

Diane Margaret Oldenburg Weds Jon Michael Ross

Community Congregational Church in Lathrup Village was the scene Saturday evening for the marriage of Diane Margaret Oldenburg to Jon Michael Ross. Dr. John Rose performed the 8 o'clock ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Oldenburg of Detroit and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Ross of Bates Street, Birmingham.

DIANE CHOSE A candlestick like taffeta gown designed with a contrast neckline outlined with re-embroidered alencon lace and one tapering sleeve. A Swedish crown of pearls secured her shoulder length veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of mason daisies and stephanotis.

Mrs. John Stinson served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Bradford Gourdle and Wendy Ross. They wore Dior blue silk shantung sheaths with bell-shaped tulle skirts and matching head pieces. Their flowers consisted of sweetheart roses and shattered carnations shading from light to deep pink.

JOEL M. ROSS stood as best man and ushers were Philip Reilly, Roger Hood, James Kraus and John Oldenburg.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Oldenburg chose a Vivacynth blue silk organza sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Ross selected an American Beauty silk faille sheath with matching accessories. Both mothers pinned cymbidium orchids to their purses.

FOLLOWING the double ring ceremony, a reception was held at the Botsford Inn. The newlyweds are honeymooning in San Francisco. They will reside in East Lansing where Mrs. Ross is attending Michigan State University.

ITS EDUCATIONAL facilities in astronomy which have offered an observatory and planetarium to the public, now include new exhibits on meteorites, early astronomical instruments, telescopes, materials relating to the light year and a model of the moon.

They surround a huge mechanical model of the solar system. The new additions result from gifts from many sources.

AMERICAN Association of University Women has made possible the installation of the beautiful sea blue model of the moon. Cast in plastic, this fluorescent lit model is displayed in a black velvet case.

Believing that we are approaching a decade of lunar exploration, AAUW chose this exhibit for their luncheon. We are approaching a decade of lunar exploration, AAUW chose this exhibit for their luncheon. We are approaching a decade of lunar exploration, AAUW chose this exhibit for their luncheon.

SALES OF USED books which have been conducted by AAUW for the past 35 years have been the source of funds used for educational purposes.

Committees have already been formed under the chairmanship of Mrs. Kenneth Kester for next fall's sale. It is reported that many boxes of books are already stored in garages in the area.

SPRING housecleaning time has arrived, and Mrs. John Lavrakas will be glad to arrange a pick-up of any books to be donated.

Birmingham - Bloomfield Hills Society Notes

By JOYCE KLARR
MI 6-1358

Looks as if we're going to have to go underground for our hot fudge sandals. The molasses messiah, Gaylord Hauser, descended upon us like a eye beagle. He criticized our manners and muscles during his recent visit to our town and left us with usual words about mannaeise facials, and inner serenity.

YOU can have that regime of grain's milk, marinated troll and well done yak, but I'll never give up my peanut butter, banana and marshmallow sandwiches (apologies to Diane Lucas and Gordon Bleu). Let's have done with such as him and get on with all these wine tasting parties which seem to be sweeping our area. We'll have more on this later but in the meanwhile don't forget to do your taste bud homework.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Gossett of Bloomfield Hills leave today for a month at Borado beach in Puerto Rico. Daughter Tibbie, will join them as soon as spring vacation starts at Denison.

ARTISTS' AND MODELS
Mr. and Mrs. Rocco diMarco entertained at cocktails for Mrs. di-Marco's niece, sculptor (or is it sculptress?) Gwen Lux and her husband Thomas Creighton who are visiting from New York. The Harry Winstons and the Robert Swansons entertained them at cocktails and dinner.

The AAUW believe in getting things done early. They had their first wheels in motion session last week to plan their annual fashion show and tea in May. The affair draws a crowd of close to 1000 and this year's May 10 date will see 20 member models for model members if you prefer) parade fashions from Kay Cooley in the auditorium at Cranbrook.

At the luncheon meeting at Mrs. W. R. Morgan's home were Mrs. Preston Weir, Mrs. Howard Berg, Mrs. N. G. Rakas and Mrs. Robert Kohr (who just returned from Hawaii where she was stranded because of the airline strike--no tears were shed over that, however). Others there included Mrs. Arthur Burtleigh, Jr., Mrs. Mort Neff, Mrs. Frank Novak, Mrs. George Howells, Mrs. R. M. McKechee, Mrs. V. DeLee, Mrs. George Bundrett, Mrs. G. Mosher, Jr., Mrs. M. A. Remondino, Mrs. J. B. Dickerson, Mrs. Richard Ringe, Mrs. David Zimmer, Mrs. John Clark, and Mrs. W. M. Milligan.

As Erin Goes
Bloomfield open hunt club members are planning a large St. Patrick's buffet supper with a musical ride in the indoor ring. This year's officers are James Pedder, president, Dan O'Madigan, vice president, John Emery, Jr., secretary, and Stanley Humphrey, treasurer. Board members include Ernest Jones, H. L. Kohlmeier, A. H. Maedel, Walter Laidlaw, and Gail Smith.

Phillip and Peter Monaghan honored their leather and St. Patrick at Bloomfield open hunt. It was Mr. Joseph Monaghan's 50th birthday and sure would be better excuse for the brothers Monaghan to celebrate, that close to St. Pat's day and all!

Lovely Hula Hands
S. Thomas Hart, Charles De Vlieg and Douglas Joestyns are spending the month in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd G. Grinnell and Mr. and Mrs. Milton W. Minton have returned from a two month stay in Hawaii.
