Within the minds and hearts of uncountable free men and women are gathered much of mankind's history-making, progress-achieving experiences. Human beings rightfully are the inheritors of God's benefactions . . . and among them are Freedom and every root and branch of its sheltering canopy. What mankind needs are more people possessed of courage and the resolution to fight wrong wherever it raises its head.

The Birmingham Eccentric

Thursday, May 4, 1961 — BIRMINGHAM, MICHIGAN

SECTION C

Suburban Scene

By Shirley Adams
Society Editor

Colorful Event Coming

"Let's Put 'U' in Color" promises to be a vivid theme for a special fashion show.

The Mother's Club of Marian High School will have Miss Betty Faulkner, editor of Vogue Magazine, and Teal Trina, famous couturier designer, as its guests May 13 at the second annual tea and fashion show.

The show will be staged in eight settings with clothes and furs from Himelhoch's.

Miss Faulkner will give fashion hints and comments and will introduce Trina, who will do the commentary for his own collection.

The event, planned to benefit the school's language laboratory, is under the direction of Mrs. James Graham.

Mrs. Arthur Harrington is in charge of reservations and tickets. Others helping to plan the show are Mrs. Charles Young, Mrs. Gilbert Goode, Mrs. Douglas Heisler, Mrs. M. M. Reardon, Mrs. John Doyle, Mrs. William Corrigan, Mrs. J. Osborne, Mrs. George Hedges, Mrs. J. Case, Mrs. Melroy Speicher and Mrs. A. D. Walker.

Outdoor Mart

The George T. Trumbull home on Dunston Road in Bloomfield Hills, with its beautiful trees set in a grove on the grounds, will be the scene of "Four Season Mart" in June.

Chairman of the gala affair, to be given by the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries, are Mrs. Franklin D. Carr and Mrs. Clarence A. Kramer.

Junior Goodwill held its annual meeting Monday at the Kingsley Inn. Mrs. Robert N. Green, re-elected president, introduced the group's new officers. Mrs. George Trumbull and Mrs. Richard Wagner are local members who will serve as directors.

Fun for Everyone

Although the third annual Detroit Country Day School Fair, scheduled for June 16 and 17, is being sponsored by the Dad's Club, the school mothers are doing their share too.

Mrs. James M. Kinney of Wood Creek Farms, who is co-chairman of the fair, will direct and co-ordinate the various mother-sponsored activities which are all designed to raise additional funds for improving library facilities at the school.

This year the mothers group will concentrate on four projects.

Mrs. Charles Martin of Bloomfield Hills will help head the group running the ever popular baked goods bazaar.

Mrs. Thomas King of Birmingham will be co-chairman of the door prize committee.

"Treasure Island," the super-bargain "white elephant" shop, will be organized by a group headed by Mrs. Edgar Flint of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Morgan Douglas of Birmingham. Mrs. William Dornan of Franklin will lead the mothers who will set up and run the "Ransack Swap Shop," a booth featuring used sports equipment and clothing.

Dancing and Flowers

Flowers and more flowers are guaranteed, no matter what the weather, when the Junior Guild of Providence Hospital members and their husbands gather for the annual dinner-dance at Larce's this evening.

Mrs. Forrest A. Hainline, party chairman, has asked Birmingham's Mrs. Richard G. Pearce to assist with local reservations.

Planning to attend from the area are Mr. and Mrs. John T. Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Bolton, Dr. and Mrs. James F. Pingel, Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Anderman and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cleary.

Others who will dance to the strains of the "Rhythm Kings" are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley I. Buckay, Mr. and Mrs.

(See SUBURBAN SCENE, Page 2)

Guests Attend An Evening Of Opera

ABOVE—Attending the evening of opera entertainment by Karl Haas and Marjorie Gordon at the Reynolds Aluminum building last Thursday evening were (from left) Raymond T. Perring, chairman of the board of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, of Haverhille Road, Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. John Blomquist of Hamilton Road, Birmingham, and Mrs. George T. Trumbull, co-chairman of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills Committee for the Metropolitan Opera, of Dunston Road.

BELOW — Among other guests seen chatting at the event were (from left) Mr. and Mrs. Burt R. Shurly Jr., of Lone Pine Court, Bloomfield Hills; and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Adams of Harsdale Road, Bloomfield Hills. A champagne supper followed the performance by Mr. Haas and Miss Gordon.

