Optimistic Installation

will be expected to secure copies upon applying for a building permit.

Village Attorney Wendell Brown apprized the council of the disposition of the suit by Harold Greenland against the village.

HE REPORTED that Ordinance 6 for zoning had withstood its first court test. Heard recently by Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams, the zoning was declared constitutional. The writ by Greenland was dismissed with costs amounting to $15.

Zoning suits brought against the village by developer George Wellington Smith have been advanced to court about July 15, Brown advised the council.

Strawberry Festival To Be On Village Green

FRANKLIN—Though life isn't yard, complete with posters, to separate their neighborhood friends from a little fresh cash. Obviously she'll still have to be subsidized by Mama, but it sure has kept her as busy as camp when it starts June 19.

Franklin families and their friends will congregate on the green about 3 p.m. for conversation and a fresh berry and ice cream concoction. At 4 p.m., Dr. Conrad Lam will conduct a program of stirring band music.

Organized about two years ago, the Franklin band has been meeting more or less faithfully every Monday night for practice. They have also performed publicly in the village and in neighboring community functions so listeners can expect an enjoyable Sunday afternoon.

Sgt. Richard William Currin will graduate with honors this Sunday from Howe Military academy in Indiana. His family, the Norman Currins of Captain's Lane and the Robert Currins of Southfield will be present to see Dick receive his diploma.

At Howe five years, Dick now plans to attend Adrian. An active member of the national Forensic League, Dick also played varsity sports and belonged to the school drama group.

The George Huffman's of Scenic, en masse, descended upon Annapolis last week to see son George, Jr., graduate as an ensign. Mrs. D. J. Crawford of Woodlore joined other proud aunts who joined the group to attend all the June Week ceremonies at the Naval Academy.

Bride-elect Kitty Ann Hinnan will be honored at a miscellaneous shower Saturday at the home of Mrs. Margaret Woodburn on Telegraph. Contestees are Mrs. John Hill, Mrs. William Hyland and Mrs. Fred Worden.

Leadership certainly runs in the J. T. Hildebrand family on S. Cromwell. Son Jack has returned home from Notre Dame University where he was elected vice-president of next year's tennis club.

Daughter Pat, is due home soon from her studies at Cole Mt. of St. Joseph of Ohio. She was recently elected president of the sophomore class.

And youngest daughter Barbara, student at Marion High School announced she was made secretary of her class.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Mitchell have returned from a three-week trip to the northwest, where they attended the graduation of their daughter Judith from the University of Washington.

Martha Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill of Romsey, graduated from Purdue last Sunday. Martha will teach next fall at the new Farmington Junior High School.

Robert Treadway of Franklin Court Drive receives his diploma from Cornell this coming Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Odle of Adair court entertained the staff of the Cranbrook Institute of Science at their home last Saturday. The dinner party was to honor Mrs. Arthur Lougee, retiring director of design, with whom Mrs. Odle has worked for the past year.

Courtney Davis is working her way through summer camp, spurred to noble endeavor by the good examples set for her by collegiate brother Rog and her sister Jill, who graduates this week from Seaborn High. Courtney figured ahead of time to stay late tuition by filling a hot water bottle with water and using it as a punching bag—at so much a punch.

She and Mark Alterreize of Carol Road have contrived several interesting gimmicks in the Davis back-

S'field Art Head Shows Graphics

SOUTHFIELD — Watercolors, stichings and oil paintings by former student at Cranbrook Academy of Art will be shown at L'Atelier, 1838 Livernois, Detroit, from 2 to 6 p.m., June 11 through June 21.

Artist Paul Kemp is a native of New Mexico. He taught in the West and exhibited his graphics widely there. He received his M.F.A. at Cranbrook in 1960. He plans to return to the West to teach and paint this Fall.

This is the last show of the Spring season at L'Atelier, a gallery under direction of Iona Alshuler, daughter of Dr. Ira M. Alshuler, 18236 Midway, Southfield.

THE GALLERY will be open during the summer to show new work by regular L'Atelier artists.
