

Sally Weckler Bows to Society

Bloomfield Hills only debutante of the season, Sally Weckler made her bow to society at a dinner dance last Wednesday at the Detroit Country Club.

She was presented by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weckler, 1780 Hammond Court.

The main dining room of the club was a cool bower of evergreens for the occasion. Clumps of white birch trees interspersed with bright red-blossomed rhododendrons contrasted with the green background.

A hundred and fifty members of the younger set, many from the Birmingham area, along with 25 friends of the Wecklers, were guests.

HERE FOR THE EVENT were the debutante's grandmother, Mrs. W. C. Espach of Indian Head, Md., and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. Weckler of Houston. Her godmother, Mrs. Henrik Svien, accompanied by Mrs. Svien, came from Rochester, Minn.

Two of Sally's friends, Suzanne Hapke from California and Hanley Bird of Denver, Colo., enjoyed a week of festive life with the debutante guest, climaxed by the coming-out event.

For her debut, Sally chose an elegantly simple floor-length ball gown of white peau de soie. The scoop neckline and the hem were accented with crossed silk bands. She carried an arm bouquet of white lilies, stephanotis and ivy.

HER ESCORT was Lawrence DeWitt, son of the Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, suffragen Episcopal bishop of Michigan, and Mrs. DeWitt. She is a graduate of Kingswood school.