ECCENTRIC PHOTO

Enjoying a touch of the Orient are (from left), Mrs. Arthur Koster and Mrs. Donald W. Smith, both of Beverly Hills, and Mrs. George Freeman of Berkley. The three women are stringing Japanese lanterns for a dance Saturday, sponsored by the Engineering Society of Detroit Junior Wives. Mrs. Freeman was chairman of the arrangements.

World Challenges Today Topic of Altrusa Talks

The Altrusa Club of Birmingham will present a series of three benefit lectures this fall on the theme of "Challenges to a Changing World."

Planned to aid the Kenny Foundation Equipment Fund, the lectures will be conducted by members of the faculty of Michigan State University through the office of continuing education.

Each of the three lectures is scheduled at 8:15 p.m. at the Birmingham Community House Auditorium. Tickets will be available at the Village Bookshelf, Birmingham.

"DIVIDED GERMANY, Twice Our Enemy" is the topic of the Oct. 10 lecture by Dr. Melvin Cherno, assistant professor of history at MSUO. A specialist in 19th and 20th century European history—particularly German history, he has also taught courses in German Civilization and World Affairs.

Dr. Cherno received his bachelor and doctoral degrees at Stanford University; his master's was earned from the University of Chicago.

"COMMUNIST CHINA, the Giant Across the Pacific" is the title of the Oct. 24 lecture.

The speaker for this talk will be announced later this month.

"LATIN AMERICA, Friend or Foe?" will be the topic of Dr. Samuel Shapiro on Nov. 14. An assistant professor of history at MSUO, Dr. Shapiro is a graduate of the City College of New York. He earned his master and doctoral degrees from Columbia University.

After teaching at Brandeis University, he was awarded a Fulbright Professor of American history at the University of Tucuman and Buenos Aires, Argentina. He has traveled extensively in Latin America.

PROCEEDS FROM THE lecture series will help build the Kenny Foundation Equipment Fund in order to afford assistance in the treatment of polio, arthritis, multiple sclerosis, cerebral palsy, Parkinsonism strokes, nerve and muscle injuries from accidents, and prothesis for amputees.

MRS. LESLIE T. SHANKS, chairman of Altrusa's ways and means committee, is in charge of the event.

She is being assisted by Mrs. Paul D. Bartlett, Miss Elaine Nagle, Mrs. Cyril B. Lewis and Dr. Ethel Calhoun.

Crop of Fun On Schedule For Festival

Even those allergic to strawberries will not want to avoid the Strawberry Festival planned by the Mothers' Club of Bloomfield Country Day School—for it promises to be one of the fun-filled events on the Spring social calendar.

Besides, the strawberries are strictly a decorative motif (except for those to be purchased at the Farm and Garden booth.)

MAY 13, FROM 10 o'clock in the morning to 4 o'clock at night, the school campus on Square Lake road will be turned into an open-air market. Articles on sale will vary from collector-items from across the ocean to home-baked goodies from local ovens!

General chairman is Mrs. John D. Richardson, assisted by vice-chairmen, Mrs. John Booth and Mrs. J. P. Judd.

Announcements, gaily decorated with lucious looking berries, are being mailed out by Mrs. William Pioch, chairman, and Mrs. Robert F. Watt Jr. and Mrs. Frederic Konzelman.

IN CHARGE of seeing that strawberry canopies adorn each booth is Mrs. Read Jenkins.

The travelers booth, featuring articles from over the world, will be manned by Mesdames Booth, A.J. Sterling, John B. Poole, Donald Kahl, Newell McCuen, Henry S. Booth and Ralph L. Polk, Jr.

Thieves market is the name given the booth where bargains begged from local friends will be on sale for the astute buyer. Chairman of this booth is Mrs. Max Richter, assisted by Mesdames Arthur J. Brandt, Jr., George Kountoupes, Clinton Movold and Earle MacPherson.

THE ALUMNAE booth, featuring aprons, is in charge of Mrs. Robert C. VanderKloot.

An early start, 5:30 a.m., awaits those serving in the Farm and Garden booth — and the produce collected so early in the morning is guaranteed fresh-from-the-farm! Early risers are Mrs. John Q. Nagel, chairman, Mrs. Edward T. Bennett, Mrs. L. F. Largess and Mrs. John Cowen.

In the way of cooked foods — there is to be luncheon on the grounds, from noon to 2 p.m., in charge of Mrs. N. B. Carroll; the Baked Goods and Candy Counter, headed by Mrs. Charles L. Bricker; and the Ice Cream booth, with Mrs. Joseph Goodman and Russel Geisler in charge.

