Visit Exposition

A busload of seventh graders from Bloomfield Hills Junior High School visited Detroit's International Institute for the Customs and Ceremonies Exposition. Mrs. Young, social studies teacher for these students, accompanied them on the tour. Stanley Pratt of Bloomfield Hills, a member of the Institute's commission, proposed the trip.

Catalinas Present
Annual Water Ballet

By KAREN PIEL, Special Writer
For the past several weeks Barnum's swim club, the Catalinas, has been working hard for the presentation of their annual water ballet. It began Wednesday and will continue today and Friday. This year the theme is "Night on Broadway" included in the show are 17 acts, both group and solo which have been choreographed by a few eighth and ninth grade girls. Over 50 students from the seventh, eighth and ninth grades will participate in the show, accompanied by songs from different Broadway musicals.

Many girls not in the show itself volunteered their services in other ways. Some helped with tickets and publicity while others helped make the scenery for the show.

BARNUM'S ninth grade level PTA meeting was held on last Wednesday. The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint parents of many grades with subjects which will be offered at Seaholm next year. The meeting was a three-way affair.

First, a general meeting was held in the cafeteria with all the parents. Several representatives from Seaholm gave brief descriptions of their departments. Secondly, these teachers went to assigned rooms to discuss their departments more thoroughly with interested parents. Last, everyone went back to the cafeteria for refreshments.

THE THIRD ANNUAL Varsity Swing, sponsored by Barnum's cheerleaders, was a big success. The dance was named "The Sham Rock" and the decorations followed a St. Patrick's Day theme. Mr. Colbrooke, one of Barnum's teachers, was asked to be the disc jockey.

THE FINAL spelling bee was held at Barnum. Winner was Dick Tobin and runner-up, Pete Henderson. The district spelling bee will be held at Rochester Junior High School on April 12.

On Feb. 22, 1909, President Theodore Roosevelt reviewed the Great White Fleet at Hampton Roads, Va., upon its return from a world cruise.

Plans for Trip, Dinner
Have Seniors Agog

By LEE VOELKER, Special Writer
At Seaholm "a senior's work is never done." There are term papers to write, college applications to fill out and many tests to study for.

With all the school work that must be done, it's a wonder that seniors find time to worry about what clothes to take on the Washington trip, from March 21-April 8. Another project is deciding who should be elected "most likely to succeed" in the Mock Elections.

MARTY HOPWOOD, senior dinner chairman, has found time to plan a busy schedule to begin planning the elaborate dinner on May 25. Assisted by her committee and Mr. Robert Richards, advisor, Marty has employed a catering service and arranged for unusual table decorations.

Plans for the senior dinner program are being handled by Patty Mason and her committee. The program will include a list of all graduation, class advisors, school songs and Mock Election results.

July Holgeron, senior memory record chairman, plans to make some changes in the usual format. A narrator will be used to explain the events on the record.

SEAHOLM orchestra director, Mr. Dale Bartlett, and his 30-piece musical group recently participated in the District Potpourri Orchestra Festival held at Oak Park High School. Five entries from the Birmingham school system were present.

Seaholm's band received a second division rating, thus demonstrating high proficiency in instrumental playing.

THE JOURNALISM department will soon distribute an eight-page issue of "The Balm," Seaholm's supplement to the "Highlander."

The issue will be devoted to new spring fashions and styles. It is the hope of Sue McCabe, supplement editor and Mr. Thomas Hammel, journalism instructor, that the issue will arouse interest in the new clothing styles and encourage students to dress properly for school.

Announce Summer Theater School
The Cranbrook Summer Theatre School has announced its 20th year and will begin a new session June 19.

Under the direction of Carl G. Wornberger, head of the English Department at Cranbrook School, the Theatre School has three divisions, junior, intermediate, and senior.

Spring's 'Busting Out'
All over This School

By SUE HALLAS, Special Writer
In the Spring, a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of taking his best girl to the Spring Concert. It will be held Friday.

WE HAD A little sampling of the program on Friday in the program assembly, and it looks as if it's going to live up to those past standards which are so high.

"Speaking of Traub Scholarships, the winners are: runner-up in art, Jack Rehtmeier; runner-up in music, Vicki Allmon; winner in music, Karen Sundberg.

The Shield's pancake supper and the Forum's "Idea of March" celebration were very successful— which might be a reminder to re-member the people in Tennessee who need food so badly. Please keep it coming.

THE BOOK CLUB met at Bob Gruen's Friday to discuss J. D. Salinger's "The Catcher in the Rye"; members of the choir went to "The Sound of Music" on March 16; Trip Club is busy with meetings and preparations for departure for New York and Washington on April 2.

IN THE ACADEMIC world, college boards were given again on Saturday. And congratulations are in order for Bartley St. John and Ken Anchor who were winners in the United Nations test given last month.
