Players To Present 'Kind Lady'

Edward Chodorov's "Kind Lady," a play of nerve-tingling suspense, will be presented at the Chestnut Street Playhouse Saturday evening at 9 by the Birmingham Village Players.

Years ago this play was adapted from a story by Hugh Walpole and it has been popular theatre fare ever since. Admission to "Kind Lady" will be limited for this single performance to members of Village Players and their out-of-town guests.

Under the direction of William L. Martin, assisted by William A. McCall, this Village Players' show is being produced by Mrs. Edward S. Reid, Jr., with the following cast:

ERIC Holmgren, Mrs. G. Thorn-dyke Dweley, Mrs. John A. Gil-roy, Mrs. Robert T. Miller, Mary Chandinos, Dale Drew, Warren S. Sumner, Elizabeth Boyne, Richard W. Brown, John Schmidt, Mrs. Lawton Tabor, Mrs. Elenor E. Pritchard, and Joseph D. LaRue.

Mrs. B. Allen Atkins, assisted by Mrs. Robert Davis and Mrs. Raymond Wainmouth, is in charge of the preparations for the "After-glow" to be given immediately following the performance.