MANY A side-show game is planned for the younger group. A fashion show with students at the school as models is also on the agenda.

Other students at the school will assist their mothers at the booths.

New Officers To be Installed

Kappa Delta Oakland County alumnae will meet at the home of Mrs. Edwin F. Lau, 2745 Ayreshire drive, Bloomfield Hills on May 9 at 8 p.m.

Officers for the coming year will be installed. Heading the group as president will be Mrs. Donald Weldon. Mrs. Jerald Stone will serve as vice-president, Mrs. Kenneth Froelich as secretary, Mrs. Neil Leavens as treasurer, Mrs. Richard Meurer as editor and Mrs. John E. Gates Jr. as delegate.

MRS. JOHN W. Clark, retiring president will represent Kappa Delta at the 34th National Convention in Roanoke, Va. in June. Co-hostesses, May 9, will be Mrs. William S. Dickey, Mrs. H. N. Van Aken and Mrs. E. G. Cowan.

Eileen Farell posters near the front door reminded guests like Mrs. LeRoy E. Kiefer (right) of the reason for the tea held by Mrs. Edward H. Lerchen last week. Here Mrs. Lerchen pins a name tag on her guest, Mrs. William H. Beatty, 1362 Latham, Birmingham. Mrs. Beatty was the winner of the quiz on Eileen Farrell.

Mrs. Edward Lerchen Entertains at Tea

To open the Eileen Farrell concert box-office officially, Mrs. Edward H. Lerchen entertained members of her ticket committee Wednesday. A novel quiz followed afternoon tea at the Lerchen home on Lowell Court, Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. Lerchen and committee assistant Dean Coffin devised the informal, multiple-choice quiz as the best way to review for guests the accomplishments of Eileen Farrell.

THE DRAMATIC soprano's concert June 4 at the Birmingham Theatre leads off the fourth annual Birmingham Arts Festival's events. The concert is sponsored jointly by the Bloomfield Art Association and Cranbrook Music Guild.

Since the guests would soon be making dozens of phone calls to friends about reserving Farrell concert tickets, the "student" with the highest quiz score won an appropriate prize: a rubber cushion for a telephone receiver.

"EILEEN FARRELL made her debut with the Metropolitan Opera Company only last December, and is now emerging as a national figure," said Mrs. Lerchen. "So we thought the quiz would be a good way to see how much the 33 ticket committee members know about this woman with the phenomenal voice."

James P. Dickerson of Westwood, Birmingham, was the quizmaster. He preceded the quiz with a talk about Miss Farrell's career, using a big sketch pad to make his points in black and white.

CONCERT COMMITTEE Chairman Max H. Fruhauf told the ticket distributors that proceeds will benefit the scholarship and gift fund of the Music Guild and the building fund of the Bloomfield Art Association.

The Guild's share from the benefit performance will be used to underwrite their summer concert series which presents musicians of national importance at Cranbrook's Greek Theatre, and to initiate the annual award of a scholarship to an outstanding student in one of Michigan's schools of music.

THE BLOOMFIELD Art Association plans to utilize their share of funds from the Farrell concert to remodel the former Birmingham sewage disposal plant which they are transforming into an art center.

Along with information about the community-wide cultural projects which the concert would benefit, guests Wednesday heard about arrangements Mrs. Walter F. Skinner and her co-chairman Mrs. Mioru Yamasaki are making for Miss Farrell's visit to Birmingham.

Guests also met Mrs. LeRoy E. Kiefer, Cranbrook Music Guild hospitality chairman. Mrs. Kiefer

(See LERCHEN, Page 2)

Women Working On 'Flea Market,' Treasure Auction

The Village Woman's Club has fingers crossed for a sunny day on Saturday when the "Treasure Auction" and "Flea Market" will be held at the L.E. Smart Sale Farm, Pierkent Road, Rochester. The phone committee, working with Drs. Donald Hirschman and Mrs. Eugene Hess have been working over time and report good response.

Those whose phones have been busy are Mesdames William A. O. Brown, Rowe Balmer, Ralph Hunt, Arnold Pape, Charles Shaco, Godfrey Strelinger and Thomas Watson.

Others are Mesdames Lloyd Diehl, William Foster, John Hubert, William Graham, James Hastings, Harold Kennedy, Edward F. Wallich, Steels Sellers, John Quick and Harry Waiting.

