

Attends Reading Conference at MSU

Jane Ward, teacher-librarian at Huron Junior High, served with the panel "Through Critical Thinking" at the fifth annual Reading Association conference at Michigan State University Thursday and Friday of last week. Miss Ward has been associated with Dr. Harry Hahn president of the Michigan Reading Association and Dr. Elizabeth Drews, of Michigan State University, working in areas of reading and critical thinking, for more than four years. Her work in the areas of research techniques, critical thinking and creative expression are a corollary to a recent statement by Superintendent Otis Dickey, "Expansion of contacts for university assistance and cooperation in providing acceleration opportunities for more talented students—encourage additional emphasis on inductive and analytic thinking," Dickey said.

FOR AND ABOUT TODAY'S YOUTH
SEAHOLM HIGH Annual Clothing Drive Will Aid Children

By VEE VOELKER, Special Writer
Seaholm High School has once more answered the plea, made by the Save the Children Federation, for the 19th annual clothing drive. Since 1942, clothing has been collected for needy children throughout the United States. This year the need in the Southern Appalachian Mountain region is truly desperate.

Seaholm has been participating in this drive for five years, and each year the students have given it their full support. Cecce Smith, Seaholm's Save the Children Federation chairman, worked diligently on the drive. She reported that a total of 64 bags of clothing were collected, with only two homes not participating.

EACH YEAR the "Piper," Seaholm's yearbook, presents the outstanding seniors who have contributed the most to the school and the senior class. This year 10 students were nominated by the senior class in popular voting. They are Carolyn LeVan, Patty Mason, Holly Shuler, Becky Black, Sharon Stokes, Mosby Harvey, Stew Harley, Ken McGruther, Mike Morden and Steve Jacobson.

B'FIELD HILLS JUNIOR HIGH 'Pals' Get Pictures For Bulletin Board

By JUDY RASKIN and LEE MARSHALL, Special Writers
The school newspaper, the "Sentinel," is running a baby-picture contest to see who can guess the largest number of pictures from a few clues as to the identity of the person. The staff usually obtains the pictures from "senior" friends with the cooperation of mothers.

The students, not supposed to know about it, are utterly speechless when Mama's favorite snapshot of Junior turns up on the bulletin board in the student lounge. But, alas, by the time they realize what has been going on, it's too late to do anything about it. Junior, it just looks like you'll have to dig a hole and crawl into it for the rest of the semester.

A TRAGEDY occurred in Europe on Jan. 24, 1961. But even though it was far across the ocean, it had quite a bearing on Junior High students. Calogero Ailetto, our five-year-old Italian orphan contracted diphtheria, and not being able to get to a doctor-in-time, died. This brought up a sad problem for the Student Council and the Foster Parent's Plan agency. The agency told us in a letter that we

Country Day Students Get Art Awards

By CINDY GEISLER, Special Writer

Blue ribbon finalists were Margaret Ploch and Patti Richter, Nancy Booth, Virginia Larges, Margaret Ploch, Patti Richter, Nicoli Russell and Becky Wild received gold key awards.

THE SENIORS are bustling and scurrying to complete the plans for the yearbook. Camera shutters have been clicking at unexpected

Wagner Named To Help Judge Editorial Contest

Ross Wagner, principal of Seaholm High School will be one of five judges in the 1961 editorial contest sponsored by the Women's Advertising Club of Detroit and an area newspaper. A Bloomfield Hills resident, Mrs. Patricia Lawrence, 1301 Trowbridge Road, is chairman of the contest. Among the committee members is Carol LeVaque, 2900 Lahser Road.

Suburban and out-state area high school students are eligible for the first time in the contest's 15-year history.

The winner of the first prize essay on "Advertising: A Force for Democracy" will be awarded a trip to Washington, D. C. The local winning essay will be submitted for competition in the national contest, sponsored by the Advertising Federation of America.

WINNERS WILL be honored at an awards banquet in the Veterans Memorial Building, March 27. Deadline for receipt of entries is midnight, Saturday. Any high school boy or girl is eligible.

moments for the past several weeks. DURING MISS Sallie's absence, the morning chapel service has been conducted by Mrs. Gunnar Karlstrom and John Poppletone, and has given the girls some back-the-forthcoming performance of the girls have enjoyed very much.

Cadillac

It gives a man confidence!

Every Cadillac owner reading this advertisement will know what we're talking about. For difficult as it is to describe, there is a measure of self-assurance that comes with driving a new Cadillac that is very real indeed. It derives, we believe, from several basic considerations of Cadillac ownership. First of all—to be sure—a man's Cadillac serves as a constant and personal reminder of what he has been able to make of his years. And then too, he can't help but be aware of the respect and admiration his Cadillac engenders. Wherever he travels, it is recognized as the logical reward for achievement...and a reflection of his taste and judgement. And finally, a journey at the wheel of a Cadillac constitutes the perfect respite from the workaday world. Beautiful, gracious, substantial—spacious, silent, obedient—it delivers a man at his destination relaxed in body and refreshed in spirit even after a full day's drive.

Have you considered putting your best foot forward—and into a new 1961 Cadillac? Well, this should surely be the year to make the move. There has never before been a Cadillac to rival this one—for beauty, for performance, for luxury, for craftsmanship, or for sheer and long-lasting soundness of investment. Your authorized dealer has the facts and the figures—and the car—to prove it. You ought to give him a hearing soon!
