CRANBROOK SCHOOL

Cranbrook Honors Outstanding Grads

By DOUGLAS SMITH
Special Writer

The annual awards night was held Friday at Cranbrook School in the Alumnae Court. The ceremony honors those boys who have distinguished themselves socially, academically and athletically.

Preceding the program, the club boys gave their final concert under the direction of Mr. Robert Bates. He will be at Christ Church Cranbrook as organist and director of the choir next year.

The program was opened by Headmaster Harry D. Hoer. Addresses were given by Mr. Edward H. Leggett, chairman of the Cranbrook School board of directors, and by Mr. Fred Campbell, who ended his career as athletic director at Cranbrook this year after 15 years.

THE "C" CLUB award, given to the senior who contributed the most in spirit, sportsmanship and ability to the athletic life at Cranbrook, went to Tom Demrick.

The art medal, for the senior who has done the most outstanding work in the arts, went to Art Glick.

IN THE LITERARY department, many contributions were recognized. The Brook Medal, for the retiring editor-in-chief, went to Joe Wheeler. Next year's editor will be Tom Bennett.

The Crane medals, for the retiring editors-in-chief, went to Joel E. Cohen, Matthew W. Stolper, James W. Plopa and Thomas N. Zaveloff. Next year's editor is Norman France.

The opus medal, for the retiring editor-in-chief, went to Jeffrey Mitchell; next year's editor will be Michael Barone. A special publication medal is awarded for the large task of photographic work for the school publications. This year that award went to Kenneth Chick.

ERGASTERION, the school's drama club, gives silver and gold pins to boys for their participation in drama work during the year.

Silver pins were awarded to Louis Beer, Mike Hilder, Larry Howe, Al Kentis, Bill MacLachlan and Henry Weil.

Gold pins were awarded to Fred Roth and Rick Strong. Next year's officers of the Cze Club are Fred Roth, president, and Henry Weil, vice-president.

THE MEMBERS OF THE rifle team, which competes in Junior Club Pistol Matches of the National Rifle Association, were Andy Good, Tom Demrick, Jay Beste, Ed Gage and Terry Lamm.

For the highest scores in the standing and prone positions, going to Jay Beste for third place, a silver medal to Tom Demrick for second place, and a gold medal to Andy Good for first place.

IN THE MUSIC department of Cranbrook, officers of the glee club this year were Ted Williams and George Martin, and for next year will be Barney Crouse and Ted Lerchen.

The officers of the band for this year were John Cuff and Brit Gordon, and for next year will be Richard Baird and David Schultz.

THE RENNSLAER Polytechnic Institute of Troy, New York, offers a special medal to that boy in the senior class who shows promise in the field of engineering and who has achieved distinction in science and mathematics. The prize this year went to Blake McDowell.

The Cranbrook history award, made possible by the gift of Cranbrook alumna James Prowse, went to Richard Katzman in Modern European history, and to Gregg Carr and Matt Stolper in United States history.

MEMBERS OF THE graduation class who have won college scholarships are Thomas Anderson, appointed to West Point Military Academy; Gregg Carr and Jeffrey Mitchell, regents alumni scholarships to the University of Michigan; George Martin, the Daniel Webster honorary scholarship to Dartmouth College; John Ogden, an honorary scholarship to Harvard University; Robert Hughes and Joel Cohen, National Merit Scholarships.

The Morris P. Tilley award, to the senior who writes the best scholarly paper, went this year to

Worth Talking About

As the culmination of a project undertaken by the Mothers' Club of Marian High School, Mrs. Sidney McKenna presents a check for $5,000 to school Principal Mother Mary Aquin at the school's recent annual May crowning and luncheon. The check represents the final payment on the school's language laboratory, undertaken by the mothers' group a year ago.

Joel Cohen for his senior thesis.

CRANBROOK AWARDS a book gift certificate to the student in each of the first five forms who has made the best academic average.

Form I winner was a tie at 94 between Thomas Elliott and Michael Muirhead. Form II was Peter Elliott at 88.80. Form III was Robert Taggart at 94.81. Form IV was Richard Katzman at 92.89. Form V was Linn Hobbs at 93.70.

The boy who has maintained the best academic average during the senior and junior years at Cranbrook, the school gives an award, a silver Cranbrook medal. This year the award went to Joel Cohen.

THE FACULTY SENIOR award, to that senior, not a prefect, who in the opinion of the faculty, has made the greatest total contribution to Cranbrook, went to William Thompson.

The senior in the opinion of the faculty, who has made the greatest total contribution to Cranbrook went to the head prefect of this year, Jeffrey Fisher.

The chairman of this year's student cabinet has been George Martin. The chairman-elect for next year is Brit Gordon.

THE NEW PREFECTS are for the Lower School: Richard Baird, Thomas Bennett, David Napier, Gregory Thomson and John Jacoby. Regular prefects are Esed Bailey, John Dibble, Brian O'Shaughnessy, Alan Wilkinson and Harry Butler. Senior prefects are Brit Gordon, Lawrence Hard, Ted Lerchen, and Barney Crouse.
