BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—The school officials, the parents and the students of the new Conant School on Quanton Road are preparing for their first annual "Family Fun Fest" beginning Tuesday. Principal Charles Lemke; students, Christine Geyva and Bobby Hitt; and moms, Mrs. David Barton and Mrs. Douglas Dameron, do a little practicing for the games phase of the event. To provide a closer relationship between the school and the family, a series of potluck dinners will be given for two weeks, each for a different class. The PTO and room mothers are also planning games and prizes.

Post Card Setting Is Backdrop for Skiing

CRANBROOK VILLAGE—A post card mailed from Switzerland landed on our desk just hours ahead of its sender, Mrs. Paul Howe, who returned Feb. 27 from a four-week ski holiday in Italy, Austria and the land of the Alps.

Mrs. Howe, on a ski-tour with some 87 venturesome travelers, divided her time about evenly between the three countries and says she skied "all day, every day."

The fabulous runs often covered 30 to 60 miles and it took two trains and a cable car to get to the top of some of them. The trains, incidentally, are called "funicular" — we won't attempt the plural.

A girlfriend from Chicago and three Detroit pals made the trip with Mrs. Howe. The month-long jaunt wound up with an exciting return flight against 150 miles-per-hour headwinds, necessitating an unscheduled stop for the chartered plane in New York to refuel.

For the information of the timid, Mrs. Howe said "there were only four fractured legs and two broken arms, plus some dislocations."

Because the weather cancelled plans for a sleighride, co-hosts Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Casson and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hastings entertained their guests Feb. 25 at the Casson's home.

As if an ice-breaker was needed — though come to think of it that was a pretty sleety night — guests tried their hands at a new parlor game.

A couple at a time took turns in front of an easel and paper: one to sketch random lines, the other to convert the scribble into a finished picture. The project drew interest, if not artists, we hear.

The Hastings, by the way, returned recently from Aspen, Colo. where they skied like mad and enjoyed a two-week holiday.

They were accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. John Rodger of Indian Village and were joined in Aspen by friends from Fort Collins, Colo.

As a seasoner, they made the trip by car, winter notwithstanding.

The Roscoe Johnsons ventured further west to the Los Angeles area to see relatives, returning Feb. 27.

They visited Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graves, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, and tell us they had a relaxing holiday.

Two new January arrivals whom we missed telling you about are Neil Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Marinovich of Chelmsford and Kerry Gould, son of the Robert Tuckers of Fall River.

Baby Nell has a sister Linda, 6, and a brother Mark, almost 4 and his father is sales manager for U. S. Industrial Tool and Supply.

Master Kerry also has a big sister and brother. They are Susan, 8, and David, 3. Tucker is an architect with O'Dell Hewitt and Lockenbach Associates.

March came in like a lamb, in one respect, bringing three birthdays on the same day: Annie Gabler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gabler of Autumn Lane, was eight on Tuesday and celebrated in grown-up style with a dinner "out" and a visit to the movies to see "Swiss Family Robinson."

Tammy Paynter and Danny Balchunas also had birthdays Tuesday. Their daddy who was seven celebrated in family style and as did Danny who turned 10.

Their parents are the Richard Paynters and Stanley Balchunas, respectively.

Caution-minded girls sparked the luncheon and card party Wednesday at Mrs. Gabler's home, all in the course of giving support to Council candidate Robert Landers. At last count, some 20 tables were in the plans.

In charge of over-all organization was Mrs. Paul Pelletier, assisted by Mesdames Michael Orsago, Edward LeFevre, Mervin Kline, Hugh Clark and Robert Swearingen. The list is long but space is short; however, Mrs. Pelletier says there were loads of hard working girls on the project.
