KEEP IN MIND

that:—
While there may be no spring, winter is definitely going to end.
Craigrass pre-emergence controls may be applied with effectiveness until the seeds begin to germinate—in fact, even a little longer.
NO CRAIGRASS PRE-EMERGENCE MATERIALS may be returned for credit AFTER MAY 13TH.

Tulips, daffodils and other spring flowering bulbs may not be at their best this spring due to very poor weather conditions—NOT because they were faulty stock.

Someone rented one of our LAWN ROLLERS. Someone still has it. Will you please let us know WHO?

W. Beverly Association Names New Officers

WEST BEVERLY — Last Saturday's meeting of the West Beverly Association was a ball—literally!

The election of officers was sandwiched between dinner (buffet style) and dancing at Devon Gables—an annual tradition with this long-established group.

Elected were O. C. Lillie of Warwick, president; Lindley Gay of Devonshire, vice-president; William Rigley of Bedford, secretary; William Bailey of Locherbie, treasurer.

Dr. Art DeBeiser of Bedford, J. K. Stuart of Buckingham, Paul Garsney of Warwick, William O'Rourke of Hillcrest and Charles Baker of Devonshire were named to the board.

Before going on to the Starlight Room, retiring president George DeBattler and wife served the cocktails to 34 former officers and guests of honor, village president Marvin and Mrs. Cline. Trees being the special pride of West Beverly, thanks to constant checking by O. C. Lillie, the Hillcrest business designed a driftwood centerpiece, leafy with names of 57 past officers.

Other cocktail hosts were the William H. Kolbe of Southshire and the F. K. Niemans of Snowflake Circle and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lusk of Dorchester. Though the latter are Bloomfielders, they enjoy West Beverly events with their guests: the George Chesings of Beverly road, the K. N. Rydens of Riverside and the S. P. Englishes of Warwick. There were 13 at the Kolbes.

Late returnees from Florida say they'll linger longer next year. The Lee B. Durhams of Northchase chose late spring for a month in Delray Beach and Asheville, N. C., yet they still returned to winter weather.

So did the Fred T. Reids of Riverside, home now from Lauderdale-by-the-Sea.

And the R. M. Hoods of Riverside wonder why they closed their winter home at Fort Lauderdale.

It took a month for the new owners to move to 1825 Devonshire. The Stanley Andersons, who built a new home in Bloomfield, moved early in April, waving their goodbyes at a farewell luncheon given by neighbors at the home of Mrs. Charles W. Timber. But the John M. Prizers, who moved from Graefield in Birmingham this week, are well acquainted already.

He is with the budget analysis group at Ford weekly, and golf, croquet, weekends. Mrs. Prizer is the former Margaret Rinehart who used to teach first grade at West Beverly. Now, with John Jr. only 18 months, and another arrival expected in July, she is doing her teaching at home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cameron of Devonshire took another week-end off to head for their summer home on Au Sable, Summer, did we say? They spent Easter there, too! Small wonder when there's such gourmet dining in the wilds and most weather they sampled recently. "It has a roast duck flavor," they decided.

SOUTH BERKSHIRES — Richard Saputo was born March 12 to the Samuel F. Saputos of Embassy. He's the third son, seventh child.

The best way to leave your work at the office is to keep your office at a distance. So, the James Bollings moved last month to 3825 Stillman from Dearborn where he still commutes, as a Ford process engineer. They have four children: Jim, 13; Gordon, 11; Janet, 9; Scott, 5.

VALLEY WOODS — Many a housewife will envy Mrs. Bruce Cornell's vacation. She's having a week to herself in New York City. She left Bellville trail Tuesday and flies home next Sunday.

Mrs. H. H. Fredrickson had 14 guests at her sewing club's luncheon on Bellvine Trail two Wednesdays ago.

EAST BEVERLY — After closing her winter home in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where she's been since November, Mrs. E. J. Hill of Kirkshire was off again—this time to Baltimore, Md. Her daughter, Mrs. Doris Ansteth of Westlady, and son, Dr. and Mrs. Edward J. Hill of Bloomfield Hills, flew with her to celebrate the 50th jubilee of a sister in the Notre Dame convent there.

The Omar Klingers of Beechwood said it was 89 degrees and hotter when they left their apartment on Treasure Island. Five to be back in the village on May day.

Even the East had Florida-like weather, said the J. Keith Stuarts of Buckingham. They spent 10 days visiting Washington, D. C., Jamestown, Williamsburg and finally, Philadelphia where they saw former villagers, the John Tombs.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Leppen of Beechwood invited 13 for cocktails before a recent dance at the Birmingham Country Club.

