B'ham Man's Relative Kept Log on Albatross

"Skipper reports we will undoubtedly hit squalls and small storms in the afternoon and the trip will, in his estimation, last eight days or so."

This statement was taken from the log kept by one of the students aboard the S. S. Albatross, a training sail boat which sank during a Gulf of Mexico storm last week.

He is Charles Gieg, 17, great-nephew of J. D. Akers, 7285 Old Mill Road, Birmingham. He was one of the survivors.

Mrs. Akers said Gieg was on the ship for eight months.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Gieg, former residents of Winthrop St., Birmingham, and now residents of Wilton, Conn.