Posters advertising the auction were designed by Mrs. James W. Dodds and Mrs. R. G. Campbell is responsible for the attractive windows which some of the local stores have featured. Mrs. Frank P. Mecartney and Mrs. Harry L. Winston, Jr. have contacted radio and TV stations and the food committee, under Mrs. Paul John's direction, have planned lunches.

WORKING WITH Mrs. John are Mesdames Michael B. Redfield, Joseph W. Irwin, Robert C. Neuman, Laurence Finn, Cranston Jones, Jr., William W. Henderson, Jr., Paul R. Wheaton, Harry L. Winston, Jerwin Van Tuyl and Robert G. Campbell.

Mrs. Jerrold A. Frost, Jr., and Mrs. Charles D. Gilbert will be in charge of selling geraniums. Tickets are available at the Markley Yarn Shop or from Mrs. Dale O. Miller, Jr.

Another attraction at the affair will be the antiques for which sealed bids will be accepted until 1 p.m. or until they are all gone.

Open Hunt Club Plans Derby Day

It will be Derby Day at Bloomfield Open Hunt Saturday. Guests will be spotted around many TV sets throughout the club to view the races. A cook-out steak dinner and dancing will follow.

Wall-size murals in cartoon style, depicting all aspects of the Kentucky Derby will be done by Rocco DiMarco. Chairman of the event is Mr. and Mrs. Gail Smith.

'Happy Party' Aptly Named

In Japanese "Tanoshii Tsudoi" means "happy party," and that is the aptly-named theme of the dance to be given Saturday evening by the Engineering Society of Detroit Junior Wives in the ballroom of the Rackham Building.

Among local women participating are Mrs. Arthur T. Koster of Beverly Hills, who served on the publicity committee. Mrs. George Freeman is chairman of the benefit whose proceeds will augment the camp fund for the handicapped children of the Pilgrims Project of the organization.

Decorations at the gala affair will be flowers, a fountain, fish kites and other exotic Japanese accents and the highlight of the evening will be the selection of Mr. and Mrs. "Phil Anthropic" who will draw names for the prizes.

LUKY WINNERS will receive a "Portrait in Pastels" by Elliot Skinner of the Resaler Galleries, dinner for two and lunch for four, the latter at Kingsley Inn.

Other women who are working to make arrangements for the dance are co-chairman Mrs. Gerald Dorcey; Mrs. Glenn Thebert, tickets; Mrs. Robert Crepin and Mrs. Hal McDavid, decorations; and Mrs. Philip Curtis, favors.

Also contributing to the affair are Mrs. Anthony Maraccio in charge of refreshments, Mrs. Gerald Dorcey, door prizes; Mrs. William Hamel, publicity; Mrs. Paul Groth and Mrs. Alan Thebert, decorations.

Shirley Patterson Weds Leslie John Langlois

Shirley Louise Patterson and Leslie John Langlois repeated their vows of marriage Saturday at an 11 a.m. double-ring ceremony at St. John Berchaman's Church, Detroit. The Rev. Fr. Thomas Keenan officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Patterson of Almira, Southfield. The groom is the son of Mrs. Catherine L. Langlois of Lakeview, Detroit.

A SCALLOPED NECKLINE dotted with delicate seed pearls accented the bride's gown of white silk embroidered organza. A flowered headpiece caught her veil of silk illusion. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis set amid cascading ivy.

Barbara Ann Langlois, sister of the groom, chose a street-length gown of white organza over lavender taffeta. Tiny embroidered violets accented the ensemble. A lavender taffeta and seed pearl band held her short veil. The maid of honor carried lavender cymbidium orchids and ivy.

SANDRA HOWARD, Joyce Cassin and Florence Paull, all of Detroit, were bridesmaids and wore ensembles that matched the maid of honor's.

James R. Langlois was his brother's best man. Robert Carlson of Huntington Woods and Ellsworth Carroll and Eugene Bisson of Detroit seated the guests.

MRS. LESLIE LANGLOIS

MRS. PATTERSON chose a sheath of pink silk organza with beige accessories for her daughter's wedding. She wore a lavender orchid.

Mrs. Langlois selected a blue flowered hat to accent her dress of blue organza over blue taffeta. She wore a pink orchid.

FOLLOWING A dinner reception at Murray Hall, Warren, the newlyweds left for a two-week motor journey to Florida. The new Mrs. Langlois wore a yellow and white checked linen dress with matching jacket and white hat as her going away outfit.

The bride is employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and her husband is the city editor of The Birmingham Eccentric.