Masqueraders Gather For Private Eye Party

WEST BEVERLY — Whodunnit? Who slipped the prizes at the Riverside dance club's "Private Eye" masquerade last Saturday night?

Our own villagers won half-judged most original among the women were Mrs. William Gilmore ("Missy" Charlie Chan) of Wallinger Road and Mrs. George Dettlinger (Nancy Kerrigan) of Hillcrest. Virgil Burgess of Bedford won second place in the masquerade judging for Elliot Ness (or was it his "Untouchable" black hair dye?).

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Howe of Northgate, who took the couples' first as "Moon Glow" detectives, were cocktail hosts before this dance. Dropping in from West Beverly were the Larry Mims, G. F. Dashiels, Jack Seybolls, William Gilmore and Robert Tullis.

The Rex R. Brubakers took the long way home from a month's vacation in Tucson, Ariz. They stopped off in Cocoa Beach, Fla., for another two weeks with her father and sister before returning to Riverside.

Mrs. Rollo W. Dewiler, also of Riverside, spent the past six weeks in Denver, Colo., and Palo Alto, Calif.

Other "Westerners" were the Charles Bakers of Devonshire. They took in Seattle, Los Angeles and Long Beach all in one week.

When the William Baileys of Lochee head for Florida, they'll visit her parents in Sarasota before going on to Boca Raton. Bill O'Rourke of Hillcrest and Fred are joining for the Easter holidays, while Barb sees Washington, D. C. with the Sealhorns.

The Fred T. Reids of Riverside had a special treat when they returned their five-week vacation in Tucson, Ariz. to their Addison, Ill. home. They got their first peek at new grandchild, Kimberly Anne, born Feb. 20 to Dr. and Mrs. Patrick Jewell.

The Harold Voglers of Warwick returned Monday from a pre-Easter vacation at the Sea Castle in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The Howard Fickers of Devonshire spent last weekend visiting Gary at GMI in Flint.

The Robert Gilferfs of Natchez got a real lift from a five-day trip to New York for shopping, theater-going and a visit with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Emark of Bedford are back from two months vacation in Phoenix, Tucson, Las Vegas and Los Angeles.

Mrs. John LeRoy of Ingleswood reports the safe arrival of her daughter's family in Stuttgart, Germany. Lt. and Mrs. R. O. Roemer and Richard spent two father and Ingleswood before their March 2 departure.

SOUTH BERKSHIRES — The J. O. Hackmans of Stellamar are definitely moving now that they've bought a winter place in Florida. They returned less than two weeks ago from two months in Sarasota and Pompano Beach where they purchased a co-op apartment overlooking the new inter-coastal waterway. They'll be returning to Michigan annually to summer at their East Tawas home.

Welcome to Lawrence William (fifth child, fourth born) born March 14 to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fraser of Vernon Drive. Maternal VALLEY WOODS — By setting the date on their usual book-club Tuesday, Mrs. William Kreis of Bellview managed to surprise her Europe-bound neighbor, Mrs. John Calhoun, with a bon voyage luncheon. The dozen guests were served "Quiche Lorraine", a specialty of the Eiffel tower where Mrs. Kreis sampled it four years ago.

Mrs. Kreis leaves Friday to spend Easter week in Dallas, Tex. with her mother, Mrs. Charles Merkel of Franklin, while Susan holidays in the capital with the Sealhorn seniors.

Mrs. Edward Sayles of Westlady and Miss Marge Lamborn of Detroit were co-hostesses at a personal shower for Miss Virginia Fritz of Detroit last Friday evening.

After dinner in town, the 11 guests returned to the Sayles home for dessert and coffee. A bride doll and bridal slipper cake flanked by white tapers and wedding bell plus miniature watering cans by placard marked Virginia's April wedding to James McKenzie, also of Detroit.

Mrs. Richard Cass of Marguerite, president of Zeta Alpha alumni chapter, assisted in the Friday night reception at Wayne State for the famous singer.

The Paul W. Thompsons of Kirkshire dined with the James Hinkamps of Birmingham and the W. B. Ligets of Pontiac before attending the AFS benefit of the "Sound of Music" last week.

If spring comes early to the village, it's a good bet that Californians Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bartus may stay here permanently. They arrived last Saturday to visit their son's family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bartus of 14 Mile.

The Robert McKees of Beechwood returned from a Caribbean cruise last week. Sailing from Port Everglades, Fla., they were joined by their daughter's family, former villagers the Martin Ottos, now of Anderson, Ind.

They called at Haiti, Jamaica, Aruba, the Canal Zone and Columbia before returning by way of Nassau.

The Ronald Kordenbrocks of Blivewood, expecting to move within the week, crowded a lot of entertaining into the end of March. First, a bridge luncheon. Then dinner for Dr. and Mrs. Robert Schoenfeld of Madoline and the George Wilkes and Dr. and Mrs. Ronald Jenkins of Birmingham.

Finally, the new owners, Mrs. Eugene Bishop was introduced at a coffee by Mrs. Kordenbrock. Guests were Mrs. Greg Frederick, Mrs. Robert Latimer, Mrs. Ralph Weaver, Mrs. Howard Kay and Mrs. Kent McDonald—all Mrs. Bishop's future neighbors on Birchwood.