Quarter Members To Convene May 17 At Ford Museum

Birmingham members of the Quarter will gather May 17 at Henry Ford Museum in Greenfield Village, Dearborn, to welcome Mrs. William George Gardens of Fort Washington, Pa., founder of the Quarter, and Mrs. Charles N. Rink of Bryryn, Pa., the newly elected national president.

A specially conducted tour through the museum will begin at 10 a.m. with a reception at noon in Lovett Hall.

THE PONCHARTRAIN chapter, whose membership covers Greater Detroit, will be hostess chapter for the day. Mrs. C. Kalmback of Birmingham is in charge of decorations.

Reservations are being taken by chapter presidents and Mrs. Howard Lavenberg, Prestwick Road, Grosse Pointe Woods.

Vocal, Instrumental Concert Set May 17 At Valley Woods

VALLEY WOODS—May 17 at 7:30 p.m. is the time set for the annual spring concert at Valley Woods School. Students in grades four through six will perform on the program of instrumental selections directed by Gene Hanson and glee club numbers led by Mrs. Margaret Machan.

The music festival is the last PTA-sponsored program this month, which opened with the May 5 kindergarten round-up.

Queen of Martyrs Altar Society Plans Annual Plant Sale

The altar society of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church will sponsor its annual plant sale May 18, 19 and 20 on the parish grounds.

Mrs. James McMullen of St. Patrick's Guild is chairman of the sale with Mrs. John O'Connor of St. Raphael's Guild assisting her as co-chairman.

The ladies have been ordering stock since January and expect to have a large assortment of annuals. A wide variety of perennials are being donated.

Sale hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

New Beverly School PTA Officers Named; Music Festival Set

WEST BEVERLY—Newly elected PTA officers were announced along with May 15 program plans for Beverly School.

This year, the annual spring music festival winds-up PTA activities. Both hand and chorus will be heard that night at 8 p.m. under the direction of Burt Bronson and Mrs. Alma Cook.

Next fall, sessions will be opened by president Donald Ball. Service with him will be mother vice-president, Mrs. Robert Fedosky; father vice-president, James Wood; teacher vice-presidents, Mrs. Helen Lockhart and Mrs. Wilma Barrett.

Other '62 officers are: treasurer, Wayne Irvine; recording secretary, Mrs. Donald Uilenbruck; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Donald Smith.

Button Magic

NORTH ADAMS—Mrs. Frederick Stefansky of Dowling Road, a member of the Osage Garden Club, was justly proud last week when she earned three blue ribbons for miniature gardens entered in the National Flower Show at Atlantic City. Her unique hobby, sometimes called a button garden, originated in California. The tiny floral displays are being introduced to hospital and convalescent patients through horticultural therapy. The base of the garden is a button. Modeling clay, miniature figures, straw flowers, cactus plant, driftwood and pebbles are used for the decor.

Annual Officer Tea Planned Thursday By Hostess Club

WEST BEVERLY — Retiring president Mrs. George Thibault will be hostess at her Beverly Road home next Tuesday at 1 p.m. for the West Beverly Hostess Club's annual officer tea.

Elected and installed at last month's meeting, the new board will be headed by Mrs. J. K. Stuart of Buckingham. First vice-president is Mrs. Kenneth R. Hannah of Hillcrest. Second vice-president is Mrs. V. T. Burgess of Bedford.

Other electees are secretary, Mrs. L. E. Bernardini of Birwood; treasurer, Mrs. Francis McCracken of Locherbie.

South Berkshire Women to Discuss Nominees for Office

SOUTH BERKSHIRES — Meeting at the home of Mrs. Richard Friebe on Buttonwood Court next Wednesday, South Berkshire's board women will discuss nominees for the women's association election.

Program plans for the annual meeting will also be discussed at the 10 a.m. coffee session. Mrs. Donald Rader is chairman of the nominating committee which is readying the slate for presentation at 3 p.m. June 6 at the Community House.

Serving with her are Mrs. Dallas Sprinkle, Mrs. Joseph Lokar, Mrs. Al Light and Mrs. Harold Vot.

Batter Up!

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Elizabeth and James Connolly, children of Dr. and Mrs. Paul L. Connolly of E. Miller Way, are at a suggestive age. When Vaughan School PTO started plans for a pancake supper and bake sale, they decided to try a hand from the chef's point of view. The event will be held tonight at Vaughan School from 5:30 to 7:30 with profits slated for educational equipment. Elizabeth and James won't be cooks. They'll be part of the munchin' bunch.
