

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

Ethical Practices Urged By Cemetery Association

To the Editor:
In your issue of Thursday, March 2, a writer to your "People's Column," signed an article (A. I. Stupid) that cautioned readers to "beware of smooth talking cemetery lot salesman."
As the article read, the party concerned was certainly within his or her rights to object to the method of selling, so stated.
However, in fairness to other cemeteries in the metropolitan area and throughout the state, we would like to point out that all cemeteries do not operate as such or at least not intentionally.

WE WOULD therefore suggest to your readers that any dissatisfaction resulting in the purchase of cemetery property be referred to your Better Business Bureau or contact the writer in care of the Michigan Cemetery Association, 3907 W. 14 Mile Road, Royal Oak.
The Michigan Cemetery Association encourages its member cemeteries to pursue such ethical practices in the selling and operation that would avoid such misunderstandings, and further ask the public's cooperation in helping us to continue such practices.
We do not want in any way to appear to be critical of the individual concerned in the article, as apparently they acted in good faith, first by calling the cemetery for satisfaction and secondly, not knowing whom to contact for assistance, used the columns of The Eccentric.
SOONER OR LATER the provision of a burial estate has to be made and we would suggest that you might contact the cemetery of your choice or be receptive to the counselor who may call you relative to making such a consideration now.

Reminder you once again that our association will cooperate in every possible way to see that, you the public, receive courteous and proper consideration.
In this way, you may help us to foster and encourage a better understanding between the people of Michigan and the cemeteries.
ANDREW D. MERRILL,
Secretary
The Michigan Cemetery Association

1 Day's Full Schedule at The House

Where can you find a meeting of the Vulture Club, the Great Books Discussion Group, the Model Railroad Club, Founders a Weigh, or the Birmingham Musicals?
Why, at the Community House, of course!
If variety is the spice of life, there is a lot of spice in the lives of Birmingham area residents. These are only a few of over 1400 groups in this area that make use of the Community House this past year.

On a recent Monday in February the house schedule read as follows: Birmingham Garden Club Tea, 11-12; Dinner, Ballroom; Dancing, Little League Baseball, Altrusa Dinner, Teen Dance Committee, Civil Defense, Fund Drive volunteers.

BIRMINGHAM DISTRICT Committee Girl Scouts, Little League Football, Girl Scouts No. 507, Parent Committee, Rotary Luncheon, Duplicate Bridge, Parkan Ballet, Stamp Club, Rush Class, Rotary Committee meetings.
The Home Accessories Work shop and classes in beginners sewing, millinery, children's painting, and first aid.

This was but a single day at the Community House. On most days from 15 to 25 different groups use its facilities.
Many who are new in the community are not aware of the scope of the Community House. Many who are becoming acquainted will marvel at the wide range of facilities and services it offers.
Many old-time residents of the area take it for granted.

Where would these 1400 groups meet if there wasn't a Community House?—Bonnie Miller.

One doesn't need a garage for those little foreign cars—just the box they come in.
