Garden Club Member Awarded Blue Ribbons

Members of the Osage Garden Club were jubilant when they learned eight ribbons were awarded to members of their club for their miniature gardens entered and judged at the National Flower Show in Atlantic City the end of April. Fifteen gardens were entered by the club in the show.

Three of the ribbons were blue ribbons and all three were awarded to Mrs. Frederick Stefansky of Dowling Road at the garden club meeting held in Mrs. Stefansky's home last Monday afternoon.

Mrs. E. A. Linder, president, presented the other five ribbons to Mrs. William Jaenichen of North Adams Road, Mrs. Clifford Roland of Ramsbury Drive and Mrs. Elmer Kestly of Rouge Circle Drive, Mrs. Roland and Mrs. Kestly each received two ribbons.

OSAGE GARDEN CLUB became interested in this new and absorbing hobby last fall. The miniature gardens or button gardens as they are sometimes called, originated in California and are being introduced to guests through horticulture therapy in hospital and convalescent homes.

Originating in California, the idea was taken from the Japanese art of militarization. The base of the garden is a button. From there a miniature garden is created with the use of modeling clay, miniature figures, straw flowers, cactus plants, succulent plants, driftwood, pebbles and such.

Recommended tools for this intricate and time-consuming hobby are small forceps, toothpicks and quick drying cement.

Mrs. Richard B. Smith of North Adams Road, better known behind the scenes in theatrical groups and New York television as Annelise Smith, is bubbling over with enthusiasm as she talks of her "first" production of "Guys and Dolls" to be staged in the Greek Theatre at Cranbrook by the St. Dunstan's.

Work on the production began the early part of April under director Robert Garrison. Assistant director is Mrs. Otis Thompson and musical director, Mrs. Charles Himelbock.

Among the leads in the cast are Bee White, George McLellan, Richard and Marylou O'Keilly, Winnie Coffin and Don Hutton. Tickets will go on sale later this month.

The Manor Road home of Mrs. Robert W. Hague was the setting for the Sigma Kappa smorgasbord tea last Saturday afternoon. More than 200 persons attended the South Oakland Alumnae chapter benefit and sampled the great variety of special dishes from the members own kitchens.

A hobby show, exhibiting members' hobbies, also aroused much interest. Coffee and punch in the Hagues' loft highlighted the afternoon. Proceeds from the chapters first money-making project will benefit the aged in convalescent homes.

Mrs. Hague was chairman of the benefit. Her committee members included Mrs. Don Barlow, Mrs. Rosa Wagner, Mrs. John Thomson, Mrs. Robert Farrow of Birmingham, Mrs. James Gillman of Royal Oak and Mrs. Peter Davis of Pleasant Ridge.

As dawn was breaking last Saturday morning, 70 band students of the Baker Junior High boarded two chartered buses for their one day trip to Grand Rapids and the annual State Band Contest.

The band was placed in Class B in the elimination contest that took place in the state of Michigan. Baker Junior High was awarded a "two" rating. Chaperoning the eventual day was band leader Lawrence Dickerson and teachers from the school.

The William Deweys of Anselow Lane find it hard to get back in the groove after two weeks in Florida. They chose the Sea Shore at Fort Lauderdale as their playground headquarters. Cypress Gardens and Marineland were on their tourist list as well as Sanibel Island where they spent three days "shelling" in picturesque surroundings.

Mrs. William Dewey joined her daughter, Barbara, at Western University last weekend for Mothers Day weekend. Barbara is a freshman at the university.

The Walter Sebels of Chicago, former residents of Pine Hill subdivision, arrived in Birmingham for a short stay last weekend. They were houseguests of relatives, the Paul Kemps of Birmingham, and on Saturday evening were evening guests of the James Thompsons of Walnut Hill drive. Other guests were the Richard B. Smiths of North Adams Road.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. MacArthur of Flint were honored on their 25th wedding anniversary at a dinner party held at the Rutenhaus Hill

Drive home of their daughter and son-in-law, the Marc Hagermans, on Saturday evening.

Guests extending their best wishes were Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Skaff and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Freeman of Birmingham, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick VanDuyne, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Greenley of Flint.

Hold 4 Classes
In Civil Defense
In Area Homes

A series of classes on Civil Defense, sponsored by the Welfare Service of Oakland County, are being held in the North Adams area during the month of May. Classes are also being formed at later dates for those interested.

The course consists of four classes, directed by instructor Virginia Warren.

Registration and inquiries were handled during the first class meeting. At the second class, lodging and housing were discussed; mass feeding will be the topic of the third session and clothing will be discussed at the fourth meeting. Certificates will be given to class members.

THE FIRST CLASS in the current series was held at the Eastover Drive home of Mrs. W. S. Bubier, Jr. and the second class at the home of the area chairman, Mrs. Robert Frye of Trowbridge Road on Wednesday.

The last two are slated for Wednesday at the Robert Ruzg home on Rayburn Drive and on May 24 at the Hillwood Drive home of the past area chairman, Mrs. Joseph Lacy.

Those interested in taking the course in the North Adams area may contact area chairman Mrs. Robert Frye of Trowbridge Road.

The Troy Blue Star Mothers chapter 37 are sponsoring a benefit luncheon and card party on Monday at 12:30 p.m. It will be held at the Hillwood Drive home of the Women's Guild at Sam's Store at the Clawson Shopping Center.

Luncheon will be served at 1 followed by games with a prize for each table. Over 50 door prizes will be given away. Proceeds will be used to help Troy boys in the Armed Forces and to send them Christmas boxes.

Mary Tietz and Helen Armstrong are in charge of reservations.

Back from Bahamas

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Atherton II and their children, Zoe Ann, George and John, returned in mid-April from a cruise to the Bahama Islands, sailing aboard the SS Bahama Star. The family resides at 886 N. Pemberton, Bloomfield Hills.

She's Engaged

TREASURE ISLANDS

Natural Gas, the miracle fuel, comes to us from underground storehouses discovered on hazardous mountainsides, in deep forests and searing deserts—now geologists are searching even the floor the Sea! This underwater exploration takes place from huge, man-made, metal islands called drilling platforms. The islands are built as far as 72 miles offshore in the tidelands and coastal waters, and are supported by long legs reaching to the ocean bottom. These "treasure islands" support tons of equipment, living quarters for the crew, and a helicopter landing platform. When a new reservoir of Natural Gas is discovered, the well is capped and connected with the miles of Natural Gas pipeline spread over the nation. This provides millions of people in crowded cities, spacious suburbs, and small towns with a new source of gas, the wonder-fuel, for use in home and industry.
