Romney and O'Brien In Con-Con Race

George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., and William O'Brien, former campaign manager for Gov. John B. Swainson, who is mapping strategy for Romney's opponent in the con-con race, William O'Brien, Clawson attorney. "Romney's a pretty impressive candidate from Oakland County's 5th legislative district, surprised party circles by calling for reappointment of the state senate on a "balanced rather than a geographic basis."

ROMNEY THEN WENT ON

ROMNEY THEN WENT ON to say that he agreed completely with the position taken by Dr. James K. Pollack, head of the University of Michigan political science department and GOP con-con candidate. "Discussions of this type, being held throughout the state, will increasingly bring a better appreciation of representative democracy," Romney said. "Romney said that a constitutional convention will present an unprecedented opportunity to unite Michigan by no means assured," he said. "According to Romney the root of Michigan's problems is unity. "WE HAVE BECOME divided because we have assumed that separate interests are greater than our common interests," Romney said.
