200 Women Honored By Cancer Foundation
By CAROL WALTZ Special Writer
Over 200 area women received recognition at a recent tea given by the Michigan Cancer Foundation at the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham. Pine were presented to women who have completed 100 or more hours of sewing cancer dressings.

Eighteen groups, from churches, clubs and the ladies senior workshop, were awarded awards. Four of these groups have been associated with MCF since 1948 or longer. They are St. James Episcopal Church, which organized the first sewing group; Our Shepherd Lutheran church, with over 7000 dressings to its credit; Philadelphia club, over 1700 dressings last year; and a unit at the Woods Circle.

THE SENIOR workshop ladies sew every Friday morning at the Community House, and along with projects for the Veterans' hospital and Children's hospital, have contributed dressings for the use of local cancer patients.

Mrs. Ben D. Mills, general chairman of the Birmingham-Bloomfield branch, welcomed guests at the tea, and introduced Dr. John Barrett, president of the board of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, who addressed the group.

Other guests introduced were Mrs. E. T. Hearne, unit educational chairman of South Oakland; Mrs. C. M. Bunting, dressings chairman, and Mrs. E. H. Nylund, her assistant. Ray Smart, representative from the staff of MCF, was also present.

MEMBERS OF the local branch, assisting Mrs. Mills on her committee, were Mrs. Valerie Simpson. The sloth, one of the slowest of all animals, eats so slowly that before he has finished one meal, it is time for the next.

VERSATILE NATURAL GAS

AS MODERN AS THE ATOMIC AGE . . .

Exciting things are happening today . . . dramatic developments in Gas appliances and the ever-increasing availability of Natural Gas has brought the "space age" right into the home! When you look around at the modern miracles Natural Gas is performing . . . hi-speed cooking units and push-button ovens with automatic controls—refrigerator-freezers that never need defrosting and automatically keep a supply of ice cubes handy—smokeless-odorless incinerators that make the garbage can pass—fully automatic Gas dryers and washer-dryer combinations that make laundering a convenient "any-time, any day, any weather" affair—and water heaters that satisfy "modern living" demands . . . it all sounds futuristic. But no indeed, these household benefits are here today, making the home as modern as a space satellite!
