp's first baby, Robert Thomas.

Her sister's family, the Raymond, Carakof of Detroit, invited to use the DuCharme home and pool during their absence, hosted a dinner and splurge party for the R. G. Carters before their move to Birmingham.

Other guests were the Paul Stockers and William MacLachlans of Buckingham and the Donald Richards, Philip A. Halls and T. E. Naches of Birwood.

The Philip A. Halls of Birwood are to be congratulated on the June 29 birth of a third daughter, Amy Lee.

Betty Baker, daughter of Mrs. Hammond D. Baker of Auburn Drive, will be in Detroit on Aug. 23. As a member of Mrs. Josephine Cutter's special party she is touring England, Scandinavia, Italy, France and Spain for 10 weeks this summer. The group flew from Montreal but returns via New York.

Former villager Patty Wells of Manhasset, Long Island, arrives tomorrow for a week's visit with her good friend Sharon Bross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bross of Sheridan.

The Beverly Hills Athletic Club was a favorite retreat for houseguests of the Thomas Ralston of Beechwood. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kenning came from LaGrange Park, Ill. for a five-day visit.

The John Capinjala of Verona Circle, who move to Pittsburgh shortly, took time out to celebrate her parent's golden wedding anniversary recently. Mr. and Mrs. Ward Peck of Lecherie and close friends were invited to dinner in town last Saturday followed by a small party at their daughter's home.

Young Bob Capinjala has already said his good-byes at a party given for him by Gary Talpois of Auburn Drive. After an afternoon of bowling, the boys returned to the Talpois home for a backyard barbecue.

Though Mrs. John Talpois planned the party on 24-hour notice, she claimed it wasn't hard. She also packed Nancy off to camp, faced a family birthday dinner for 10-year-old Jim, and took time for her monthly charity luncheon and serving desserts for 30 at Detroit's old-people's center.

Dr. and Mrs. Roswell G. Burroughs of Auburn Drive have made quick trips to Utica, N. Y. and Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. recently but still insist they have yet to take a "tan" vacation.

The Fred Calkins of Sheridan took a week to visit St. Anne de Beaupre and other shrines on the way to Quebec and Montreal with the Earl Gaultiers of Birmingham.

The Robert C. Servis family of Arlington visited in Brown County, Ind. recently.
